Thousands log on to watch local car restoration YouTube channel

By Sydney Lockhart

A local family hobby of fixer-upper projects turned into a YouTube channel with thousands of followers.

The Penny family brothers and their cousin, who live across the Interlake, started their YouTube channel over a year and a half ago and since then have released over 130 videos.

"We all learned from our father. Now we're teaching our nephews the same trade and everything else," said Cory Penny.

On their YouTube channel Penny's Hot Rods & Customs, Cory, Derek, Keven, Ryan and Chris document the process of fixing up old cars while teaching others along the way.

"It's just fun building them from nothing. We get friends and family to come out and help all the time and keep on passing it down," said Penny. "They can actually learn stuff. Believe it or not, we do teach quite a bit what we do and how to shape metal and paint and bodywork engines."

Since starting the channel, Penny's Hot Rods & Customs has gained over 8,600 subscribers and hit over 1 million views.

"IT'S JUST FUN BUILDING THEM FROM NOTHING."

One of the Penny brothers working on the 1967 Mustang before it was finished.

"We've got friends in the States that are currently not around Canada. They can see what we're working on," said Penny. "Every year, we drive to Minneapolis to 'Back to the '50s.' We've been in local car shows here, like 'Horrible Wheels' and stuff like that."

The videos are shot and edited by the men, too, as they work on their cars. Together, Penny believes they have worked on at least 12 vehicles, including a 1958 Pontiac and a 1952 Ford half-ton.

"You are most likely finding them on Kijiji or Facebook. I know a lot of people throughout Manitoba and elsewhere. It's never really a hard problem finding cars; they usually find us," he said.

Penny added that he hopes anyone who enjoys vehicles will consider subscribing to their channel to see their work or learn something new.

"We have found cars that have been sitting in fields probably for 50 or 60 years, literally just a shell when we brought them back," he said.

All of the men have full-time jobs and work on these jobs as a side hobby. They hope to gain more views and show people the hobby they love.

Stonewall council discusses extension of SPRUCE program

By Jennifer McFee

Discussions are underway about whether the Town of Stonewall should continue with a grant program as an incentive for the construction and operation of multi-family housing developments.

The three-year Stonewall Program for Rental Unit Construction and Expansion (SPRUCE) program started on Jan. 1, 2019, and wraps up on Dec. 31, 2021. The application eligibility is open to multi-family developments that add five or more units and are available for rent.

The purpose of the grant is to address the need for additional rental housing in Stonewall. The total number of rental units, as well as the percentage of rental units within the community's housing inventory, is far below the provincial average. As a result, it's harder to attract and keep people in Stonewall, which is also a barrier to economic development opportunities.

Tim Comack of Ventura Developments spoke to council during the Oct. 13 committee meeting as a proponent of maintaining the grant program.

"The benefits of SPRUCE is that it helped us launch our project," Comack said.

"Our investors certainly bought into the fact the town was contributing and putting some skin in the game and making things a little bit more interesting."

He suggested augmenting the program by front-end loading the grant money and providing it up front as opposed to as a rebate.

Council is reviewing the program and deciding whether to extend the term, perhaps with changed criteria.

In other council news:

• Planning is going well for the upcoming Save Pond Hockey event, which has changed its name to The Stonewall Rockwood Climate and Sport Initiative. The local community was selected as the first Canadian host for the inaugural event in February 2022. Registration is now open for the 3-on-3 tournament at www.carha-hockey.ca.

• Council is reviewing information from the SAMS board in regards to an application to a zero-emission transportation fund to upgrade the SAMS fleet.

Teulon Library holding a new format of children's programming

By Sydney Lockhart

Twisted Tuesdays have started at the Teulon Library to create a stress-free, fun environment for kids.

The new program design doesn't have a theme for the first time. Instead of similar activities every week, the library has designed a different program weekly to keep children ages six to 12 engaged.

"This year we decided since everybody has been so stressed out that we wanted to just make this one be fun," said branch manager June Makowski.

The program runs every Tuesday from the end of school until 5 p.m. It runs until the end of November and then picks up in the new year.

"The kids can be with their peers and just do things that are fun. Like, they'll learn things along the way but it's going to be just them, like, distressing and relaxing and having a good time," she said.

Some of the activities include creating trees with painted puzzle pieces and having races and puzzles with Bee Bots, a robotic bee that moves around the floor when the children program it to move.

"We have it limited to 12 kids each week. So, whoever calls and signs up first, that's who can come," said Makowski. This limit is due to pandemic precautions to keep the group of unvaccinated children safe.

Makowski said that they have seen kids relax while having fun at the library and hopes that their new programming style keeps them engaged.

"We've always found that the after-school programs that kids really like them because they get to see friends that they wouldn't see at school. Because we have so many different ages, they really complement each other," she said.

She added that the older kids in the program like helping the younger ones, which they don't often have the opportunity to do.

"I've already heard from quite a number of parents that the kids come home and they can't wait to tell them what we've done," she said.

The library staff is constantly gathering new ideas for the program. Makowski said she often uses Pinterest to come up with creative new ways for the kids to have fun while learning at the same time.

Crafts and activities such as Bee Bots have been keeping the kids engaged while also learning teamwork by working together to program their bees to work.

"One little girl, when she gets picked up by her grandma, says, 'I want to go every week. I can't wait.' And then Tuesday morning, she'll start talking about it before she even goes to school because she can't wait to come here after school," said Makowski.

To sign a child up for the program, phone the Teulon Library at 204-886-3648

"We're always trying to find something fun that the kids will enjoy that they haven't done before because if they do it over and over again it's not fun anymore."

Stonewall-Rockwood fire chief prepares to step down

By Jennifer McFee

After more than three decades of battling blazes, a longstanding local fire fighter is preparing to step down from his role.

Curtis McClintock has served in the Stonewall-Rockwood Fire Department for 34 years and four months in roles that include fire fighter, deputy chief and twice as chief, which remains his current position.

It all began in 1987 when former chief Barry Mann asked McClintock if he'd be interested in joining the fire department.

"I enjoyed the challenges and camaraderie with the members," he said. "The job can be rewarding most of the time."

Over the years, the work has remained consistent, although the gear and techniques have evolved.

"Equipment is always changing, and fire fighting has changed, especially in the newer homes," said McClintock, who also serves as the deputy reeve for the RM of Rockwood. "But the work is the same."

For McClintock, the best part of the experience has been the training as well as the ongoing dedication and commitment from fellow members.

"I have been fortunate working with both councils — the RM of Rockwood and the Town of Stonewall," he said. "They are very supportive."

Of course, fire protection also comes with its challenges, particularly since members of the local volunteer fire department need to juggle multiple commitments.

"The challenging part is daytime fires when most of the guys are at their jobs," he said. "However, we have a good working relationship with Stony Mountain and Teulon fire departments, which help when needed."

Currently, the Stonewall-Rockwood Fire Department has 29 fire fighters on board, and they are down one member.

"I absolutely would encourage people to get involved," McClintock said. "Usually when the department needs to hire three members, we post an add looking for new fire fighters."

So far, he's not sure yet who will take over his role as chief.

"It will be posted internally first. If no one applies internally, then it will be posted externally," he said. "The fire committee will interview applicants and hire the best candidate."

Looking ahead to when he's wrapped up his time with the local fire department, McClintock plans to focus more on family commitments.

"It's just time. I want to thank my family for all the times I had to leave functions to respond to a fire call," he said.

"The guys need someone else other than me, and they need to hear it from somebody else that the department is in good hands. Citizens of Rockwood and Stonewall are very fortunate to have dedicated group of fire fighters. I will definitely miss the guys and the camaraderie."

McClintock's last day with the Stonewall-Rockwood Fire Department will be Dec. 31.

Notice of Environment Act Proposal

Manitoba Conservation and Climate has received a proposal pursuant to The Environment Act regarding the following operation and invites public participation in the review process:

ABAS GIRLS INC. AND ABAS GIRLS RANCH - WASTEWATER TREATMENT LAGOON - FILE: 6129.00

An Environment Act Proposal has been filed by Abas Girls Inc. and Abas Girls Ranch for the construction and operation of a wastewater treatment lagoon in SW 26-12-2E in the Rural Municipality of Rosser. The facility would treat wastewater from three existing and proposed commercial facilities and a private residence near PTH 7 southwest of the proposed lagoon. Treated effluent from the lagoon would be discharged once a year to the Grassmere Drain.

