Rockwood elects Wes Taplin as reeve

By Jennifer McFee

The RM of Rockwood welcomes Wes Taplin as its new reeve.

Taplin edged ahead of the other candidates in last week's election with 809 votes (38.03%). He was followed by Mark Hidlebaugh with 783 votes (34.7%), Ila Buchanan with 560 votes (26.33%) and John Frig with 20 votes (0.94%).

"On the day of the election, I was just numb. I didn't know which way to turn. I had butterflies," Taplin said by phone from Golden, B.C.

"When I got the call at 9:40 p.m. that I had won, the faucet turned on. I was surrounded by my friends and family. It was kind of overwhelming, but I'm looking forward to the job at hand."

Taplin expressed gratitude for his supporters, and he is determined to advocate for the people he represents.

"I'm very glad that they put their faith in me and I won't let them down. By chance, if we happen to make a mistake, I will be the first to admit it and take responsibility. Myself and council will work to resolve it," he said.

Hinds elected mayor of Stonewall

By Jennifer McFee

It was a nail-biting wait for Stonewall's voters — and candidates — for the tally of the ballots in last week's municipal election.

In the end, Clive Hinds was elected mayor with 1,067 votes (52.98%), followed closely by Sandra Smith with 947 votes (47.02%).

The town's four elected councillors are Peter Bullivant with 1,264 votes (18.26%), Blair Good with 1,194 votes (17.25%), Walter Badger with 1,115 votes (16.11%) and Jackie Luellman with 1,054 votes (15.23%).

Three other council candidates ran in the election but were not elected: Jeff Levesque with 950 votes (13.72%), Trent Brownlee with 778 votes (11.24%) and Josh Haney with 567 votes (8.19%).

For Hinds, reality is beginning to set in that he is the town's new mayor.

"I'm just coming to the realities now that we're setting up schedules and making appointments," he said. "Last week, I had to pinch myself. Now, it's real."

Throughout the entire campaign period, Hinds was pleased to see how engaged Stonewall residents were in the process.

"This particular election really electrified the residents of Stonewall. It was a huge turnout. I was the first black person running in the town for mayor and Sandra was the first woman running for mayor, so it was huge. It brought out a lot of people who were passionate about their candidates that they were voting for, which made it interesting," Hinds said.

"One of the nicest things was to see the engagement of young kids. I was knocking on doors and finding so many kids interested. They had so much knowledge of the election. It was great."

Looking ahead, Hinds hopes to keep people engaged and informed.

"I always felt that the residents were a little bit disconnected from the running and the operations of the town council. I heard the comments as I door-knocked," he said.

"We have a great town and great facilities. Things are going good, but we have to get more information out to the residents and to the business community. My idea is to unify the town."

Armstrong makes history with first female Reeve Susan Smerchanski

By Patricia Barrett

The RM of Armstrong made history last week by electing its first-ever female reeve.

Susan Smerchanski, who served as councillor last term, received 442 votes (50.23 per cent) while incumbent reeve Jack Cruise received 438 votes (49.77 per cent).

Her successful bid for the top job makes it two firsts for Smerchanski. Over 20 years ago, she was the first woman designated a Parks supervisor in Manitoba.

During the campaign, Smerchanski said she spoke with people in every corner of the sweepingly large municipality, whose main industry is agriculture.

"From going out and talking to the people, I believe they thought it was time for a change," said Smerchanski after her win. "And I believe it's important to talk to the people, see what they want and include them in all conversations. Communication is key. I door-knocked and talked to so many people. Armstrong is a huge geographical area and I went from one end to the other."

Compared to neighbouring municipalities, Armstrong has a small population that's spread out across the landscape, and with virtually no major industry (other than farming), taxes are high. That was one of the major concerns Smerchanski said she heard from ratepayers. "So we have to do a better job at attracting industry and moving forward."

While Armstrong may lack industry that supports the tax base, its natural attractions rival those in better-known municipalities. The Narcisse Snake Dens, for instance, are world famous and other wildlife management areas, with their diverse flora and fauna, are a hiker's paradise. The RM encompasses part of the Shoal Lakes, which attracts birders. It also offers hunting grounds and recreational fishing on Norris Lake.

Smerchanski, who sits on the board of the Interlake Tourism Association, said she wants to focus on promoting the RM's assets.

"We've got to do a better job of tourism and bringing people into the RM. Tourism is a growing industry," she said. "I've been working on a couple of projects to enhance that, but it takes time. But tourism's spin-offs impact everybody, from stores to gas stations. Once everyone is aware of what we have, they'll come back."

As an environmentalist, Smerchanski said one of her major goals this term is to further the efforts the RM has already made in recycling and protecting the environment. Armstrong has two transfer stations and a waste-management facility in Meleb, which receives all the garbage.

"I found that people weren't recycling because it wasn't user-friendly. So we brought in a system that was more user-friendly with bins, et cetera, and we're getting different types of recyclables like batteries and household hazardous materials," she said. "But we can do a better job. I have a commitment to the environment: we have to preserve and protect it. It's a huge issue."

