By Jennifer McFee

Rockwood Reeve Jim Campbell has decided that he won't be running in the upcoming municipal election but he doesn't rule out the idea of running again in the future.

Campbell has served the community for the past 16 years, with eight years as a councillor followed by another eight years as reeve.

"I have been very fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with such dedicated, passionate, members of council for my four terms," he said. "And I could not have asked for better employees."

Although he has enjoyed his time in both roles, he feels ready to hand over the reins after the Oct. 22 election.

"I have found it very rewarding. It is so interesting to meet new people, work with different levels of government and different teams to get things accomplished. I have established a good rapport with them and with other municipalities that I hate to give that up, but maybe it's time for someone else to take a shot at it," Campbell said.

"We have so much exciting stuff happening right now in Rockwood, with the capital region, with forming a development corporation and looking into a feasibility study for high-speed fibre optics to the whole municipality. There are exciting things down the road, and I wish I was there to help secure that, but I can't divide myself up as much as I used to."

Campbell encourages others to get involved and to put their name on the ballot for the RM of Rockwood.

"I would like to host a couple informational evenings with the reeve and council, for anybody who is considering running or anybody who would like to know more about what's involved," Campbell said.

"I would like to get as many people's names on the ballots as possible. I hope to let them know a little bit about the rewards of the role, as well as the responsibilities and commitments. I encourage people to find out what it's all about and to put their name on there."

As for Campbell, he's looking forward to new opportunities on the horizon.

"I'm probably going to take some time to reintroduce myself to family and friends," he said with a laugh.

"With some of the relationships that I've established over the years, I've had a couple of other offers that I might look into. And who knows

— I might want to try running again someday and see if the ratepayers will take me back."

Stonewall RCMP had a busy start to the long weekend with back-to-back calls over the lunch hour on Friday.

On Feb. 16 at 11:31 a.m., officers were dispatched to the RM of Woodlands office where a 37-year-old man had poured gasoline all over himself and was threatening suicide.

By the time the members arrived, the man had already left the RM office, but they located him at his home in Woodlands. At that time, the man said that he had accidentally poured gasoline on himself and was not contemplating suicide.

RCMP officers arrested the man, who was intoxicated. They brought him back to the Stonewall detachment office, arriving at about 12:40 p.m. Charges are pending for failing to comply with an undertaking since he had previously been arrested for disturbing the peace. The man is currently in custody.

Meanwhile, Stonewall RCMP was also dispatched to Ecole RW Bobby Bend School at 12:19 p.m. because a man had entered the school asking for help. Since the man was unknown to school staff, they activated the "hold and secure" protocol. Stonewall RCMP arrived at the school at 12:54 p.m. Cpl. Chris Fearn said the man was not intoxicated, although he had been drinking the night before and he was upset about a domestic situation.

"He was non-violent. He was just talking to the principal," Fearn said. "He told me he thought it was the hospital. He wanted to talk to somebody."

RCMP members picked up the man and transported him home to Peguis. Ecole RW Bobby Bend principal Greg Ross sent a letter to parents to inform them about the situation.

"I spent approximately one hour in my office with the individual waiting for help to arrive," he wrote," and at no time did I feel that our school body or myself were in danger."

He said that they had coincidentally just practised their lockdown procedures the previous day and emphasized the importance of practising precautionary measures.

"Again, please be aware that the safety of both students and staff is paramount," he wrote, "and in no way did I feel that individuals within our school population were at risk."

Feasibility study planned for fibre optics

Rockwood council news

By Jennifer McFee

Fibre optics could be an option in the future for Rockwood residents.

"The municipalities in the capital region have formed a development corporation that is going to do a feasibility study for every one of our municipalities about the feasibility of putting fibre optics to your home," explained Rockwood Reeve Jim Campbell.

"Rockwood will go ahead with the feasibility study, and we are the first group of municipalities doing this together. The business leaders that are part of our development corporation are so excited about what this could mean for the province and the whole capital region."

If the fibre optic network proceeds, residents and business owners would be able to opt in or opt out of the service, which would provide much better Internet capabilities.

"We will not have shovel in the ground by election time, but we are hoping to have the feasibility study started in the next couple months," Campbell said.

"The sweet thing is that this will be owned by the development corporation, which the municipality has interests in. So you're not going to be hamstringed by a corporation that's out

Over the past 11 years, the RM of Rockwood has contributed $44,500 towards the fund. During the same period, the Interlake Community Foundation has granted out nearly $61,500 from the fund for projects in Rockwood.