Anyone likely to be affected by the above operation and who wishes to comment on the proposal should contact Bruce Webb, Senior Environmental Engineer, in writing or by email at Bruce.Webb@gov.mb.ca not later than November 21, 2021.

Further information is available from the Online Public Registry: www.gov.mb.ca/sd/eal/registries

Information submitted in response to this proposal is considered public information and will be made available to the proponent and placed on the public registry established in accordance with Section 17 of The Environment Act.

Rockwood council news in brief

By Jennifer McFee

At the Oct. 13 council meeting, Rockwood council accepted a $56,879.73 quote from Keewatin Trucks to refurbish the Stonewall-Rockwood Fire Department's tanker truck. The RM of Rockwood will be responsible for half of the cost, which will come from the fire equipment reserve fund.

Council approved an extension of 425M on Road 4E, north of Road 90N, to be constructed in 2022.

Council agreed to amend some of the wording in the Stonewall Rockwood Fire Department agreement related to the appointment of a fire chief.

Council tabled a request for support from Stonewall and Area Mobility Services, which would like to submit an application to the Zero Emission Transit Fund in an effort to convert part of its fleet to zero-emission vehicles. The cost to submit an application is $30,000, which includes fees to create a report to submit along with the application. SAMS is seeking support from all of its member municipalities, including Rockwood.

A speed sign will be put up east bound on Road 75 between Road 8E and Highway 7.

Jake Maendel spoke to council about a request for permission to build a temporary dwelling on his property for his foreign workers. He will need to submit a site plan, building plans and a complete scope of work before the next council meeting.

Coun. Art Goudy will be a representative on the Netley-Grassmere-Willow Creek Integrated Watershed Management Plan Project Team.

Council gave second and third readings to a bylaw regarding the creation of a community enhancement reserve fund for communities in the RM of Rockwood. This reserve fund would go towards projects and programs to enhance the lifestyle of Rockwood residents.

Unsafe work focus of Stony Mountain Institute picket

By Jennifer McFee

More than two dozen Stony Mountain Institution staff members participated in a picket last week to share information about the right to refuse unsafe work.

On Oct. 12 at 6:30 a.m., about 25 staff members gathered for the rally, including all food services workers who were not on shift, representing full-time, term and casual workers.

Frank Janz, regional vice-president Manitoba Correctional Services Canada for the Union of Safety and Justice Employees, explained the reason for the picket.

"This information picket is actually about a refusal to do unsafe work. We are currently in a refusal to do unsafe work situation at Stony Mountain Institution in the food service department," he said.

"On Aug. 21, a food service officer was assaulted by an inmate and taken by ambulance to the hospital. He wasn't kept over night but he has not been back to work since. He is recovering, undergoing treatment, but it was a serious assault."

RCMP Staff Sgt. Sean Grunewald confirmed that the investigation has been forwarded to the Crown to review for possible charges. Charges being considered are aggravated assault, assault causing bodily harm and assault with a weapon.

After the assault, the food services officers working at Stony Mountain Institution informed their employer that they had identified dangers in the workplace.

"The food service department does not have a security officer present in the kitchen area. Staff who work in the food service area are trained chefs. They are people who are trained to prepare food. They are not security. They are not prepared or equipped to be defending themselves physically from attacks," Janz said.

"We'd like security to be present in the food service area."

Citing Section 128 of the Canada Labour Code, the staff got together and presented their concerns to management. The definition of danger in Part II of the Canada Labour Code is "any hazard, condition or activity that could reasonably be expected to be an imminent or serious threat to the life or health of a person exposed to it before the hazard or condition can be corrected or the activity altered."

"Management flatly refused to provide any sort of additional security to the people who work in the food service area. They said they have a national deployment standard for all of correctional service across Canada and that's what they're going by. There's no deployment of correctional officers in the food service department," Janz said.

"On Aug. 26, management attempted to return the inmate back to work in the kitchen. That's when the staff refused to do dangerous work by having inmates here without extra security or any training on how to deal with these inmates, how to protect ourselves, how to reduce the risk of assault. We are currently in that situation still, and the inmates have not returned to the kitchen."

Under the Canadian Labour Code, federal employees are allowed to refuse dangerous work, Janz stressed.

"Our members invoked that right. Employment and Social Development Canada, the body that oversees the investigations, became involved and it was found that there is danger present in the workplace," Janz said.

"The ESDC informed the employer that they would have to provide training to the food service staff. Out of 22 staff, 15 had no training and the rest only had some of the necessary training required."

The difficulty is that the food services staff are expected to do the training during their shift while still performing their regular duties, he added.

"There are seven training courses that the employer must provide to everybody who works in the food service department. So the employer is trying to do right now by getting everybody through this training, except they're making them do the training while they're trying to prepare the meals. They can go to the computer for 10 or 20 minutes at a time, but they're producing 600 meals three times a day and you can't be late," Janz said.

"How do you concentrate on learning something when you're worried that you have another 600 meals to produce? They're stretched to the limit. We're trying to bring this to the attention of the public that people are working very hard and they work in very dangerous circumstances."

At the same time, Janz said he would like to see the inmates return to their work in the kitchen but in a safer way.

"They would love to have the inmates come back because we do a lot of training. We actually get to work with them. They are learning new skills, to follow direction, to show up for work, to work alongside somebody else," Janz said.

"These are all valuable skills that our members teach them — but if it's in such a dangerous way, it's very difficult. They try very hard and everybody would be glad to go back to the way it was with the additional security and training."

Kelly Sumeraj, media relations and outreach officer for Correctional Services Canada (CSC), said the safety and security of staff, inmates and the public is a top priority. As such, CSC uses a number of approaches to ensure the safety and security of its food service staff at all of its correctional facilities.

For example, food service staff are provided personal portable alarms at the start of each shift, which must be worn on their person at all times, Sumeraj said. These portable personal alarms can be activated if security assistance is required, and correctional officers will immediately respond to the alarm.

"Correctional officers also complete security rounds to areas of the institution where inmates are present, and Stony Mountain Institution has increased security rounds to the kitchen. Food service staff also have access to radios, dynamic security training and practices, and closed circuit television

New COVID restrictions for southern region

By Ashleigh Viveiros

Manitoba saw its COVID-19 case count jump by 339 cases Thursday through Monday.

There were 92 cases on Friday, 108 on Saturday, 88 on Sunday, and 51 on Monday.

The Southern Health region led the way in new cases with 128 in total, followed by 81 in Winnipeg, 56 in Prairie Mountain, 53 in the Northern health region, and 21 in Interlake-Eastern.

Twenty-two of the 26 new cases in Southern Health on Monday were in individuals who were not fully vaccinated. Provincewide, 36 of the day's 51 new cases had not received two doses of the vaccine.

There was also five new deaths in people with COVID-19 since Friday, bringing the total number of Manitobans who have died due to the virus to 1,231.

At press time, Manitoba had 976 active cases and a five-day test positivity rate of 3.3 per cent.

A total of 90 people were in hospital with COVID-19, including 16 in intensive care.

In the Interlake-Eastern region, Northern Remote leads the way in active cases with 25 followed by 22 in Fisher/Peguis, six in Springfield, six in Arborg/Riverton, four in Stonewall/Teulon, four in Selkirk, three in Eriksdale/Ashern, two in Gimli, two in Winnipeg Beach/St. Andrews, two in Beausejour, one in Pinawa/Lacdu-Bonnet, one in the Unknown District, one in Whiteshell and none in St. Laurent.

Self-isolation required

In light of rising case counts and low vaccination rates in Southern Health, last week the province announced stricter household self-isolation (quarantine) requirements for the region.

Household members of close contacts or symptomatic people who have not had any known COVID-19 exposures must self-isolate.

That means if an individual is awaiting test results for COVID-19, everyone in their household must self-isolate along with them. This is not currently the case in the rest of the province.

Exempt from self-isolation are people who are fully vaccinated (two doses) against COVID-19 or were infected with the virus within the past six months.

Asymptomatic designated workers who are not fully vaccinated but are taking part in a regular rapid testing program are also exempt from self-isolation. If the worker or a close contact in the household has symptoms, the exemption does not apply.

The province has said the online screening tool will provide guidance on how long people must self-isolate.

Third dose for first nations

Monday saw the province expand its recommendations for a third dose of the vaccine to First Nation people living on reserve. This applies to an estimated 7,200 people.

The Integrated Vaccine Operations Centre, which is co-led by First Nations and the federal government, is being reactivated to oversee the third dose rollout and co-ordinate other supports that communities may need, the province has said.