To that end, Smerchanski has been attending conferences hosted by the Manitoba Association of Regional Recyclers every year and was just elected to its board of directors.

She's also been very involved in emergency management, working with the province's Emergency Management Organization, and getting Armstrong's program up and running to deal with fires sparked by extremely dry conditions, floods and whatever else will be coming down the pipe with climate change. She's been working with emergency co-ordinators, such as Don Ames, who oversees a number of RMs, and community volunteers. But she wants to get more volunteers trained so that they're ready to hit the ground running.

"I'm very passionate about these issues and how we can make changes and move forward," she said. "We're doing some things [well], but we need to improve and do better for the citizens that live in Armstrong."

Smerchanski said her leadership style is inclusive, and she'll be tapping her councillors' unique areas of expertise and putting together a plan to move the RM forward.

"A good leader values everything that everyone brings to the table. Everybody's got different skills, different backgrounds, different levels of expertise," she said. "We need to meet and talk about what their interests are and work together and make a plan as a team. A leader is not the boss. A leader guides and helps, and uses everyone's skills and potential and listens to what their visions are."

Armstrong's newly elected council is composed of Ralph Hazelton (Ward 1; 76 votes), Paul Humeny (Ward 2; 57 votes), Ted Sumka (Ward 3; 147 votes), Adam Krochenski (Ward 4; 112 votes) and Allen Evanchyshin (Ward 5; 79 votes).

Cheryl Stark, Allen Pfrimmer, Carol Lavalley, Joe Stogrin, Roxy Goudy, Greg Fontaine, Ed Lewis, Tommy Kmet, Brent Dziadek and Danny Kaschyshyn campaigned for a seat on council.

To the Citizens of Teulon:

Serving on the Council and as Mayor of Teulon has been an honour and privilege.

On October 24th, a majority of those voters who cast ballots decided to take our community in a different direction; and I respect their decision.

The election process is an interesting one. In an instant, those who have worked for years in an elected capacity are free of that responsibility. In the same instant, those who have been making promises and proposing changes from an unelected vantage point are assigned the huge responsibility of delivering on those promises and proposals in a transparent and respectful manner. I therefore offer my sincere best wishes to our new Mayor, Debbie Fleury and the returning and new Councillors - Michael Ledarney, Danny Hutchinson, Rey Girardin and Barb Mankewich.

Regardless of who we voted for, it is important that we come together to support our new council as they work to collaborate as a new team.

I would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank my friend and Deputy Mayor for many years, the late Jim Dola. This community has suffered an enormous loss as a result of his passing. I know all of my fellow Teulon citizens join me in extending our deepest sympathies to Yvonne and the family.

Thank you to everyone who has supported me since 1998 and in this most recent campaign. I look forward to spending more time with many of you, along with my wife Kathy, our children and grandchildren.

Sincerely,
Bert Campbell

Smith elected for another term as St. Laurent reeve

Staff

It was a sweeping victory for Cheryl Smith, who has been elected as the reeve of the RM of St. Laurent for another term.

Smith earned 432 votes (52.11%), while Louise McKay brought in 223 votes (26.9%) and Earl Zotter with 174 votes (20.99%).

At large, councillors that have been voted in are Laurent Kerbrat with 433 votes (15.19%); Jerry Combet, 403 votes (14.14%); Frank Bruce, 368 votes (12.91%); and Phil Mathews, 292 votes (10.25%).

Kozyra elected first female mayor for Town of Teulon

By Natasha Tersigni

After 99 years and with just a small margin of 17 votes, Debbie Kozyra was elected the Town of Teulon's first female mayor on Oct. 24, defeating incumbent Mayor Bert Campbell.

The vote came down to the wire with Kozyra walking away with 287 votes (51.53 per cent) over Campbell's 270 votes (48.47 per cent).

While the election is behind her, Kozyra is looking towards the next four years. This historic win is not lost on the mayor-elect.

"I am very happy that the people have chosen me as their new mayor and I can move into a new era of being the first lady mayor in the Town of Teulon; I am very proud of that. I am proud of the people for supporting me and I really want to take this council to a new direction and move our community forward," said Kozyra, who added that while the vote was close, she does not feel pressure stepping into a position that was held by the previous mayor for 16 years.

"I have been involved with many organizations and sat on many boards where I have played an extremely large leadership role. I am taking all that experience plus what I have learned over the past 35 years in business into council. I have a pretty good idea what I am doing and I have the experience."

Kozyra previously served on council from 1992 to 1995 and unsuccessfully ran for mayor in 2010 against Campbell. While there are many issues Kozyra brought up during the campaign that she would like to address — including health care, the proposed new fire hall and Teulon council's relationship with the RM of Rockwood council — for the next three months, Kozyra and council will be focusing on collaborating as a team.