At the end of 2016, the balance was $157,215. Each year, the group provides about $35,000 in grants and scholarships, and $6,000 goes back into Rockwood directly. Annual donations of about $30,000 come in from individuals as well other foundations and municipalities.

The Interlake Community Foundation is seeking financial or in-kind support from the RM of Rockwood, as well as further promotion and involvement with the organization.

Around the middle of last week, I got the feeling it was time to visit the ice anglers on the Red River off the Selkirk Park area. Perched on the high river bank in Old Red overlooking the ice pack, I could see a fisher sitting in his truck with the door opened so he could watch his two rigs close by. I eased my way down the slope and idled along slowly until I came abreast of him. He slid out of his truck as I left mine and I asked him if he had caught anything.

"Just a sauger that I threw back," said this averaged-sized fellow who had a black beard with a wisp of grey.

"Brian Parisien from Sandilands," he added as he came forward and shook my hand. His sideways glance at the sign on my truck door illustrating my fishing column prompted him to offer, "I have a story from when I was a kid."

He launched into it describing how years ago his older brother, Clarence, used to take him fishing in Whitemouth River. It seems Clarence would give him an old rusty baited hook on a leader to fish with while he used his nice new tackle. Fishing luck being so unpredictable, however, bestowed a great big beautiful pickerel on the end of Brian's rusty hook while Clarence caught nothing! A little later that day, Brain also had a jack strike. But somehow as he was reeling it in, Clarence's hook snagged Brian's leader, and according to his big brother's rules, that jack belonged to him. Brian, being a little guy, went along with his big brother's rule. Weeks later, they went fishing again and Brian noticed with shock that Clarence took Brian's rusty hook to fish with and gave Brian a new one.

"That taught me right then," Brian observed with a faint smile as we stood on the river's ice, "that fishermen are always looking for an edge."

Some time ago I had the good fortune to meet a very classy, caring lady by the name of Rose Bland of Inwood. She hadn't fished much yet graciously offered this next story and picture for our pleasure.

Bland went ice fishing with her MIFA friends off the west shore of south Lake Winnipeg. After having one of the men put the "sardine" on her hook, she sat back and began jigging her rod as explained to her. In time, someone remarked,"I think you have a fish on your line."

Rose slowly reeled up the line and soon a rather docile pickerel emerged from the ice hole's water on the end of her hook. As it hung in the air just above the shack floor, "fish juice" trailed from its tail. Rose, slightly repulsed, asked anyone in general, "How come they're so slimy? Does anyone have a towel?" Her friends teased her about her lack of angling knowledge, but since she had caught her first fish, they had to allow that she was one of them.

Last weekend on the south end of Lake Winnipeg way off shore, I met Louis Van Den Bussche, a man with a strong, straight, pure white beard, sturdy body and a thin face. His long-time buddy Larry Bonnetean, with a short salt and pepper beard over a full face, was big and powerful. Both anxiously told that after it had taken them a fair bit of time getting here from Holland which is south of Portage la Prairie, they had gotten stuck in a snow bank off Beaconia. In hindsight, they said they wished they had come off Balsam Bay because St. Clements had done such a great job of clearing a road far out onto the ice for anglers.

We began telling fishing stories standing out on the endless snow-ice pack of Lake Winnipeg, which stretched to the horizon. Larry started kidding Louis because he seemed to have a talent for getting bitten by fish.

Not long ago, apparently when he was bringing a jack up an ice hole, it jumped and clamped onto his finger so hard it was hanging in the air off his finger. Just then, some anglers stopped by to ask how the fishing was going. Louis stepped out of his portable shack, holding one end of the fish as it was hanging on to his finger of the other hand and said,"Does this answer your question?"

Again, a few days later when he was home after a day of fishing, he was about to clean a jack at the kitchen sink and it twisted forward clamping onto his finger on the same hand. Fortunately, it was a different finger. See you next week. Bye.

8 The Stonewall Teulon Tribune Thursday, February 22, 2018 Balmoral Elementary students jump rope for heart health

By Melissa McIvor

Students at Balmoral Elementary School are a hop, skip and a jump away from wrapping up their successful Jump Rope for Heart fundraising campaign.

For the past month, the K-8 students have been collecting donations for the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Their efforts will help fund critical medical research and support survivors of heart disease and stroke and their families.

On Feb. 16, the school concluded the event with an hour of exercise. Students were divided into "families" and rotated through 10 different activity stations that all incorporated skipping ropes in some way.

Jump Rope for Heart offers prize incentives that correspond with funds raised, so students are looking forward to receiving those next.