It was also announced that pharmacies will now be allowed to administer COVID-19 rapid tests for people travelling outside the province who need a negative test result before doing so.

"This is an important change that builds capacity and provides more options for travellers," Health Minister Audrey Gordon said, noting pharmacies will be able to perform rapid antigen tests and rapid molecular (non-PCR) tests.

There is a fee for these tests and travellers will be required to present the pharmacist with documentation related to their travel plans, which may include a plane or train ticket or hotel booking.

MPI adjusts General Rate Application: requests 1.2 per cent rate decrease and $335M rebate

Submitted by Manitoba government

As the hearing of its General Rate Application (GRA) before the Public Utilities Board (PUB) opens today, Manitoba Public Insurance (MPI) will be presenting updates to its provisional filing made earlier this year based on continued strong financial performance. This will include requesting a rate decrease for a third year in a row and updating its separate application for a third customer rebate in a little more than a year.

MPI originally filed its preliminary 2022/23 GRA with the PUB in June and has since updated its application, which now requests a 1.2 per cent rate decrease. MPI routinely adjusts its overall rate indication after the initial filing as it refines its forecast closer to the start of the hearing.

Also in this application, MPI removed the Capital Release provision, which previously had translated into a five per cent discount as part of the overall rate. To replace the removal of this discount and return surplus capital to Manitobans sooner, MPI separately applied to the PUB to return excess capital to ratepayers by way of a rebate. MPI has also updated its rebate application, formalizing its rebate request to $335 million from the original forecasted amount of $202 million. If approved, this will be the second largest rebate in corporate history. In 2011, MPI rebated ratepayers $336 million.

"MPI continues to demonstrate strong financial performance, which has resulted in its applying for a third consecutive rate decrease, and in time, applying for a third consecutive customer rebate," Crown Services Minister Jeff Wharton announced Monday.

"The COVID-19 pandemic has been challenging for all Manitobans. I am pleased that Manitoba Public Insurance will once again be in a position to provide its policyholders with much needed financial relief early in the new year."

Rebate cheques will be mailed out in the winter of 2022. The average cheque amount and how many cheques will be mailed will be announced in coming months. To date, customers have received a total of $179 million in COVID-19 driven rebates.

MPI is ultimately responsible for delivering the services and overall financial health of its various lines of business, including Basic, Extension and its administration of The Drivers and Vehicles Act (DVA), which involves the licensing of drivers and vehicles. The 2022/23 GRA addresses the transfer of capital from the Extension to the DVA line of business to ensure MPI can cover its administration costs. MPI transferred this capital in full compliance with all applicable statutes and regulations.

The transfer of capital from Extension to the DVA line of business is separate and distinct from the Basic Autopac line of business.

"We acknowledge that surplus funds from our Basic Autopac program should be returned to our customers and we have done just that. We are pleased to provide another rate decrease, in addition to making a request of the PUB, to return surplus to our customers in the form of a rebate," said Eric Herbelin, president and CEO of MPI.

"Our financial and business operations are fully transparent and presented to the PUB. Surplus from our Basic Autopac program is a direct result of fewer collision claims combined with having the public auto insurance model, which allows for the return of excess capital back to our customers," said Herbelin. "This rate application truly demonstrates the effectiveness of the public insurance model and our commitment to delivering value to Manitobans."

Combining the requested 1.2 per cent decrease with the surplus rebate, customers can expect an average decrease in their 2022/23 insurance year Autopac premiums of approximately 26.1 percent.

The proposed rates would be effective April 1, 2022, but because renewal dates are staggered, some vehicle owners will not pay their new rates until March 31, 2023. The PUB hearing is scheduled for three weeks and MPI expects the board to announce its ruling in December.

In Health and Sickness

Job 1:8 The LORD said to Satan, 'Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man who fears God and turns away from evil.' 9 Then Satan answered the LORD, 'Does Job fear God for nothing? 10 Have you not put a fence around him and his house and all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land. 11 But stretch out your hand now, and touch all that he has, and he will curse you to your face.'

The Old Testament book of Job is 42 chapters long, but a brief synopsis of Job's point of view might be blessed, cursed and harmony. The wisdom Job learns on his journey is one that we would do well to learn.

The book opens with Job being described as blessed with family, wealth, health and faith. Then, through no fault of his own, Job loses his worldly blessings and questions God. The reason for the questioning is that Job, like his family and friends, believes that he has been blessed because he has been faithful. Now that he seems cursed, he questions God. He pleads for mercy and then goes so far as to blame God.

In response God offers no reason for why Job is suffering and instead questions Job's authority to question.

In his sufferings, Job learns he is not responsible for his suffering or misfortunes, and conversely was not be able to take credit for all his previous fortunes. He also learns that God is more mysterious and awesome than the personified God he had previously worshipped.

What is the wisdom that Job acquired through his suffering and questioning? Job resigns himself to the modest yet remarkable condition of a mortal human being. He acknowledges how awesome God is and continues his journey in faith relying on God's grace and the promise of restoration.

Whether you feel totally blessed or cursed, Job's wisdom is that all earthly things pass away, but the grace of God will restore all that we lose and more. Faith is not about acquiring earthly things, but about entering the divine kingdom. May God help us to remember Job and his journey of faith in our blessings and in our sufferings. Amen.

Pfizer effectiveness against infection drops to 47 per cent

By Patricia Barrett

A real-world study evaluating the effectiveness of Pfizer-BioNTech's COVID-19 vaccine in almost 5 million people shows the fully vaccinated becoming infected with the virus or one of its variants but still retaining strong vaccine-induced protection against having to be hospitalized.

The Pfizer-led study titled "Effectiveness of mRNA BNT162b2 COVID-19 vaccine up to 6 months in a large integrated health system in the USA: a retrospective cohort study" was published online in The Lancet medical journal Oct. 4.

The researchers, who identify themselves as either employees of Pfizer or who hold shares in Pfizer stock or who received research support from Pfizer, assessed the effectiveness of the vaccine, now called Comirnaty, against COVID infections and against hospital admissions for up to six months after the vaccine was administered.

They found the vaccine's overall effectiveness against infection waning to 47 per cent after five months since full vaccination (defined in this study as seven days or more after the second dose). But the effectiveness against hospital admissions in all age groups "did not wane" over the six-month research period, providing 90 per cent protection.

"Our results show high effectiveness of BNT162b2 against hospital admissions up until 6 months after being fully vaccinated in a large, diverse cohort under real-world vaccination conditions, even in the face of widespread dissemination of the delta variant," the researchers wrote. "These findings underscore the importance of continuing to prioritise improving COVID-19 vaccination rates, including in hard-to-reach communities."

The study also looked at the vaccine's effectiveness against infection and hospitalization from the virus's variants.

For delta, the vaccine was shown to be 93 per cent effective against infection during the first month after full vaccination but dropped to 53 per cent after four months. Against other variants, the vaccine was found to be 97 per cent effective against infection during the first month after vaccination but declined to 67 per cent at four to five months. The vaccine, however, offered a high overall level of protection against the need for hospitalization.

The study's findings are consistent with reports from Israel's Ministry of Health and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention on reduced effectiveness against COVID infection at five months or longer after being fully vaccinated, said the researchers.

The researchers set out to determine whether waning immunity or the delta variant was driving the observed reductions in effectiveness against infection as this distinction "is essential to inform the need for booster doses and to establish what the antigenic composition of future vaccines should be."

The progress of COVID variants is shown in samples taken between January and July in southern California, with the delta variant (in pink) predominating in the space of two months.

They surmise that the reduction in protection against infection over time is probably primarily due to the vaccine losing strength rather than the ability of delta to evade immunity defences.

"Our variant-specific analyses suggest that reductions in vaccine effectiveness over time are likely to be primarily due to waning vaccine effectiveness rather than the delta variant escaping vaccine protection given that vaccine effectiveness against delta infections was more than 90 per cent soon after vaccination," the researchers wrote. "Vaccine effectiveness against delta and other variants for hospital admissions was very high over the entire study period, and reductions in vaccine effectiveness against infection by time since being fully vaccinated were observed irrespective of the variant."

Waning protection against infection has also been observed in Moderna's mRNA COVID vaccine and is "consistent" with studies of other coronaviruses.

The researchers analysed electronic health records of 4,920,549 people who were 12 years of age and older and who were members of a health-care organization in southern California. The average age was 45 years. Fifty-two per cent were female and 48 per cent were male. The records were "representative of the socioeconomic and racial and ethnic diversity of the area's population."