"Most of the work is going to be focused on getting

Just hours after polls closed in Teulon on Oct. 24, official results were posted that Debbie Kozyra was elected the new mayor of Teulon, edging out incumbent Teulon Mayor Bert Campbell by just 17 votes.

up to speed on where our town is currently. Aside from daily maintenance, I don't foresee any major decisions being made in the next couple of months. The focus will be on ensuring that council members are appointed to the right committees that best suit them and serve the town," said Kozyra, who added that a major project for next year will be the town's 100th anniversary celebrations.

"The last time I was on council was 25 years ago and that is when we planned the 75th anniversary celebrations. From that experience, I can say that this time will probably be twice as much work and I look forward to seeing what will develop with those plans."

Having served on council for 20 years, four as a councillor and 16 as mayor, Campbell was disappointed that he was not re-elected but told the Tribune that it does not negate the work he and his fellow council team were able to do together. With the tight vote, Campbell does not regret efforts made through campaigning, although looking back, he wished there was more of a focus on municipal issues.

"For the most part, I was happy with the campaign, but I wasn't happy with all the focus of the campaign being on health care. Health is never a responsibility of the municipality; however, we seem to get blamed for every single thing that went on with health," said Campbell, who added that he plans on staying involved in the community including sitting as a community representative on the Healthcare Sustainability Committee that was formed by council during his last term as mayor.

"I want to stay involved with the health committee because we are making amazing strides. By January, I think we will have the third doctor here and by next summer there is a good possibility there will be the fourth doctor."

Serving alongside Kozyra on the Teulon council for the next four years are acclaimed councillors Barb Mankewich, Rey Giaradin, Michael Ledarney and Danny Hutchinson. The first meeting for the new council will be held at Teulon Civic Centre on Nov. 6 beginning at 7 p.m. At that time, the mayor and councillors will be sworn into office.

Smee elected for another term as Rosser reeve

By Jennifer McFee

It was a sweeping victory for Frances Smee, who has been elected as the reeve of the RM of Rosser for another term.

Smee earned 298 votes (73.04%), while Donald Startuliak brought in 110 votes (26.96%).

In Ward 1, Ken Mulligan overtook the role as councillor by a margin of two votes. Mulligan earned 76 votes (50.67%) while incumbent Scott Corbett had 74 votes (49.33%).

In Ward 2, Lee Garfinkel was elected as councillor with 79 votes (65.29%), followed by Scott Beachell with 42 votes (34.71%).

Angela Emms was acclaimed in Ward 3 and Kelvin Stewart was acclaimed in Ward 4.

Royal Canadian Legion Branch 52 poppy campaign chairman Leonard Oracheski pins a poppy on newly elected Town of Stonewall Mayor Clive Hinds to kick off this year's poppy campaign.

The poppy is distributed by the legion's branches and the monies collected goes into branch poppy trust funds. These funds can only be used under strict guidelines set up by the Poppy and Remembrance Committee of Dominion Command to improve life for people in the communities where the money is raised. The poppies are intended to honour the more than 117,000 Canadians who have died in the service of their country throughout the world.

Since 1921, the poppy has stood as the symbol of remembrance, a visual pledge to never forget those Canadians who have fallen in war and military support operations. The poppy also stands internationally as a "symbol of collective reminiscence," as other countries have also adopted its image to honour those who have paid the ultimate sacrifice.

2018 Canadian Patient Safety Week - Do your meds get along?

Submitted by IERHA

Canadian Patient Safety Week (Oct. 28 to Nov. 2) is Canada's only national campaign to raise awareness of patient safety and related programs and initiatives.

This year's theme is medication safety with the hashtag #NotAllMedsGet-Along. It highlights the risks of multiple medications and encourages the public to work with their pharmacist, physician or nurse to regularly complete a medication review. It is also important to keep an up to date list of all your prescribed medications and over the counter supplements. Visit the Manitoba Institute for Patient Safety website for your free It's Safe to Ask Medication Card and other important patient safety resources.

For patients who require multiple medications or who are transitioning between treatments, safety can become a concern. Patients may be at risk of fragmented care, adverse drug reactions and medication errors. To be an active partner in health care, people need the right information to use medications safely.

Woodlands elects first female reeve

By Jennifer McFee

It was a tight race in Woodlands where only 35 votes separated the two candidates for reeve, and Lori Schellekens came out on top.

Schellekens earned 605 votes (51.49%), while Bill Fleury amassed 570 votes (48.51%).

"It was a nail-biter. Now I've got four years to give people a good reason to have faith in me," Schellekens said.

"I'm going to try to make things a little different around here. I'm hoping that we can get more businesses and more people here in the RM. That's what I really want to see."

Schellekens said that when she's passionate about something, she will stand behind it.

"I'm going to stand by what's best for the RM. I really want to see this RM start to shine again," she said.

"We need to sit down and get our team working together. We'll find our strengths and play off of those, and we'll take our weaknesses and make them better."

At the same time, she also lauds Fleury for running a good campaign.

"I'm glad that my opponent was able to run a nice, clean campaign," she said. "We had our moments, but it was still done with dignity and grace. I thank him for that."