Kim Deline, Grade 5/6 teacher and guidance counsellor, revived Balmoral Elementary School's participation in the fundraiser.

"I know it's been a number of years since they've done it," said Deline. "I've done it before in other schools so when I came here I wanted to see if there was a way that we could do more for Heart and Stroke."

"So far the reception's been really positive," she explained. "The students have been really been involved in doing donations and talking to their family about it, so it's been really good."

In January, the school attended a presentation from a foundation guest speaker that detailed the Jump Rope for Heart initiative. Students learned how people of all ages can be affected by heart disease and were told how the money they raise can be used to help.

The teachers also tried to incorporate heart health into their day-to-day lessons.

"One thing that we emphasized is that there are a lot of things we need to do to be heart-healthy, like proper sleep, hydration, proper diet and proper forms of exercise. Within a balanced school day, we encouraged students that they need to be active and use their recesses to be as active as they can," said Deline.

"Following the presentation, we talked about how young people like teenagers can have heart issues and that it's not necessarily a grandma or grandpa who might have a heart condition. It can impact all of us at any age and we need to do whatever we can to keep ourselves healthy."

Jump Rope for Heart also provided an excellent opportunity for students to exercise additional responsibilities.

"We've had the 7/8 class take on the leadership role of organizing the activities and the 5/6s are the leaders of the younger students and help with moving them around," explained Deline. "This is just one more activity that lets them bond as a school."

Deline had initially set a modest fundraising target of $500 for the school. Although the final numbers won't be in until the Heart and Stroke Foundation completes their tally, after a rough count of the cash donations, Balmoral has raised almost $2,500.

"Even though it's our small school, that amount of money goes to help our larger community."

Deline couldn't be prouder of the students.

The digital age means we have no more secrets

By Eamonn Brosnan, Research associate, Frontier Centre for Public Policy

In the span of 40 years, Canadian society has gone from paper files in cabinets to electronic storage of everything from medical records to what you had in your coffee at Starbucks this morning.

Our lives have become itemized and catalogued into easily accessed databases filled with our intimate details. We have, in fact, willingly surrendered our privacy.

In many situations, we happily reap the benefits of this access to data, while hoping that the information is secured against prying eyes. We go to doctors and marvel that they can bring up test results and recommendations from specialists on their computer. But this information is stored on computers, and computers are inherently insecure.

In 1992, Robert Redford starred in Sneakers, which was about a group of shady characters who tested security systems for a living. In the movie, they were blackmailed into stealing a piece of hardware that could decrypt all encryption and security systems. The catch phrase at the end of the movie was "No More Secrets."

What was fiction in 1992 is reality in 2017.

But that our personal information has become open access is something we mostly pretend doesn't exist.

And the situation is getting worse as we digitize and catalogue more and more confidential information. The threats are everywhere, from credit cards being stolen to ransomware being installed on corporate computers to blackmailing companies to pay large sums of money to get their data back. With all the private information that's being shared and used, we're all seemingly under siege.

Now using wireless computer networks like your home Wi-Fi or the Wi-Fi at Starbucks raises a heightened threat. Most people use Wi-Fi networks without even thinking about security. It's used by retail companies

Feb. 15 was a day of celebration for the Settlers, Rails & Trails Museum in Argyle, which houses Canada's second largest flag collection — in addition to it being National Flag of Canada Day, the museum also received a large donation of new flags to add to their collection.

The new flags join the museum from the private collection of Ralph Spence, a retired Anglican Bishop of Niagara.

"This fellow has collected flags his whole life and he decided that they need to go somewhere where they can be seen and enjoyed," explained Shayne Campbell, president and executive director of the Settlers, Rails & Trails Museum.

The collection was initially presented to the Canadian Museum of History in Gatineau, but there were too many pieces for them to take. The Settlers, Rails & Trails Museum has earned a national reputation as the flag depository of Canada, so the Canadian Museum of History reached out.

"We were given an opportunity to go through a catalogue and choose which flags would best fit here," said Campbell. "We chose 267 flags. They're historic, they're from WWI, WWII, and they're from all across the country. We're really excited.

"It's the largest single gift in the flag collection that we've gotten since the museum began in 1997."

The pieces join the museum's existing collection of national, provincial, city, municipal, corporate and university flags. They have many historic pieces, including Canadian national flag proposals, finalist entries from the 1964 Great Canadian Flag Debate and a coveted Canadian flag that flew at the Peace Tower in Ottawa.