Reports of reduced effectiveness against infection began to surface this summer with the rise of the delta variant, said the researchers. Countries such as Israel, the U.S. and Qatar reported worrying trends in declining vaccine-induced immunity among those who were close to reaching the six-month mark of being fully vaccinated. They included the immunocompromised, health-care workers and older adults.

"The continual emergence of SARS-CoV-2 variants has raised concern that COVID-19 vaccines could have reduced effectiveness against new viral strains; however, BNT162b2 has shown robust amounts of neutralising antibodies against all variants of concern evaluated to date," wrote the researchers. "Moreover, confirmatory, real-world studies have shown high effectiveness of two doses of BNT162b2 against COVID-19, especially severe disease caused by variants of concern [such as] alpha, beta and delta in various settings."

Although the vaccine was found to provide a high level of protection against hospitalization — at least over the course of this six-month study period — the researchers note recent reports of waning protection, notably in older adults.

"The most recent report from August 2021, from Israel ... suggests that some reduction in effectiveness against hospital admissions has been observed among older people [65 years and older] roughly 6 months after receiving the second dose of BNT162b2," they wrote. "Thus, long-term effectiveness data against severe outcomes should be continuously monitored in our study population and globally."

Countries considering administering third doses should assess vaccine supply and disparities existing between wealthy and poor countries, the researchers wrote.

The delta variant is behind the fourth wave of infections in several Canadian provinces.

Manitoba began recording mostly triple-digit infection numbers since the last week of September. The province's COVID dashboard and public health officials say the fourth wave is being driven by people who remain unvaccinated.

On Oct. 8, the dashboard showed 71 active cases in the Interlake-Eastern region as a whole. In communities in the Interlake area, there were seven active cases in the Arborg-Riverton area, four in the Eriksdale-Ashern area, 13 in Fisher River-Peguis, six in Gimli, five in Selkirk, six in Stonewall-Teulon and five in Winnipeg Beach- St. Andrews.

There have also been infections in school-age children (prior to Oct. 5) at Dr. George Johnson Middle School in Gimli and Riverton Early Middle School, according to the province's school-aged infections dashboard.

Balmoral girl fundraises to support her Baba with brain cancer

By Sydney Lockhart

When 12-year-old Ella Loehmer's Grade 7 class was fundraising for the Terry Fox Foundation, she took it upon herself to show support for her Baba.

"The Terry Fox Fund goes to cover a bunch of different cancers, and one of them is brain cancer. I wanted to show some of my love for her and support," she said.

Loehmer said since April when her Baba was diagnosed with brain cancer she has taken it day by day and decided to raise donations to help cancer research.

"I went around town on my bike to some people that we personally know, and I emailed people and drove to their house to get donations," she said.

Loehmer raised $925 for the foundation. She said she passed her original goal by hundreds of dollars.

"She [Baba] was speechless, to be honest. She was very, very proud of me," she said.

Loehmer added that she hopes more people will consider fundraising in support of their family and friends.

"Go for it! If they have an idea of doing it, there is nothing holding them back. Just do it," she said.

On top of donating, Loehmer also took part in her local school's run this year.

"She took it upon herself to raise more funds than she's ever done before. It was it was all her," said Darci Loehmer, Ella's mother.

Darci said that she has seen her daughters learn a lot about sickness and helping others make a difference while her mother went through treatments.

"She's grown up a lot. It's been quite remarkable," she said. "I'm very proud of her, and it shows that we can all make a difference for anyone who's going through cancer, and so many lives have been touched by it."

She added that while having a family member with cancer is difficult for everyone, there is no shame in talking about it, and Ella found a way to do that through fundraising.

"I think that's what volunteering and fundraising is about, to find something that strikes a chord in your life that inspires you to go and do more

Jets Town Takeover rescheduled for April 21, 2022

New date set for Jets Town Takeover

By Jennifer McFee

Mark your calendars!

The Jets Town Takeover will be happening in Stonewall on April 21, 2022.

The event was originally scheduled for March 24, 2020, but it was postponed due to the pandemic.

The town earned the chance to host the much-anticipated event by garnering the most votes in an online contest. Stonewall Jets alumni Brett Meilleur created a 90-second submission video to showcase Stonewall's hometown hockey spirit. The video propelled Stonewall into the Top 3, along with Beausejour and Dominion City. Stonewall won by a lead of 4,980 votes.

The itinerary had included elementary school Project 11 programming and an ice session led by Jets alumni for Stonewall Minor Hockey players. The community was also looking forward to gathering together in the evening to for a viewing party of a Winnipeg Jets game, complete with prizes, live music and much more.

For the rescheduled event, details are still trickling in. However, it will likely include similar celebrations to what was planned to years ago with Project 11 leading daytime activities at all three schools, alumni activities and an evening viewing party — with lots more in between.

Deputy Mayor Peter Bullivant, who also chairs the Jets Town Takeover local committee, is pleased to announce the return of the event.

"It's very exciting. True North Sports have never left us. They never forgot us. They've been in regular communication since the unfortunate cancellation due to COVID. They are awesome," he said.

"The format appears to be very similar to the original. The only difference this time round is that it is extra special as we've all shown great patience in waiting for its welcomed return."

A video posted on the Town of Stonewall website (www.stonewall.ca) showcases the excitement about the Jets Town Takeover.

Incredible creatures: fall-flying leaf mimicking moths

By John Gavloski

In late-summer or fall, some moths emerge that may look a bit confusing. With all the dead leaves around that time of year, what better disguise than to look like a dead leaf, which is what several species of moths do. In this month's Incredible Creatures, we will explore the lives of two of these moths with similar sounding names, the maple spanworm and the large maple spanworm.

Fooling Foes in Many Ways

There are many insects extremely good at mimicking leaves. Katydid often do this extremely well, but as we get into late-summer and fall, some moths are very good at mimicking dead leaves. Two that can be seen in Manitoba that are good at this are the maple spanworm (Ennomos magnaria) and the large maple spanworm (Prochoerodes lineola). Although the names sound similar, and both are dead-leaf mimics, their appearance is quite different.

The maple spanworm has a few characteristics that help it mimic a dead leaf. The wings are a bright yellow-orange, speckled with dark brown. Aside from the colour, which resembles a yellow leaf, note the unevenly shaped edges to the wings. Also note the posture with which it is holding the wings. They rest with their wings raised about 30 to 45 degrees above horizontal. The combination of traits makes them an effective mimic of a dried, curled leaf.

There's a lot of variation in colour in the large maple spanworm. The forewings can be straw yellow to brown, depending on the individual moth, but the dark line that divides the wings is diagnostic. It also has a sharp angle near the tip of the wings.

Twig mimicking larvae

The caterpillars of these moths are masterful mimics as well. Caterpillars of the maple spanworm are a superb twig mimic. The body is green, brown or gray, dappled with minute white spotting. They also have markings on their body that look like buds on a branch. The head is flattened and directed forward. Caterpillars of the

You may think that, based on the names, the caterpillars of these moths eat mainly maple leaves. But that is not the case. Large maple spanworm caterpillars feed on the leaves of a wide range of plants, including maple, oak, poplar, willow, apple, birch, blueberry, cherry and currant. Host plants of the maple spanworm include maple, oak, poplar, alder and basswood.

Both maple spanworm and large maple spanworm belong to a family of moths known as Geometrid moths (family Geometridae). They are named for the way their caterpillars walk. Geometrid means "earth measurer," and the caterpillars are often nicknamed "inchworms," "loopers" and "spanworms" because of their gait. Butterfly and moth caterpillars have three pair of "true" legs in front, on their thorax (caterpillars are divided into three sections, just like the adults). The abdomen contains prolegs, which look like stubs tipped with hooks (called crochets) for gripping the surface. A full set of prolegs is five pairs, the hindmost being a pair at the tip of the abdomen called anal prolegs. Geometrid caterpillars are missing two or three pairs of prolegs between the true legs and the anal prolegs. This results in Geometrid caterpillars walking by arching to pull the rear end up to the front end, then reaching the front end forward.

If something catches your eye this fall that looks like a dead leaf that's out of place, such as on the side of a building, have a closer look. It could be one of these maple spanworm moths.

Lazy Acres Farm offers unique experience for campers

By Jennifer McFee

A small animal farm offers visitors an up-close-and-personal experience — all tucked within a popular campground.

Rubber Ducky Resort and Campground, located between Warren and Stonewall, opened in 2005. This fun family destination offers seasonal and daily camping as well as cabin rentals.