It's history in the making for the RM of Woodlands, since Schellekens is the first female reeve.

"That's a pretty big feat in itself," she said. "I plan to deal with things with a straight head and get things done appropriately to our policy and procedure that's already in place."

She asks the residents of Woodlands to have faith in her while she learns the ropes.

"I've just jumped in the pool, so give me a little bit of time to get my feet wet. I've got pretty big shoes to fill but I'm going to try my hardest," she said.

"I might be a soft-hearted person, but I will stand for what's right. It doesn't matter where you live in this RM, I'm going to stand up for you."

Exchange students enjoy stay in Stonewall

By Jennifer McFee

Bienvenue au Manitoba!

Stonewall Collegiate Institute has welcomed two exchange students from Quebec who are now in the middle of their three-month stay in Manitoba.

Camille D'Amours of Montmagny and Cassandra Gagnon of Quebec City arrived in Manitoba on Sept. 8 and they will remain here until early December.

Through the Manitoba-Québec Exchange Program, the duo has been paired with students from Stonewall. Camille is staying with Chloé Morrison, while Cassandra is boarding with Chloe Hunter. All four of the 15-year-old girls are in Grade 10.

The visiting students are sharing daily life with their host families while also attending classes at SCI for an English immersion experience.

In February, the Stonewall participants will be reunited with their new friends when they travel to Quebec for a three-month stay.

At first, Cassandra said she felt a little shy but now she feels right at home — both with her host family and in the community.

"I like meeting new people and having new friends," she said. "Living in another province is really nice."

For Camille, she's enjoying spending time with her Manitoban homestay family.

"We're like friends but also like sisters, so it's more than friendship. All the students are nice with us too," she said. "I already feel that my English is improving, so that's really good. And I feel like when you are doing this, you learn a lot about yourself."

The experience is also a memorable one for the local students.

"I like having somebody to talk to all the time and to do stuff with," Chloé Morrison said. "And I'm looking forward to improving my French."

For Chloe Hunter, one of the best parts is enjoying so many outings together. The girls have embarked on adventures to Gimli, the zoo, The Forks and a Jets game, to name just a few.

"We do a lot more and go to all sorts of places," she said. "I also like having someone to talk with. It's really fun."

The Manitoba-Québec Exchange Program, sponsored by the provincial government, is offered to Grade 10 and 11 students enrolled in a French immersion program. Students in the English program with strong French skills can also apply.

"I think this is something that everyone should experience because it's so different," Cassandra said. "Learning another language and meeting new people is an amazing experience."

Losing hooks and fish are all part of the sport

By Arnie Weidl

Hello fellow fishers.

It was another one of those still, cool, cloudy fall days last week at Breezy Point where your voice carried forever, echoing off the damp, darkened trees.

I had left my car and was treading carefully along a slippery, muddy, narrow path toward two younger chaps who were riverbank fishing by some willow thickets.

One, slightly shorter than his friend, was dressed in heavy dark clothes that offset his fair complexion. His bright teeth beamed from a wide constant smile. His very light brown hair, tucked under a yellow toque, matched his short beard and moustache. He moved quickly with a jerking gait, speaking in short phrases. His buddy, on the other hand, moved his more full athletic body slowly. His full round cheeks and accommodating smile gave the air of a trusting friend. His low voice was measured and thoughtful.

"Well, it looks like you caught at least one fish," I began, opening a conversation with them as I noticed a "two hands long" pickerel on a string in the shallow riverbank water.

Our voices mixed, rebounding from the trees and tall grasses around us as our new fair-haired friend offered, "I'm Ian Kuby from Stonewall and my buddy is Devon Pelletier from Winni-

"You guys like it here?" I asked.

"I do," Devon responded. "It wasn't that long ago that I was fishing here with some other friends and one of them, whose co-ordination isn't that great, got his lure caught up in that big ash tree over there during his back swing as he tried to cast out into the river. See that large main broken branch?" Devon asked, pointing to an injured limb showing its inner white wood. "Bad co-ordination isn't my pals's only problem," he continued. "He also has no sense of danger! He climbed out onto that branch, hanging upside down high in the air after his lure. A sickening cracking sound of the breaking branch, coupled with my friend's screams, stopped suddenly when the branch followed him onto the soupy river mud with a resounding 'splat'!

"Bad luck persisted as his lure sprang free of the branch as it hit slimy mud. My friend lay there on his back, half-buried in crud with the branch on top of him, while the illusive lure flew glistening in the air plopping into the water only inches from his outstretched hand!"

We stood together, the mud squishing under our shoes. Our raucous laughter reverberated around us.

Then Devon coaxed Ian, "Tell about the pelican that couldn't fly!"

"Oh yeah." Ian fought to contain his laughter. "I and my uncle Boris were boat fishing at Riverton on the river a while back and I caught a huge pickerel as long as my forearm. I strung it and put it in the water overboard. Then we decided to move to another spot. I cranked up my little outboard and away we went upstream.