While the new flags are being itemized and catalogued, visitors can still enjoy the museum's current celebratory flag exhibit. Six Canadian flags from across the globe are on display, including a faded flag that flew in northern France at the Juno Beach Centre during the 75th Anniversary of D-Day in 2014. Another crisper flag on display flew alongside 180 others from different nations at the United Nations Headquarters in New York City. Visitors can also see a colourful Celebration flag series from Canada's centennial, 125 and 150.

"We do change our set of flags every four to six months so guests can come down and see different ones. We have 1,300 so we won't run out," Campbell said with a laugh.

Also new to the museum is a recently completed, hands-on agriculture exhibit, funded by the Interlake Community Foundation & Canada 150 Grant. The display uses flip boards, interpretive panels, artifacts and infographics to teach visitors about the area's history of crops, livestock and specialized farming.

"Agriculture is the backbone of the area so this was something that was long overdue," said Campbell. "We needed to do something to show how hard people have been working out here for over 150 years."

Other sections of the museum tell the story of the founding, settlement and development of Argyle through the history of its veterans, the Brant-Argyle United Church, and the Brant-Argyle School.

As the collection at the Settlers, Rails & Trails Museum continues to grow, so does their need for a larger space. The museum has plans to acquire land and build a modern pavilion to house their huge collection of artefacts and archives. They would also construct an outdoor village exhibit that would feature numerous historic buildings and equipment to further preserve and share the community's history.

"We're just waiting for the powers that be to see what happens with that," said Campbell.

Community members can advocate for the museum by contacting their local government, MP or MLA. Interested volunteers can also donate their time to assist with tours, maintenance, fundraising, set-up and website support. The museum is also always looking to add historic photographs, documents, flags and local family histories to their collection.

The Settlers, Rails & Trails Museum is open the first Saturday of every month from 1 to 4 p.m. Any additional hours of operation are posted on their Facebook page and website at www. settlersrailsandtrails.com

New Life Church raised $350 for the Youth Drop-In Centre through a successful "Pucks vs. Pastors" event. On Saturday, Feb. 10, pastors Rusty Hildebrand and Andrew Dyck played goalie during the church's weekly hockey ice time in an effort to increase participation and raise funds for the cause. The church covered the cost of the ice time that night, which ended in a shootout. There's an old hymn with the words, "There is power, power, wonder-working power, in the blood of the Lamb. There is power, power, wonder-working power, in the precious blood of the Lamb." It's a song we don't sing as often and a topic we don't discuss as much, but there is power in the blood.

I was reminded of this life-giving power in the blood when my daughter who was extremely anemic was in the hospital and needed a blood transfusion to boost her hemoglobin and energy levels after a major surgery. It was amazing to watch the transformation in her life as someone else's donation of blood became her source of life and strength. As the blood was being put into her body, you could literally see the colour return and her energy levels come back.

Blood is synonymous with life and in Leviticus 17:11 we read" for the life of a creature is in the blood, and I have given it to you to make atonement for yourselves on the altar; it is the blood that makes atonement for one's life." In the New Testament Jesus' shed blood on the cross became that life-giving source to revive us spiritually from the effects of sin and spiritual anemia. Peter writes "you were redeemed ... with the precious blood of Christ, a lamb without blemish" (1 Pet. 1:18-19).

Today how are you doing spiritually in your relationship with God? Are you healthy or spiritually anemic? Do you need a transfusion of Christ's blood to restore your spiritual fervour and energy? When was the last time you celebrated the Eucharist and took communion? Jesus shed his blood so that you would experience new life in him for eternity. And this is why at the last supper with his disciples "he took a cup ... saying, 'Drink from it, all of you. This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins'" (Matt. 26:27-28). There is power in the blood, and this life-giving power is available to you through Jesus Christ.

No team wants their playoff series to go the full amount of games.

And the Warren Mercs made sure that didn't happen as they finished off the Winkler Royals in four games in their best-of-five quarter-final series.

The Mercs clinched the series win with an impressive 5-0 shutout victory Monday evening in Winkler.

Five different players scored for Warren while Travis Bosch made 26 saves for the shutout.

Dylan Hykawy and Mitchell Hansen scored first-period goals and then Brendan Luschinski, Bryn Lindsay and Reid MacLeod tallied in the third.

Lindsay's goal was a shorthanded marker at 8:34 of the third to give Warren a 4-0 lead.

Brendan Luschinski finished the game with three points.

On Sunday afternoon, the Mercs took a 2-1 series lead after edging Winkler 4-3 in overtime.

Kyle Luschinski scored the game winner in OT.