At the end of the 2020 season, co-owners Sheri Irwin and Dennis Crockatt, along with their daughter Haylie, started preparing for a new attraction called Lazy Acres Farm. The farm opened for it's first full year in 2021.

Now guests can meander through the farm filled with miniature horses, a miniature donkey, a miniature mule, pigs, chickens, sheep and a few breeds of miniature goats.

"We already had some of the animals for our personal 'pets' and enjoyed interacting and watching them so much that we decided that we should set up a more public area," Sheri said.

"We wanted to share that enjoyment with others. We are always looking to for new and different activities for our guests to do while they are here."

So far, they've gotten a fantastic response from campers, Haylie added.

"The area was open in the afternoons and evening where they could walk through anytime to see and feed the animals," she said.

"When some of our regulars head out there, the animals see them coming and know the treats are on the way."

The best part is seeing the guests and the animals interact with each other.

"Most people don't have the opportunity to see these types of animals up close," Sheri said.

"And it's also great to see how the animals have come to look forward to seeing people."

Looking ahead, the animals will continue to be a must-see attraction.

"There are no specific plans to include any more animals, but we are always looking — and you never know what might come along next," Haylie said.

"We recently welcomed a baby goat to the farm and are hoping to have a few more in the future."

Inwood bison farm staying strong in spite of drought

By Nicole Brownlee

Transitioning from a hobby farm to a ranch with over a thousand bison takes patience and hard work, but Inwood’s Peter Doerksen is glad he made the leap.

Doerksen grew up on a small farm in Niverville with a couple of dairy cows, two chickens and a few horses. When he was 26 years old, he started his bison farm with around 30 bison. Over 30 years the herd has steadily grown to 1,200 bison.

“I don’t really have a good explanation as to why I started, but right now, I’m quite happy that I did,” said Doerksen.

“(Bison) are such a natural animal to farm. It’s a little more difficult to physically handle, but the overall management is a lot easier.”

Like many farms around the province, this summer’s drought and grasshopper infestation hit Doerksen’s ranch hard.

“We were feeding our cows on pasture all summer,” said Doerksen.

Between the lack of plant growth and feed prices, Doerksen is concerned about feeding his herd over the winter but doesn’t plan on selling any livestock.

“It’s not really feasible to try and sell these things. Certainly not the breeding cows in the middle of calving season. It would be very hard on the calves.”

Bison are an independent herd, said Doerksen. They don’t allow any help when they’re calving or breeding and make it known if they need more food.

“They will not reproduce if they feel like they can’t support a calf,” said Doerksen.

The bulls are also kept with the cows year-round because the cows follow a natural breed-

A new technology is making partial dentures way better

By Brock Vantor
DENTURIST

There is something new and very exciting when it comes to partial dentures! I am so excited about it because it is one of those things that is undoubtedly superior to the way we used to do it. They are fitting better than I have ever seen, and of course, patients are having more comfort than they have ever had in the past.

Since the beginning of metal working time, to make things like partials, we had to first make a mould of a certain shape (like a partial denture), then pour liquid metal into the mould and let it cool and harden. This method works great, but there is always a problem...when the metal cools, it shrinks! This means that no matter how perfect we make the mould of your denture, when we pour the metal in, it will change shape and never have a perfect fit; re-quiring very careful adjustments to the denture. But now, I am very excited to say, we can totally get rid of that process where the metal distorts and partials don't fit as good as they should!

Today, we can design your partial denture on a computer, then use a computer controlled milling machine to actually make the exact shape of your partial out of hardened Titanium metal. This means no more distortion, and wow, the results are truly amazing! My brother, who is also a Denturist out in Medicine Hat, is also doing Titanium partials too and every time we get on the phone, we can't help but talk about how this new technology is just the best thing that has ever happened to partial dentures. We can finally get the fit that we always wanted, and patients are absolutely loving them for 3 main reasons:

1. Titanium partials fit beautifully around the teeth, which results in much less food underneath.
2. Titanium is both thinner and smaller, making the partial more comfortable.
3. Titanium can clip more gently around the teeth than the usual metal and it just feels more "normal".

If you have had problems with your partials before, then there is a good chance that this is the answer. The process of making them is by far superior to the old way. Give us a call today to reserve your free consultation and we would be happy to see how we can help.

Thanks for reading! Brock Vantor, the Denturist.

Recent patient Gary says, “Brock is awesome. My new teeth have a great fit, excellent work and the staff are very professional.”

ing season from July to September.

A difference between raising bison and cattle is the size of the fence to keep the animals in. Cattle can be typically kept in by a metre-tall fence, but bison need double the height.

"Making sure that you have the proper fences and making sure that you have a decent handling facility ... is where the bigger costs come in,"

said Doerksen. "They are certainly a whole lot more aggressive."

Doerksen recently raised his fencing because the bison accidentally threw each other over the fence during breeding season.

"They're not intending to, but when they've got the other bison against the corner, it happens," said Doerksen with a laugh. "It happens probably once a year."

If a bison topples over the fence, they tend to hang around and wait for someone to notice so they can rejoin the herd.

After debuting at the Red River Ex and the Calgary Stampede, the ranch picked up business around 20 years ago. Doerksen continues to visit markets, selling bison ribeye, burgers, and more under Sizzlin' Bison Grill.

"It's a very healthy red meat," said Doerksen.

The meat is low in cholesterol, high in zinc, iron and protein, and doesn't contain any antibiotics or growth promotants.

"It's very flavourful, and even the tenderloin, you don't need to put any spices on it."

Doerksen is in the process of selling his bison meat at local stores in the Interlake.

To find out more, contact Peter Doerksen at 204-278-3599 or text 204-886-7311.

October is Car Safety Month

Gearing up for winter

Winter has a way of sneaking up on car owners. Ideally, you want to have your vehicle ready for the cold season before the first snowflakes fall. With October being Car Safety Month, it's the perfect time to remind you about the dangers of cars that aren't equipped for winter. Get your vehicle properly inspected and maintained before the cold and snow set in. Your road safety will be greatly improved for the winter months.

BODY MAINTENANCE

It doesn't matter how small it may be, any metallic surface that's missing paint is an open invitation for rust to form. Taking the time to touch up any damage to your car's paint job will protect it from corrosion. You can purchase the necessary kits from your dealership or from professional body shops. Dirt and debris can also harm your automobile's paint, so be sure to give you car a good washing. Follow this up by applying a coat of protective wax to shield your vehicle from the calcium and salt scattered across winter roads.

to shield your vehicle from the calcium and salt scattered across winter roads.

DON'T OVERLOOK THE DETAILS

Moisture often gets trapped inside the rubber seals that line your car's doorframe, which can cause the doors to freeze shut in very cold weather. To prevent this from occurring, spray your rubber seals with a silicone-based lubricant. This product can also be used on your door locks and hinges, as well as your hood latch. Having a can of door lock anti-freeze on hand is also very useful — just be sure to keep it in on your person and not inside the car.

PRE-WINTER INSPECTION

A complete vehicle inspection can be done at your dealership or at a trusted garage. A mechanic will give the various components of your vehicle a thorough checkup and will suggest any repairs that might be needed. Depending on your car's make, model and age, an inspection will include the spark plugs, brakes, battery, fluid levels, alternator, starter, suspension and steering. This will go a long way in getting you safely through the winter.

THE RIGHT TIRES

Winter tires are highly recommended, and their use is even mandatory in some places. Their lifespan usually ranges from three to four years. After this time, the tires begin to lose their traction and adhere less to the road. This can cause your car to slip and skid, putting both yourself and other drivers at risk. Keep an eye on your tires and be sure to replace them when their thickness or tread depth is less than 5 mm.

KIT OUT YOUR CAR

Rocky Road Performance riders compete to end season

Rocky Road Performance riders had an opportunity to get back in the saddle at the end of September to wrap up their season, while getting some competitive practice in for next year. Owner of Rocky Road Performance Horses, located north of Woodlands, Amanda Mollard has been teaching for 10 years and training horses for most of her life. She is hopeful there will be a full show season starting next spring. Mollard shows Arabians and half Arabians regionally and nationally and specializes in teaching western pleasure, hunter pleasure, saddle seat equitation, hunter seat equitation, dressage as well as jumping.

vision cameras are present in all kitchens," Sumeraj said.

"Correctional staff are also made familiar with the offenders under their care. They closely monitor behavioural changes indicating potential problems and receive training to safely resolve as quickly as possible any incidents that could occur."