"After a bit, we stopped and threw out the anchor, and within few minutes I caught another eating-sized pickerel. I went to haul up my string to add my new catch, and to my surprise, found myself holding a string with nothing on the end but dripping

"Uncle and I looked downstream where we had been and could just see the white underbelly of my fish bobbing on top of the water. We turned the boat to go get it when a pelican came out of nowhere, swooping down and scooped up my fish. Then it nosed over into the water.

"The pickerel was so big, it hung way over the side of the pelican's pouch, stopping it from taking off. Uncle and I sat in the boat watching in wonder as the great white creature flopped around in circles, its wings splashing the water as it tried mightily to take flight. It was no use. Finally, unwittingly, the current took the bird to shore where it gained its feet. As I and my uncle left trolling upstream, the persistent pelican could be seen still trying to swallow the enormous fish!"

I was at Pine Falls lately around 3:30 just when seemingly all the Winnipeg River boating anglers were coming in after a day of fishing. I stood on the pier watching dozens of boat owners idling their crafts in the water, getting more and more upset with those loading their boats. I was taking the picture of Ledy Pau with one of her catch when I heard someone ask why don't they have a "marshall" here to control boat loading like at golf courses where a marshall keeps golfers moving along. I thought to myself, sure, but who's going to be responsible for paying the marshall?

Till next week gang. Bye now.

Fifth annual Meadow Lea fall supper and old time dance

By Don Adamko

On Oct. 21, 137 supporters of Project New Hope Canada came out and enjoyed an afternoon of dancing to the Country Pride Band followed by a delicious turkey and meatballs fall supper with all the trimmings.

The Warren Herizons Club and Joyce Aquin made numerous mouth-watering pies and desserts for the event. This event was a fundraiser in support of the Spousal Resiliency Training Retreats for Spouses of Veterans with PTSD. This retreat is held annually in September in Russell for spouses from North Western Ontario, Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan. It's estimated that this fall supper and dance, which included a silent auction and other draws, cleared approximately $2,500 for the retreat.

A big thank you to our sponsors who provided food and grocery vouchers towards the meal as well as silent auction items: Birchwood Lexus, Stonewall Family Foods, Morden's Candy, True North Enterprises (Moose), Kub Bakery, Marquette Coop, Joey's Only Portage Ave, Save-on Foods St. James, Portage Ave. Safeway, Superstores on Portage, St. James & McPhillips, Teulon Potato Farm, Manitoba Liquor and Lotteries and McPhillips Animal Hospital. Also a sincere thank you to all the volunteers who worked long hours getting the food ready and all of our guests who contributed generously in all of the activities.

Our fundraiser events will start again in the early summer with the fun golf tournament scheduled for Friday, June 14 at the CFB Winnipeg GC followed by the Teulon Motorcycle Enthusiasts Rally in July and the fall supper and dance in October. ## CANNABIS CAN HARM YOUR BABY.

Don't use cannabis if you are pregnant or trying to become pregnant.

Heavy cannabis users, particularly those who also use tobacco, have a greater risk of having a premature baby.

These babies may also:

- Have a lower birth weight
- Experience lower alertness
- Grow at a slower rate
- Demonstrate memory and attentiveness problems as they get older

Morning Sickness

Don't use cannabis to treat symptoms of morning sickness. There are better, safer ways to deal with it. Talk to your health care provider and find out what option is best for you.

Breastfeeding

The THC in cannabis passes into breast milk and can enter into your baby's brain and fat cells. Mothers' cannabis use has been associated with a range of impacts on their babies, including sleep disturbance and poorer school performance later on.

> ROSSER COUNCIL, FROM PG. 9

At the Oct. 9 meeting, council passed third reading of a bylaw to authorize the expenditure and borrowing of money to construct a wastewater collection system and water distribution system to service the developed portion of the Rosser CentrePort Phase 1 Stage 1A area, including feeder mains from the inter-section of Klimpke Road and Farmer Road and from the feeder main under Canada CentrePort Way, as well as a low-pressure sewer connection to the City of Winnipeg wastewater lines at Brookside and Inkster boulevards.

The total project cost is budgeted at a maximum of $22,156,882. The RM has $5.2 million in anticipated funding sources, so the municipality has the authority to borrow up to $16,956,882. Once the tenders are in, the price of the project might be less, which would result in the RM borrowing less money.

Coun. Lee Garfinkel voted against the resolution.

Candlelight service pays tribute to local soldiers

By Natasha Tersigni

During the First and Second World Wars, the young men from Stonewall and surrounding areas answered the call to fight for their country and never returned home.

England, France, Belgium, Germany, The Netherlands, Italy, India, Algeria, Burma, Sri Lanka, Hong Kong, Russia and Japan are where 175 soldiers from Stonewall are laid to rest. While their names are printed on Stonewall's Cenotaph, the Stonewall Municipal Heritage Committee wants to ensure that the men's courage and sacrifice in service of their nation are not forgotten.