Warren's Brayden MacDonald had tied the score at 3-3 in dramatic fashion, scoring with just three seconds left in the third period.

Phil Letkeman had given Winkler a 3-2 lead at 14:52 of the third period.

Warren took a 1-0 lead just 37 seconds into the game as Trent Genyk tallied.

Winkler's Marlin Froese tied the score early in the second period and then the Royals' Caleb Unrau struck on the power play at 17:37 of the middle frame.

Warren came right back just 1:03 later, however, as Dylan Hykawy tallied.

Bosch made 41 saves for the win. Last Thursday, Winkler evened the series at a game apiece after a 6-4 home victory.

Winkler took a 4-1 lead just 15:46 into the game.

Mark Hildebrand led Winkler with two goals while Cole Smith, Jon Gaudet, Brett Harder, and Froese added singles.

Darrin Husak, Mike Gemmill, Lindsay and Brendan Luschinski replied for the Mercs.

Warren started the series with a 3-2 home win on Feb. 14.

The Mercs' Mitchell Hansen scored the game-winning goal at 15:10 of the third period. Wes Pawluk and Gemmill assisted on the goal.

Winkler had tied the score at 2-2 with power-play goals from Hildebrand and Gaudet just 3:34 apart midway in the third.

Warren took a 1-0 lead just 50 seconds into the game as McDonald tallied. Hansen and Gemmill assisted on the goal.

Lindsay then gave the Mercs a 2-0 lead at 16:59 of the second period. The assists went to Trent Genyk and Matt Jacobucci.

Bosch posted the win in goal.

Wildcats sting Scorpions with playoff sweep

By Brian Bowman

It's not exactly David versus Goliath, but the Warren Collegiate Wildcats are expected to have their hands full with the Leo Remillard Renards in their best-of-three playoff series this week.

The two teams played Game 1 of the best-of-three series Wednesday at Southdale Arena and then will meet again today at 3:15 p.m. in Warren.

No score from either game was available at press time.

Leo Remillard was expected to be a tough challenge for Warren. The Wildcats will need good — if not, great goaltending — and will have to stay out of the penalty box if they have any chance for an upset.

"We've played them three times in the season and they were pretty good games," said Wildcats' head coach Matt Scrutton. "But I believe we were on the losing side of all three. They're a good, well-rounded team with good goaltending, good defence, and good offence. They're the top-ranked team in our division and they only lost twice all season.

"It will be a big test for us. We're going to have to play our best hockey to be successful."

The eighth-ranked Wildcats earned a matchup with No. 1 Leo Remillard after sweeping the No. 9 Lorette Scorpions in a best-of-three series last week.

Warren won the first game 8-0 on Feb. 12 and then clinched the series win with a 3-1 road victory on Valentine's Day.

"We've been playing better as the year has gone on," Scrutton said. "We've been putting it together for the playoffs."

In the road win, Warren erased a 1-0 third-period deficit with three unanswered goals.

Trey King scored 26 seconds into the third and then Wyatt Hagen netted a pair of goals for the comeback win. It was a great victory in a tough rink to win in.

"Our Grade 12s are the leaders on the team and they stepped up, especially after the injury to Nick (Prystupa) for the rest of the game," Scrutton said. "Of the three games we played Lorette during the regular season, we lost both in Lorette.

"Lorette is a hard building for us to win in but we overcame that mental hurdle."

Nicholas Peixoto was outstanding in goal for the Wildcats.

"He stole that game for us," Scrutton noted. "We could have lost that game if it wasn't for him."

Centurions crush Rams in playoff sweep

By Brian Bowman

The season may have seemed like a long one for the Stonewall Collegiate Rams' hockey team.

But, in fact, it was a very short one. Stonewall's appearance in the Winnipeg Free Press Division playoffs lasted just two games after the Rams were swept by the Fort Richmond Centurions in their best-of-three series.

The Rams had their season come to an abrupt end after an 8-1 loss to the Fort Richmond Centurions on Feb. 14 in Stonewall.

Fort Richmond led 3-0 after the first period and increased that advantage to 8-1 after two periods.

Seth Mandry $\hat{k}$  scored Stonewall's lone goal midway in the second period, assisted by Ryan Brown.

Jeremy Kaminsky (two), Cole Brown (two), Brayden Neufeld, Riley McCorrister, Ryan Sasek and Jaxon White scored for Fort Richmond.

Fort Richmond won Game 1 of the series 7-1. The No. 5 Centurions were clearly the better team against the No. 12 Rams in both games.