Correctional Services Canada regularly checks and evaluates safety procedures, evaluates incidents to identify and address areas of concern and engages partners such as occupational health and safety committees, unions and CSC colleagues in other institutions for their input and support, Sumeraj noted.

"Managers at Stony Mountain Institution have begun to work with food service staff to identify operational efficiencies and address any areas of concern to mitigate any further risk to staff safety," Sumeraj said.

In addition, CSC has national training standards that provide safety training for all staff, including staff working in food service areas, Sumeraj said.

Training available to food service staff includes Security Awareness, Engagement and Intervention Model, the New Employee Orientation Program that focuses on Conflict and Crisis, Emergency Situations and Manipulation, and Managing Offenders in the Workplace.

"Training is delivered in various formats such as online or in classroom and all staff are giving time during their workday to complete it," Sumeraj said.

Inmate employment is a part of CSC's correctional programming, and employment assignments in areas such as food service are a means by which an inmate may gain valuable employment experience, an opportunity to learn and practice skills and engage in meaningful activities while incarcerated, Sumeraj said.

"The skills and experience inmates acquire through institutional employment assists them in obtaining employment upon their return to the community and are a means of ensuring public safety. All inmates are assessed prior to being placed in an employment assignment, including food service areas to ensure appropriate placement," Sumeraj said.

"Employment assignments for inmates are reviewed regularly to determine each inmates' progress against their correctional plan, which assists in identifying and addressing the needs of an inmate throughout their sentence. Inmate workers are supervised in their assigned workplace by correctional staff. Work areas are searched regularly and any tools used in work areas are accounted for and stored securely at the end of each workday."

For Janz, the point is that people should be able to come to work and feel safe.

"We all understand that prison is a dangerous place to work, but there's no reason for it to be more dangerous for people," he said.

"I've worked at Stony Mountain for 28 years now. I do the regional vice-president work full-time now, but I worked in the kitchen and I know how dangerous it can be. Myself, I've been assaulted and it's not an experience that you ever forget."

Infidelity

tions their worth, and wonders what drew the partner to cheat. It triggers abandonment issues, deep hurt which often manifests as anger, resentment, and grief.

It is worse than a death in some ways because death is random, and rarely does one intend to take themselves out of a loved one's life by dying.

Life events don't always happen in the correct order. So it might be that the affair is the period at the end of the sentence spelling out the death of a relationship that was over anyway.

However, this is not always the case. Sometimes it is the shocking jolt that brings it back to life. If there is still love between the partners, and if they have not been expressing all of who they are in the relationship, the prospect of losing each other wakes them into a state where they begin to actively co-create their relationship rather than being passive participants. They can no longer take each other for granted, and their relationship can become deeper than it ever would have been without the crisis.

Some couples can rebuild on their own, but often the help of a neutral third party is required. This is a very personal process, and the opinions of friends and relatives may not be relevant to the unique path of the couple involved. These situations create much hurt, anger and distrust, and those emotions must be healed if something new is to be created.

Often in life issues arise for which there are no easy answers. One of these is what to do if your spouse has an affair. There are those who would feel that the marriage vows have been broken, trust is gone, and it's all over. For others, though it is a major crisis, it does not necessarily mean the end of the marriage.

Which view is correct? It depends. Every situation is different, and many factors must be considered.

Let's imagine that a woman is faced with this dilemma. The first thing that this crisis might shock her into doing is making a realistic assessment of her marriage. As a couple, were they working on the marriage and their communication, or had they drifted apart, essentially leading separate lives? Was there a pattern of unresolved conflict over the years, that slowly ate away at the bonds that connected them? Was each partner able to be him/her true self in the marriage, or were significant aspects of one's personality suppressed?

The crisis of infidelity begins long before the actual act. This is not to say that it's okay to deal with relationship problems by becoming involved with someone else. It's much clearer to deal with those issues up front, and if they can't be resolved, to leave the relationship before finding someone else.

Infidelity is crushing to the one who trusted the partner, and never imagined this could happen. It is a crisis in the life of that person, and a personal crisis as he or she ques-

Oat Crumble Topping:
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 pinch salt
2 tablespoons plant-based butter
4 Toufayan Multi-Grain Pita Bread
Preheat oven to 350 F.

To make filling: In large saute pan over medium heat add apples, cinnamon, nutmeg, butter, white sugar, water and cornstarch. Cook apples down about 10 minutes until they begin to get gooey.

To make oat crumble topping: In medium bowl, mix flour, oats, brown sugar, cinnamon, orange juice and salt. Cut in butter and mix until crumbs begin to form.

Cut pitas in half and line baking sheet.

Fill one pita half with apple filling and lay on its side, being careful to not let apples fall out. Top with oat crumble. Repeat with remaining pitas.

Bake about 6 minutes. If desired, broil 1 minute for additional color.

Scott to be inducted into Volleyball Manitoba Hall of Fame

Staff

Volleyball Manitoba announced the names of five individuals and one team that will be inducted into the Volleyball Manitoba Hall of Fame.

Dustin Schneider, Lisa Barclay and Tabi Love are the three individuals who will enter the Volleyball Manitoba Hall of Fame in the Athlete category. Entering the Hall of Fame in the Builder category are long time contributors Kevin Neufeld and Rick Scott.

Scott, who grew up in Souris and Warren, coached at the high school level for 15 years, capturing an "A" title with the Glenboro Panthers, followed by four consecutive "AAAA" titles from 2004 to 2007 with the Lord Selkirk Royals.

He transitioned to the university ranks where his Dalhousie Tigers have dominated the Atlantic Conference, being named the National Coach of the Year in 2017.

The final inductee of the 2021 Class in the Team category is the 1992-1997 Goose Lake Raiders boys' varsity volleyball teams. Volleyball Manitoba and title sponsor Brugger Wealth Management will be hosting a stand-alone induction ceremony in Brandon on Nov. 27 beginning at 1 p.m. at the Victoria Inn & Suites to formally recognize and celebrate the outstanding achievements of these inductees.

A limited number of tickets will be available to purchase to attend the induction ceremony. All attendees will then be encouraged to attend the Brandon University Bobcats women's and men's volleyball matches later that evening at the Healthy Living Centre in Brandon where the inductees will be further recognized.

Thunder win first RMFL game of the season

By Brian Bowman

After a lopsided loss to the Southwest Sabres the week previous, the Interlake Thunder bounced back in a huge way to secure their first victory of the season.

Interlake scored 22 third-quarter points to defeat the Virden Golden Bears 36-22 in Rural Manitoba Football League action last Friday in Stonewall.

"It was, by far, the best that we've played all year," said Thunder head coach Mitch Obach. "Everything clicked into place finally and we've thought all season that we were getting better every week. We were having great practices and then we kind of had our first not great effort when we went to Souris the week before.

The guys rebounded perfectly and really worked hard this week."

After a scoreless first quarter, Virden led 8-7 at the half. The Thunder's Kaiden Kendel tossed a 30-yard touchdown pass to Dwight Bell.

The Thunder then took control in the third quarter.

"In the first half, we really felt that we controlled the game and we definitely controlled time of possession," Obach said. "We had chances to put more points on the board that we didn't get."

Interlake running back Lee LaPierre ripped off TD runs of 24 and 45 yards while Kendel scored on a 10-yard run.

Kendel then added a five-yard TD run in the fourth. He finished the game with 173 yards on 19 carries.

"Part of our game plan was to try to get (Kaiden) carrying the ball a bit more and he carried it a lot more than we thought we would but he really found his groove on the field," Obach said. "It's his first year ever playing football and playing the quarterback position is hard enough with lots of experience. This was the game where he figured out some of the stuff that he could do. He was effective and a leader on the field, too."

LaPierre had 12 carries for 153 yards while Lucas Kmet added 13 carries for 79 yards. The offensive line played a tremendous game, said Obach.

"It's clear to us that the strength of our team is our three (offensive) linemen," he said. "They are three guys on our offence with a ton of experience. They're a Grade 12 and two Grade 11s and they started when they were Grade 9s. I think we have as good an O-line as you're going to find in the league and probably one of the best lines that you're going to find in high school football in Manitoba. We really have to key on these guys to carry us. We have to run the ball and we have to use schemes that really maximize their effectiveness."

Defensively, the Thunder were led by Daemyn Bochoruka, who had 10 tackles and an interception.

Interlake (1-3) will host the Neepawa Tigers (3-1) this Friday in Stonewall. Kickoff is at 3:30 p.m.