To remember the 175 local men that made the ultimate sacrifice for their country, a Candlelight Service of Remembrance hosted by the Stonewall Municipal Heritage Committee was held Oct. 26 at Stonewall's Quarry Park Heritage Arts Centre.

The annual service began three years ago when the heritage committee began researching local soldiers that fought in the world wars. Having learned about them, they become more than just a name on the cenotaph and the committee wanted a way to ensure that their legacy lived on.

"As we learned more about these men, our understanding and appreciation of their sacrifices grew and they became to us much more than just names on a plaque; they became 'our' boys, Stonewall's boys and Rockwood's boys. Our boys are the men who stepped forward when our nation called. They were farmers, quarry workers, labourers, mechanics, clerks and students. They were sons, husband, fathers, brothers, neighbours and friends," said Quarry Park manager and service organizer Catherine Precourt.

"They loved and were loved and for those they loved and the country they loved they became soldiers, sailors, and airmen. They fought and died and now they rest in places far from home."

During the service members of Stonewall's Alan McLeod 301 Royal Canadian Air Cadet Squadron read out all 175 names of the soldiers and a candle for each man was placed in their remembrance.

Following the service, guests were invited to the official opening of the heritage committee's Stonewall Remembers exhibit: "1918: A War to End All Wars." The exhibit, located in the arts centre until Nov. 30, explores the story of what occurred in Stonewall and on the front lines during 1918, the end of the First World War.

Guests were invited to place a candle in remembrance of a Stonewall soldier who died during the First or Second World War.

Four ways to protect your windshield in winter

Want to protect your windshield against the season's hazards? Then be sure to adhere to these four easy guidelines.

1. Defrost windows the right way

Sudden temperature changes weaken your windshield and make it more susceptible to cracking. For this reason, never pour hot water on your windshield during winter. Instead, defrost using the vehicle's heating system. If you want to speed up the process, consider purchasing a block heater. This device has the additional advantage of providing extra warmth to your vehicle — including the windshield — when it's off.

2. Upgrade your windshield wipers

As your windshield is more fragile during winter, worn out or damaged windshield wipers can scratch the glass. Make sure you have high-quality wipers. Also, take care to clean them regularly and confirm that they're properly placed.

If you're purchasing new wipers, consider getting a model designed specifically for winter, made with material ice doesn't stick to. Otherwise, you can prevent ice buildup by putting a newspaper or a thin piece of cardboard between the wipers and the windshield.

3. Drive defensively

The best way to protect your windshield when you're behind the wheel is to cruise at a safe distance from other vehicles. In winter especially, you don't want to have rocks and other road debris flying towards your windshield.

4. Get cracks repaired right away

If despite taking these precautions you get a crack or chip in your windshield, get it fixed as soon as possible. Cracks tend to expand, leading to costlier repairs.

Five winter braking safety tips

Due to the snow, ice and black ice that can accumulate on frosty roads, braking during winter is nothing less than an art: master it by following these five steps.

1. Keep a safe distance

When the road is snowy, slick or icy, your tires can't grip as well and more time and distance is needed to stop. Always stay a safe distance behind the vehicle in front of you when driving in such conditions.

2. Decrease your speed

Drive at a speed that permits you to safely turn, change lanes, brake and react to hazards.

3. Avoid sudden actions

Suddenly accelerating, braking or turning in winter can cause your vehicle to skid. When you're approaching a stop sign or a turn, brake early and gently. Only speed up gradually.

4. Adjust your braking method

If you don't have an anti-lock braking system, you'll need to press more gently on the brake pedal when the road is slippery. If your wheels begin to lock, regain control by pumping your brakes (applying and releasing pressure on the pedal). Slamming your foot on the brake pedal will only make matters worse.

If you do have anti-lock brakes, simply keep your foot on the pedal until your vehicle has come to a stop, even if you feel vibrations. Only use the handbrake if necessary; this action can make matters worse by causing your car to spin.

5. Look after your brakes

Get your brakes regularly inspected, maintained and — if need be — repaired by a mechanic.

New play group starts in Stonewall

By Jennifer McFee

Mamas and their wee ones now have a new play group to attend in Stonewall.

Organized by Jessica Nunn and Kelsey Dingwall, the group plans to meet twice per month at the Parochial Hall.

"We had our first one last week, and there were at least 20 kids," said Nunn, a mom of a four-month-old and a three-and-a-half-year old. "Everyone seemed to really like it."

Based on the success of the first event, they are planning to continue to organize the outings. They're charging $5 per group to attend.

"So if you have three kids, it's just $5 to help cover our rental cost. We also provide a snack and craft for everyone," Nunn said. "It's basically for any moms at home with little ones during the day. I have sisters and family in the city, and they're actually going to come out to one in November."

The next hour-long events are planned for Tuesday, Nov. 6 and Tuesday, Nov. 20 from 10 to 11 a.m.

"It's pretty laid back, so if kids want to do a craft, they do a craft. If they want to have a snack, they have snack," Nunn said. "There's no set schedule so whatever the kids want to do, they do."