Stonewall finished its regular season tied for last place in the 13-team division with West Kildonan. Both teams had 12 points in 24 games.

Midget female Lightning lose to Hawks

By Brian Bowman

The goal-scoring woes continued for the Interlake Lightning against the Pembina Valley Hawks in Manitoba Midget Female Hockey League action last weekend.

Interlake was blanked in a pair of games, losing 5-0 to the Hawks Friday in Teulon and then 3-0 to Pembina Valley in Morden on Sunday.

In Sunday's loss, Pembina Valley scored twice in the first period and added another in the third.

Tessa Odell had two goals while Makenzie McCallum also tallied.

On Friday, the Hawks, which held period leads of 1-0 and 4-0, received goals from Hannah Petrie (two), Cora Fijala, Taylor Kristjanson and Sage McElroy-Scott.

Back on Feb. 13, Pembina Valley defeated Interlake 5-1 in Morden.

Katrina Tobin scored the Lightning's lone goal in the third period.

McElroy-Scott had a hat trick for the Hawks while McCallum and Karsty Nicolajsen also tallied.

This month hasn't been too good for the Lightning as they are 0-7 and have been outscored by a 28-6 margin.

Lightning zapped twice in Kenora last weekend

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Lightning lost a pair of close games to the Thistles in Kenora weekend.

On Sunday afternoon, Interlake was defeated 3-2 in overtime by Kenora.

Cooper Witherspoon scored the game winner in OT. Interlake's Hunter Halcrow had tied the score at 2-2 at 5:42 of the third period.

The Thistles' Ethan Carlson-Jourdain and Witherspoon scored first-period goals before the Lightning's Bryce Krauter replied at 15:23 of the second. Last Saturday evening, the Lightning lost 4-3 in a shootout to the Thistles. Dylan Winsor and Sam Brunton scored for Kenora in the shootout. After a scoreless first period, Kenora took a 1-0 lead as Sulivan Shortreed potted a power-play goal just 35 seconds into the second. Interlake's Jagger Bonkowski tied the score at 1-1 at 16:46 of the middle frame, with the assists going to Dan

Paseschnikoff and Evan Palmer. But Kenora regained the lead just 37 seconds later as Shortreed scored his second goal of the game.

Interlake's Corey Soorsma and Winsor traded goals just 18 seconds apart early in the third and then the Lightning's Evan Palmer tied the score at 3-3 at 12:18.

On Feb. 14, Interlake was defeated 7-3 by the Central Plains Capitals in Portage la Prairie.

Dylan Fontaine led the Lightning with two power-play goals while Jordan Wood also tallied.

Central Plains, which held period leads of 2-1 and 4-2, received a two-goal effort from Logan Calder. Jaxon Blight, Aiden Panko, Kian Calder, Cameron Trimble and Reilly Funk also scored for the Capitals.

Interlake was 2-for-12 with the man advantage while Central Plains finished 2-for-7.

The Lightning will wrap up their regular season this weekend with a pair of games. Interlake will play the Winnipeg Thrashers Saturday (3:30 p.m.) at Gateway Arena and then will host the Yellowhead Chiefs Sunday (2 p.m.) in Teulon.

Stonewall snaps losing streak with win over the Hawks

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets snapped a sixgame losing streak with a solid effort in a 3-1 home win over the Charleswood Hawks on Sunday afternoon.

"We definitely needed that (win) as a group," said Jets' co-coach Brock Couch."We had two tough games before that with the Raiders and Pembina Valley and our game had improved but we still weren't getting the points."

Chase Dickenson scored to give Stonewall a 1-0 first-period lead and then Aiken Chop made it 2-0 early in the third. Bradley Dawson assisted on both goals.

The Jets' Chase Faulkner netted his team-leading 22nd goal of the season midway in the third before the Hawks' Noah Robidoux scored a power-play goal at 17:15.

Hunter Ploszay made 32 saves for his 11th win of the season. He also has a 2.85 goals-against average.

Last Friday, the Jets were blanked 2-0 by the Pembina Valley Twisters in Morris.

"It was really evenly matched," Couch said. "We had some chances in the first (period) to put some away and I think our team plays differently, and has a different feeling, when we score early and things kind of go our

"But that being said, we can't shut down if things don't go our way early on."

Alex Tetrault scored a first-period power-play goal for Pembina Valley. He then added a shorthanded marker midway in the second.

On Feb. 14, the first-place Raiders Jr. Hockey Club didn't show the Stonewall Jets any love with a 4-3 overtime win.