U18 Lightning women drop pair of weekend games

Staff

The Interlake Lightning lost 7-0 to the Yellowhead Chiefs in Manitoba Female Hockey League U18 AAA action last Sunday in Stonewall.

Callie Maguire, Abigail McKinnon, Darbi Poole, Hannah Reagh, Dara Thompson, Trynity Turner and Kennedy Wood scored for the Chiefs.

Lightning goaltender Katelyn Dorsch stopped 44 Yellowhead shots. Dorsch was named the league's Goalie of the Week for the period ending Oct. 10 after her stellar 58-save performance against the Winnipeg Avros.

On Saturday, Interlake was defeated 5-2 by the Eastman Selects in Niverville.

Brooke Barylski and Brooke Wadge scored for the Lightning while Jaicee Huberdeau (two), Jenna Sellen (two) and Ginger Fast replied for the Selects.

Interlake goaltender Rachel Hall-derson made 42 saves.

The Lightning will play the Central Plains Capitals on Saturday (6:45 p.m.) in Portage la Prairie and then the Pembina Valley Hawks on Sunday (2:30 p.m.) in Morden.

Interlake's U18 AAA male team, meanwhile, will play the Southwest Cougars in Souris on Saturday (7:30 p.m.) and Sunday (1:30 p.m.).

Interlake will be really busy next week with four games in five days. The Lightning will host the Winnipeg Wild on Wednesday (8 p.m.) in Teulon and the two teams will hook up Friday (7 p.m.) at the Bell MTS Iceplex.

On Saturday at 7:30 p.m., Interlake will host the Wild before playing the Norman North Stars Sunday (1:30 p.m.). Both games will be played in Teulon.

Rams place third at Morris Mavericks hockey tournament

Staff

The Stonewall Collegiate Rams finished with a 2-1 record at the Morris Mavericks hockey tournament last weekend.

Stonewall defeated the Prairie Mountain/Notre Dame/Miami Mustangs 4-2 in the third-place game of the six-team tournament.

The Rams started the tournament with a dominating 7-0 win over the Mavericks.

Stonewall was then edged 2-1 by the Steinbach Regional Sabres.

The Rams opened their Winnipeg

High School Hockey League regular season with a 3-2 home loss to the Kelvin Clippers last Wednesday.

Kelvin's Kai Williamson scored the lone goal of the first period and then the Rams' Justin Hellegards and the Clippers' David Balshaw traded second-period goals.

Stonewall's Brody Stovin and Balshaw tallied in the third.

Macrae Gard took the loss in goal.

Stonewall will host the Sanford Sabres in Winnipeg Free Press West Division action on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

Jets blast Twins with strong third period

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets' offence woke up in the third against the Ft. Garry/Ft. Rouge Twins on Sunday.

After scoring just two goals in the previous five periods, Stonewall snapped a 2-2 third-period tie with five unanswered goals in a 7-2 road win in Manitoba Major Junior Hockey League action.

That offensive explosion was nice to see.

"We got the monkey off of some of the guys' backs," said Jets' head coach Brock Couch. "We were quite dominant against them and we probably could have filled the net a little more in the first two periods but our defensive game was a lot stronger."

Nick Finsson, Cody McMillan, Matthew Smith, Cole Emberly, Tyler Van Deynze, Jaxon Blight and Daniel Paschnickoff scored for the Jets.

It was nice to see balanced scoring, Couch agreed.

Lucas Degrave and Joe Courrier replied for the Twins.

Zach Meadows, who plays for the Interlake Lightning U18 AAA team, made 26 saves for the victory.

"Zach played incredibly," Couch said. "Him and Ty (Hogue) are really tall goalies so that's a positive for the upcoming years if they want to play some (MMJHL) hockey. I would be OK with that."

Stonewall started its first of five straight road games with a 5-0 loss to the Transcona Railer Express on Friday.

"Against Transcona on Friday, they're a solid team," Couch said. "We didn't have the deepest lineup as we could have with guys out with health issues and injuries for that game. They're definitely a defensively solid team. They kept us in our end. I don't know if it was that we didn't have our best game or were they that strong or was it a combination of the two. It felt like we barely had any quality chances."

Transcona, which held period leads of 1-0 and 4-0, received goals from Kyle Lamont, Jeremy Chateauf, Evan Chudley, Conner Grunsten and Jason Kotchon.

Liam Jardine, the Jets' No. 1 goalie, stopped 39 Railer Express shots.

The Jets, now 4-3-1, will visit the Raiders Jr. Hockey Club on Friday (7:30 p.m.) and the St. James Jr. Canucks Sunday (2:45 p.m.).

U17 Lightning edged by the Thrashers

Staff

The Interlake Lightning lost 7-6 to the Winnipeg Thrashers in U17 AAA action last Friday in Warren.

Winnipeg erased a 6-4 deficit with three unanswered goals late in the third period.

Hayden Kaczorowski led the Lightning with two goals while Brandon Byrak and Luke Sekundiak each had a goal and an assist.

Interlake's other goals were scored by Kohl Sigfusson and Austin Loew-en.

Cody Allen, Dawson Dear, Ian Lavallee, Kade Prud'homme, Branden Watson and Shay Woytowich scored for the Thrashers. The seventh Winnipeg goal scorer was not available.

Lightning goaltender Alex Myers made 20 saves.

Interlake will play the Winnipeg Wild on Thursday (7:35 p.m.) at the Bell MTS Iceplex before hosting the Eastman Selects (7:30 p.m.) Friday in Warren.

The U15 Lightning, meanwhile, were defeated 4-1 by the Winnipeg Wild Gold last Wednesday in Stonewall.

Dainen Jacobson scored the Lightning's lone goal early in the first period, assisted by Brody Slatcher.

Tegan Kurtz, Carter Shabaga, William Marceus and Jonah Vanderhorst replied for Winnipeg. Interlake will play the Winnipeg Bruins Black on Wednesday at the Notre Dame Arena. Game time is 8:45 p.m.

Wildcats spike the competition at a JV girls' volleyball tournament

Staff

The Warren Collegiate Wildcats had a very good showing at a junior varsity girls' mini tournament last Thursday in Teulon.

Warren finished a perfect 6-0 in sets with 2-0 wins over the Gimli Lakers (25-14, 25-19), Morweena Raptors (25-25-12, 25-8), and the Teulon Collegiate Saints "B" (25-14, 25-9).

Teulon's "B" team posted a 4-3 record in sets after beating Gimli 2-1 (23-25, 25-22, 15-12 and Morweena 2-0 (25-20, 25-12).

The Saints "A" squad was 5-3 in sets with a 2-0 (25-19, 25-22) victory over the Riverton Patriots and a 2-0 (21-25, 25-9, 15-11) win against the Arborg Athletics.

Teulon "A" suffered a 2-1 (4-25, 25-8, 12-15) loss to the Ashern Cobras.

Warren begins SEMHL regular season Friday in Portage

By Brian Bowman

It's been a very long time since the Warren Mercs have played a hockey game.

But they will get a chance this Friday when they begin their South Eastern Manitoba Hockey League regular season with a road game against the Portage Islanders.

"I would say that all of the guys are itching to get back," said Mercs' defenceman Chad Deprez on Monday afternoon. "We have an older team and I think a lot of guys were thinking of packing it in but everyone is sticking around until we can close (a championship) out because we've been robbed two years in a row. One with a goalie injury going into the finals and then the next year COVID hit. I would say everyone is here for one reason and that's to win."

The Mercs have high expectations heading into this season.

"We have pretty much the entire team back that we had had two years ago when we lost in the finals," Deprez said. "We have some additions from the Stonewall Jets, which is nice to have those guys coming up as well."

The Mercs are very deep up front at the forward position. Warren has four-plus solid lines that can play and be an offensive threat.

Some of the key forwards include Johnny Lazo, Kyle Luchinski, Brendan Luchinski, Trent Genyk and Brock Genyk.

On the blueline, the Mercs are also loaded with several talented players.

"On our back end, we have some really high-end guys. Travis Bobbee is going to be back again. Brendan Mitchell is back (and) he's a good shutdown defenceman. (We also have) Kyle Lundale. Our back end is strong as well. It gets weak around the sixth defenceman spot, which is me and that's where the team kind of falls off," Deprez joked.

In goal, Warren has Hayden Dola back and Jarrett Hogue.

"We're as strong as we've been in goal," Deprez said.

Warren's home opener is Oct. 29 when it hosts the Winkler Royals. Game time is 8 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Mercs are in desperate need for sponsors, said Deprez.