While the moms and kids get to enjoy each other's company, they are also banding together to support a good cause.

"For our two sessions in November, we're asking if anyone could bring canned or dry goods, and we'll donate it to the local food bank," Nunn said.

The organizers have started a Facebook group called "mom + me play group - Stonewall." They will be posting updates on this page, and they ask people to contact them through this page to let them know if they'll be coming to events. That way, they can plan properly for the snacks and crafts.

"We used to attend the free programs put on by the Interlake School Division, and when they were cancelled, that's what put the fire under us to start our own," Nunn said.

"We are so excited to be starting this up for parents and kids in our community."

As part of its Strategic Plan in Jan of 2018 the Town Council of the day acknowledged that the health of the Town depended on the vibrancy of the businesses and the commercial core of the community. Improved communication was identified as a key to determining what could or should be done to help business grow and thrive in Stonewall. Working with Community Futures East Interlake and the Stonewall Chamber of Commerce a Business Retention and Expansion survey was created. On October 11th an information evening was held launching the survey and encouraging businesses to complete it.

If you operate a business in Stonewall and are interested in providing the Town with feedback on what would help you to succeed please go to <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/StonewallBusiness> or the Town of Stonewall website and type "survey" into the search bar.

Your Home & Garden

How to prevent window condensation

Are your windows often fogged up in the winter? In addition to blocking your view of the outdoors, condensation reduces the amount of sunlight that comes into your home. The result? You have to heat and light up your space more. Hello, epic energy bills! Furthermore, condensation can damage window frames and cause numerous problems such as rust and mould.

How can this be remedied? To reduce or eliminate your condensation problems, make sure that the ventilation in your kitchen and bathroom is as efficient as possible. You can also maximize air circulation by opening your blinds or curtains as often as possible. Try to maintain your indoor humidity levels at around 35 to 50 per cent. Don't forget that some habits, like hanging wet clothes in the house to dry, can contribute to higher humidity levels.

Finally, if your windows are old, the best solution is to replace them with new ones.

Local author's book A World Worth Imagining is well worth reading

Sue Holloway's book receives great review.

By Michael Sobota

South Gillies author Sue Holloway has created a modern fairy tale in her new book A World Worth Imagining.

But it doesn't have any fairies in it. Told from the point of view of a very real girl living in a small village. It might even be South Gillies — it references what her elders called "the old world" in comparison to the one she lives in.

Entrepreneur and educator Holloway runs the Forest School, an alternative-learning centre in South Gillies, Ont., and grew up in Stonewall.

Her story is set in the near future, the one the young girl is describing.

The old world is the one we are living in now. Holloway has an elder describe it as "a time when people were driven by fear and self-interest." It's a time when the wisdom of the trees and lands could no longer be heard and when the earth was sick from the ways of the people. Yeah, that pretty much describes our modern society with large open pit mines, clear-cut forests, ribbons of rail, asphalt and concrete spanning the country and lot so paving paradise to add more parking lots.

Town of Stonewall asking businesses for feedback on needs

By Patricia Barrett

The Town of Stonewall, in conjunction with its local chamber of commerce and Community Futures East Interlake, is conducting a business survey to help it understand how to assist businesses and help strengthen the local economy.

The objectives of the survey include setting priorities for long-range business retention and expansion efforts, creating awareness of programs and services and demonstrating an appreciation of local businesses. Its preamble states that it's important to attract new employers and encourage people to start new businesses as the well being of residents depends on a healthy, growing economy.

One aspect of the Town's strategic plan focuses on engaging its business owners, and it has partnered with the chamber of commerce to figure out how to better them. The survey is one means through which the Town can better understand the diversity of needs in its business community.

"Basically it's a survey of local businesses to determine what they need and where they are in terms of their operation," said the Town's CAO Wally Melnyk. "We want to, as a municipality and chamber, try to figure out how we can help them better so that they can flourish and thrive. One of the things that was decided was that we needed to get a baseline of where everybody's at, what are the issues and how can we work towards resolving issues."

Melnyk said a few surveys have been completed thus far, but the Town and chamber are trying to raise more awareness of the survey. They held an information session a few weeks ago and will be stepping up efforts in the coming weeks.

"We had a really good turnout for our event that night," said Melnyk. "I would say we had probably close to 50 or 60 people representing probably 30 or 40 businesses in the room. From my perspective it's a good thing when you can have that many people come out and talk about a survey."

Community Future is providing the technical assistance for the survey, which is available online through the Town's website. The survey can be found under the link that leads to information about Community Futures. Alternatively, people can use the search box feature and type in the word survey.

Survey responses are confidential and business owners don't have to answer questions they feel uncomfortable answering or are irrelevant to them.

The findings will be compiled into a report and shared with participating businesses.

"We're hoping the results will be compiled towards the latter part of November or early December," said Melnyk. "And then we'll see whether we can release them before or after Christmas, depending on schedules."