"The boys showed themselves that we can play with the big guys,"Couch said. "They outshot us and Ploszay had to make some huge saves. But we put up a good effort and, as long as the boys know it and have confidence, I think we can still go pretty far in the playoffs."

Kale Ilchena scored the game winner in OT, which was assisted by Brandon Paradoski and Dawson Anderson.

Stonewall's Brendan Labossiere had tied the score at 3-3 at 16:10 of the third period.

Nolan Wisniewski, Jordan Kreml and Elisha Bambridge scored the Raiders' other goals.

Sam Mandryk and Bryce Stovin replied for the Jets. Mandryk's goal was a power-play marker.

Thunder purchase tackling equipment for their players

By Brian Bowman

In football, demonstrating proper technique when tackling is imperative to players' safety.

And the Interlake Thunder football program is doing everything they can to maximize that safety.

The Thunder went out and purchased three Shadowman tackling forms — at a cost of $4,600 — for their players to use in practice.

"They're tackling tools that are used extensively in the NFL now and a lot of American colleges," said the Thunder's Joel McDonald. "Football Canada is a big proponent of them as well."

McDonald said this equipment will allow the Thunder to have more contact in practice.

"It will give the players a more realistic look when we're running drills," he said. "You play as you practise and perfect practice makes perfect play. Especially with the younger kids, they haven't perfected their tackling technique and we want to keep the head out of contact as much as possible." The Thunder are eager to introduce this new equipment to their players.

"We're really excited as a club and the girls' program will be the first to use them because they play in a spring league," said McDonald, noting the girls had a chance to use the equipment at last week's practice in Warren.

"We can't wait to get out on the grass and get after it."

MacDonald said the Thunder are committed to putting money back into the program.

"The players' fees go back to the players," he said. "We're not going to be putting a bunch of money in a bank account, so it can just sit there for a rainy day or for some future thing that these kids today won't be able to make use of.

"We want to keep our fees as reasonable as possible."

Anyone that wants to play football for the Thunder can visit the program's website for more information.

Einarson splitting from Scotties finalist team

By Brian Bowman

After five years curling with the same team — which recently lost in the Scotties national final — Kerri Einarson has decided to move on.

The Camp Morton skip will be leaving her East St. Paul rink at the end of this season.

Einarson will skip a new women's curling team next season with three other former skips — including threetime Alberta champion Val Sweeting.

Einarson and Sweeting, who will play third, will be joined by Shannon Birchard and Briane Meilleur.

Sweeting has lost two national finals while Meilleur played in the Olympic pre-trials late last year.

"With a new quadrennial approaching, this team assembled with the hopes of qualifying for and succeeding on the Grand Slam Circuit, making a strong run in the 2019 Manitoba Scotties, and building towards the ultimate goal - the 2022 Olympics," the new Einarson team announced on its Facebook page.

"After skipping their respective teams, Val, Shannon, and Briane are ready for the challenge of a new position and look forward to joining up with Kerri.

"We are all very excited to build and grow as players and cannot wait for next season to start."

Einarson, who grew up in Petersfield, curled in two of the past three national Scotties events. She lost in the final this year after winning a wildcard game over Alberta's Chelsea Carey and then quickly becoming a fan favourite in Penticton.

Team Einarson will compete in two Grand Slam of Curling events in April before breaking up.

"We're just going to go into it with a positive attitude," said Beausejour's Selena Kaatz, who plays third.

"We had a lot of good times as a team so, hopefully, we can go into those events with a good attitude and have a good couple of last events together." Team Einarson posted this comment on Feb. 12 via Facebook.

"Five years have come and gone and we have gone through some major highs and lows as a team," read the post. "We've each grown personally and as athletes and have travelled across Canada many times over together.

"We've won some huge games and lost some heart-breaking ones. We've made some amazing memories together and will never forget the great times we've had but have decided that this version of Team Einarson will be no more."

TRIBUNE PHOTO BY CURL CANADA Kerri Einarson has decided to move on after curling with the same team for the past five years.

Meanwhile, the remainder of Einarson's rink, which includes Kaatz, second Liz Fyfe and lead Kristin MacCuish, have elected to stay together.

They will be led next year by Sudbury's Tracy Fleury, who placed fourth while representing Northern Ontario at the Scotties Tournament of Hearts.

"We're really, really excited," Kaatz said last Sunday afternoon. "Tracy is a really good shooter and she's super, super nice. We're really excited to get started with her next year."

Kaatz reached out to Fleury to skip their squad because she believes they will work real well together.