"COVID has really wiped out our bank account without being able to have any large-scale fundraisers," Deprez noted. "So, if anyone around town is looking to sponsor a hockey team, we're gladly taking any."

Anyone that would like to help sponsor the team can contact Deprez at chad.deprez@gmail.com.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

MISCELLANEOUS

Taken from A Medical Point of View by Professor V. Wright. "HURRY, WORRY, BURY" has been the epitaph suggested for many people in this world. The increasing number of people taking drugs, the rising incidents of stress-related diseases, the frequency of attempted suicides reflect sadly on our modern day society and do demand an answer. No doubt that a proper regard for the Lord's Day would help improve these problems. Speaking as a physician there are good reasons physically, mentally and spiritually why we should set aside the first day of the week as a special day unto the Lord. Visit our website www.clda.ca

Wasted Rain. lyrics Owen Smith©
Since you've gone nothing seems to do, seems to be o how can i carry on without you by my side and nothing ever will be the same and nothing can ever ease the pain
Teardrops fall wasted rain never grows a thing and never will love is now an empty heart but I knew from the start you were the one ... the only one
So I wander in the moments of my mind and I wander in and out of earthly time
o where have you gone seems like yesterday by my side you were so strong o if I'd only known you would depart
I would have lingered longer there
But you'll always have place in my heart where you and I will never ever part and you'll always have place in my heart
where you and I will never ever part

OBITUARY

Alice Joycelyn Morrison
Procter, (nee Millar)

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our dear mother, step-mother, grandmother, step-grandmother, great-grandmother, step-great grandmother, sister and friend to so many. Alice passed away October 4, 2021 at the Health Sciences Centre, with her daughter by her side.

Alice is survived by daughter Anita Procter (Randy Benson), grandchildren, Nicole Benson (Andrew), Bryce, Tiara and Taylor Benson; great grandson Elias. Step-daughter Beverley Brindley; and step-son Clifford (Judith) Morrison; step-grandchildren, Jackie (Doug), Valerie (Cory), Mary (Darren), Karen (Jeff), Jillian (Steve) and Carl (Shayla). Step great-grandchildren, Justine, Emily, Gavin, Breanna, Chaz, Sam, Alex, Jayden, Graeme, Myah, Adelyn, Emmett and Rowyn. By her siblings, Grace Appleyard, Ray Millar, Bob Millar and Bernice Johnson (Louis). Also by her special friend Marcel Brisebois and many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends too numerous to mention.

She was predeceased by her parents, James and Agnes Millar; daughter, Brenda Procter and son Donald Procter; her first husband and father of her children, Alvin Procter; her second husband, Allan Morrison; siblings, Olive Grandmont, Arla Campbell, Arnold and Angus Millar. Also by brother and sister in-laws and two nephews.

She was born June 25, 1941 at St. Boniface Hospital. She was raised on the family farm at Harperville, Mb. and attended Bluff Island School.

She married Dad, Alvin Procter, October 4, 1958 and together they raised their three children on the family farm in Woodlands, Mb. While still living on the farm, Dad started driving truck and she started working at Bristol Aerospace in the cafeteria. When Dad's work took him to Brandon, they moved there and it was there that Dad passed away in 1985.

She moved to Winnipeg and began working in the cafeteria at CKY. When they closed down, she went to work at Air Canada and worked there until she retired.

In 1989 she married Allan Morrison and resided in Stonewall, Mb. until 2005 when they bought a condo in Lockport, Mb. where she was still residing at the time of her passing.

Mom was a hard worker. While living on the farm, she helped with the field work, farm chores, and milking cows, gardening, canning, pickling, cooking and raising the children. When Dad got into trucking, she helped him packing and unpacking household things when he was moving people from place to place. She was known for her excellent packing. Whenever any of the family was moving, she showed them how it was to be done.

After she married Allan she quit work in Winnipeg and became a full time homemaker. But she never quit working. She still cooked, baked, gardened, canned, and pickled. It was then that she took up and enjoyed golfing with Allan. When they moved to Lockport, she developed the flower gardens and cared for them until just last year. She loved to travel and visit family and friends. They took many car trips to Alberta, BC, and all over Manitoba. They also went on bus tours to the east coast and through the US.

She was always ready and willing to help others and enjoyed socializing while doing so. She was a member of the Woodlands and Stonewall Legions and received a Certificate of Merit for 46 years of service to the Woodlands Ladies Auxiliary. She was a Rebekah of the Stonewall Lodge. She also served on the Condo Board where she lived in Lockport.

She loved country music and going to the Old Time Country dances. She and Allan never missed a dance where the Country Pride Band were playing. Later on, after Allan passed away in 2012 she started going to the dances again and made many new friends who became very dear to her. She enjoyed going to lunch with or just visiting them. She was very close to her family and they could always rely on her phone calls regularly. They always knew when the next dance would be, because she kept a dance calendar and would phone to remind them. It was at one of these dances that she met Marcel and they soon became dance partners. As time went on they became a couple. At the time of her passing, she was selling her condo and would be moving to Marcel's and start a new phase of her life.

The family would like to thank the Selkirk Paramedics and hospital staff at HSC for the care given to her.

Cremation has taken place and due to COVID restrictions there will be no Celebration of Life until a later date.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Heart and Stroke Foundation, 6 Donald St. Wpg. MB. R3L 0K6 and to Canadian Diabetes Assoc. 200-310 Broadway Ave. Wpg. MB. R3C 0S6

OBITUARY

Bonnie Jean Place

Peacefully Bonnie passed away from kidney disease at the age of 79 in her home, surrounded by all her loved ones on October 8th.

Bonnie was predeceased by her parents, Grace and Henry Jackson, in-laws Ruth and Ed Oakford and son-in-law Rick Good.

Left to cherish her memory are her three daughters: Kirsty, son-in-law Dan, Tannis and Jody, son-in-law Gerry; grandchildren: Sara, Jaime, Randi, Blain, Kaleb, Brooke and Rachel; great-grandchildren, Keenan, Kaycie and Maitilda; sister Lynn, brother-in-law Ken; nieces: Carrie Lynn (Glenn) and Lolly (Guido); great-nephews Zach (Donna, Vivian and Abbey) and Noah; and family friend Arlene Falk.

Bonnie was born on March 13th, 1942 and was raised in the small town of Stonewall, Manitoba. She spent her entire life in this community and loved being a small-town girl.

All through school she was a joiner and an organizer. Singing in all the talent shows, Girl Guides, Canadian Girls in Training, figure skating, choir, hockey... and curling. Her passion was too be social and have fun.... and that she did.

Bonnie continued being involved throughout her life. Music, dance, live theatre were Bonnie's passions. She belonged to the Quarry Choristers, entertainment committee for the 55 Plus, and organized numerous Rainbow Stage bus tours. She was the Queen Bee for her Red Hat group, the Quarry Quities, and planned an annual Hoot for the Red Hatters from all over Manitoba. Bonnie also loved to line dance and did that regularly for years. Bonnie had a gift, "to bring people together" whether it was long-time friends or in her community, she made it happen and it was always entertaining and fun! She made so many meaningful friendships throughout her lifetime, some friends going back 75 years.

Bonnie spent 23 years working for the Civil Service. Her work ethic was impeccable and she made quite the career for herself within the department of Education. Of course, she made so many wonderful friends through her career. Her co-workers always went to her for advice, especially when it came to decorating as she had such an eye for design.

Bonnie was the happiest when she was surrounded by her family, the love she had for them was infinite. She was an incredible mother, sister, aunt, grandma, great-grandma and friend. There are no goodbyes for us. Wherever you are, you will always be in our hearts.

You are my sunshine, my only sunshine
You make me happy when skies are grey
You'll never know dear, how much I love you
Please don't take my sunshine away

The family would like to send out a special thanks to Kenny Loehmer, Kathy Drury, Diane Gardarsdottir, Colleen Penner, Tracy Farmer, Bonnie Butler, Barbie Knapp, Doug and Lenore Oakford, Dr. Hicks, CO-OP Marketplace, Willow Grove Orchard, Aunty Bev and Bruce Jaspersen (Jaspersen's Nursery). Thank you to the community of Stonewall for your generosity. So many flowers, meals and support that we received for our family through this difficult time was greatly appreciated.

For those of you that were not able to make Bonnie's Celebration of Life on October 10th please go to the link below: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B0ycskW-v7g&authuser=1>

If you would like to make a donation in Bonnie's name, please make it to the Palliative Care Unit at the Stonewall Hospital.