"We get along well off the ice, so I'm sure that will transfer on the ice," Kaatz said."We have had a head start on that by getting to know her. We're really looking forward to that."

Kaatz isn't too concerned about having an out-of-province skip.

"We're going to fly her out for a few practice weekends," Kaatz said. "Kristin, Liz and I have practiced a lot, just the three of us. It won't be too different but we will fly her out."

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANNOUNCEMENT CARDS OF THANKS

The family of Barry W. McMahon would like to express their most heartfelt and sincere gratitude to everyone who reached out with sympathy and condolences. We would like to reiterate our infinite thanks to the staff of both the Teulon Hospital and Goodwin Lodge. Every single one of you did your best to care for not only the client, Dad, but the whole family - especially Mom, treating us all with dignity and respect. We cannot say thanks enough to all those who phoned, sent notes, flowers, food etc. and donated to Dad's charities, as well as stopping to share a hug or a memory. From family, to close friends, neighbours, acquaintances, staff and even strangers - the extra care you have shown us all - but especially our Mom - has been overwhelming! The difficult transition to Mom's routine and general health has been easier because of the genuine care and support that has surrounded her. We would also like to express appreciation to Ken Loehmer for guiding us through this heartbreaking process. He was gentle, professional, respectful and intuitively knew how to look after our every need. -Thank you all once again...

IN MEMORIAM

Bernice (Judy) Gulay In Loving Memory of my beloved wife, Judy who passed away peacefully February 23, 1999 I did not know that morning,

What sorrow the day would bring; The bitter grief, the shock severe, To part with one I loved so dear. You bid no one a last farewell. No chance to say good bye; You were gone before I knew it, And only God knows why. It broke my heart to lose you, But you did not go alone; For part of me went with you, The day God called you home. Our family chain is broken, And nothing seems the same; But as God calls us one by one, Our chain will link again. You'll always live in my heart and memories. Until we meet again some day. -Lovingly remembered and sadly missed

today and always, by your loving husband, Arnie

OBITUARY

Isabel Edna Jones

Stonewall Teulon

Peacefully on February 14, 2018 Isabel Jones (nee Lawrence) passed away at Rosewood Lodge with her family by her side. She was born in Stonewall, Manitoba January 9th, 1929.

Survived by her children Allan (Marilyn), Ken (Janis), Vivian (James). Grandchildren Jason, Chad (Carla), Clint (Becky), Adam (Vera), Pamela (Kevin), Daryl (Ally), Blair (Kayla). Step grandkids Christine (Dan), Shawn (Erica). Great-grandchildren Carson, Hailey, Casey, Lilly, Isla, Alex. Steps: Michaela, Mia, Christine, James and Serena. Survived by Evelyn York, Jean (George) Griffin, Jack (Isabel) Lawrence, Eileen (Marvin) King, Kathy Nichol, Eileen Jones, Gwen Griffin and numerous nieces and nephews.

Isabel is predeceased by her loving husband Ben Jones and her parents Albert and Edna Lawrence and numerous brothers and sisters-in-law.

Isabel was raised on her parent's farm in Argyle, Manitoba and attended the Brant – Argyle School. On October 23, 1948 Isabel married Ben Jones. They farmed on the Jones family farm in Warren. There they raised their children and she took an active role in all farming activities. She loved to be outside, enjoyed horses and driving all the farming equipment, hauling hogs and running a chicken operation. In her earlier years she planted a massive garden, having enough to feed her family and friends at huge Sunday meals. Everyone was always welcome at her home and never left without being well fed. Her pantries were always well stocked, including a third drawer at Rosewood. She took pride in her flowerbeds and dealt with Ben accidentally rototilling up some of her perennials. They would play their violins together at dances and at home, sometimes lsabel would enjoy playing along with the tunes on the Saturday night polka party. Going fishing was a passion and she was so happy to be out with her rod last fall. There are so many memories of the antics and predicaments she got into. Her other passions were her kids, grandkids and great-grandkids, spoiling each and every one of them.

We have many people and "angels" to thank for keeping mom comfortable and entertained for many years, a close relationship was made with many homecare staff and became like extended family. Many thanks to Dr. Graham and staff at Rosewood Lodge. Also, Anne Moffat was her closet companion over the last while, they brought each other comfort and a lot of joy.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, February 24, 2018 at 10:30 a.m. at the Warren United Church. Rev. Patricia Baker will officiate. A luncheon will follow at Woodlands Hall. A private family interment will be held at a later date.

Flowers are graciously declined, if friends so desire, donations may be made to Rosewood Lodge Recreation Program toward the palliative care.