> HOLLOWAY, FROM PG. 16

In Holloway's narrative, when earth's conditions worsened, a tipping point was reached, and change began to occur. And that change came about not through the vision of elected leaders or appointed religious ones, but the foresight and courage of young people. The bulk of this story describes the beauty that now exists having transitioned out of the old world into the new one. And the girl, in her reflections, considers how this stable and beautiful world might continue Holloway offers hope.

While the book is lavishly illustrated by English artist Amanda Clark, the book is not really a children's book. While it has a message for children, and adults too, the narrative has complex concepts and sentence structure. It would best be read by parents and then read aloud by them to young children.

Amanda Clark's full page, full colour illustrations are indeed the stuff of an imagined fairy tale. She fills illustrations of the new, natural world with beautiful animals, trees, birds and butterflies.

The book is gorgeous to look at. Simultaneously, both Holloway and Clark take care to envision this world realistically, with old and young generations mingling together, gardening, walking and pregnant women are shown. In what fairy tale have you seen the princess actually pregnant?

This is a lovely, earnest, hopeful book highly recommended by Thunder Bay based writer Michael Sobota.

The book can be purchased for $22 (taxes included) from Sue's mom Lenore at 204-467-8278.

Simplistic Approach

In order to do this, we must focus on our own responses and behaviors, not on those of the other person. If we are waiting for another to be kind to us first, or to be a different kind of person before we are willing to move into a place of greater integrity, all forward movement is halted. The situations simply stagnates, deteriorates or escalates. We have no control over what others say or do. What we can control is our reaction to the external world.

When we take offence to something, we are creating a polarity. It is so much healthier not to take offence when it is offered (consciously or inadvertently)...but to simply pass on it. If it helps, think of offensive behavior as a cow pie. You do not need to step into it, examine it, or immerse yourself in it. You just need to ignore it and move on.

Loving kindness begets loving kindness. This sounds very simplistic, yet it reflects a very deep and profound truth. Of course, the opposite is also true; unkind, cruel, judgmental, or critical behavior generally begets the same. So, there are two ways to increase the amount of positive energy in all of our relationships.

The first way is to put out more loving kindness in our thoughts, words and deeds. The second way is to not respond with more negativity when someone is negative towards us.

This takes a great deal of maturity and a strong commitment to personal evolution. We can think of difficult situations or relationships as great opportunities to practice our skills and raise consciousness.

Time for satellite watching

With darkness falling early in the evening this time of year there is more time to enjoy another favourite pastime for many observers. That is to go outside and look for those objects drifting slowly across the background of stars in the night sky.

The objects I am referring to are artificial satellites in orbit around the Earth. (The Moon is classed as a natural satellite.) Since the launch of the first artificial satellite Sputnik 1 by the Soviet Union on Oct. 4, 1957, there have been thousands of satellites sent into orbit to do a variety of tasks. This includes weather observation (the GOES satellites that Environment Canada uses to observe cloud patterns), communications (IRIDIUM satellite system), research facilities (International Space Station) and specialty satellites (Hubble Space Telescope, military satellites, etc.). Still in orbit are 3,700 satellites, operative and inoperative. Along with these satellites are around 21,000 pieces of orbital debris such as nose-cone shrouds, hatch covers, spent rocket parts, payloads that have disintegrated or exploded and even objects that have escaped from manned spacecraft during operations and maintenance procedures. An estimated 670,000 pieces from one to 10 centimeters along with over 170 million pieces of debris smaller than a centimeter debris are spinning around Earth at this time as well.

Some of these satellites are easily visible to the unaided eye against the dark nighttime sky at the right times. For a satellite to be visible in the night sky, it must be illuminated by sunlight, usually at an altitude of 300 to 800 kilometres, while the observer on the Earth is in darkness. The higher the altitude the closer to midnight you can spot them. In fact, during midsummer you can watch satellites dian Society for Hospital Pharmacists have collaborated to develop a set of five questions to help patients and caregivers start a conversation about medications to improve communications with health care providers.

What are these 5 questions?

1. Changes? Have any medications been added, stopped or changed, and why?
2. Continue? What medications do I need to keep taking and why?
3. Proper use? How do I take my medications, for how long?
4. Monitor? How will I know if my medication is working, and what side effects do I watch for?

cruise overhead all night long. Some would maintain their brightness as they crossed the night sky while others would appear to fade and brighten regularly as they tumbled in their orbit around the Earth.

The two most popular satellites observed are the International Space Station (ISS) and the IRIDIUM satellites. The ISS appears as a very bright star-like object moving slowly (about six minutes during an overhead pass) across the night sky. I have always had an interest in the ISS knowing that when I see it there are usually six people aboard it moving at about 27,600 km/hr at an altitude of around 405 km. At that velocity and altitude the astronauts circle the Earth every 91.5 minutes and experience 16 sunrises and sunsets each day. The IRIDIUM satellites will appear as a brief bright flare (called IRIDIUM flares) against the night sky background at specific times when their shiny surfaces reflect sunlight directly towards the Earth below. These flashes are very brief, lasting about 20 seconds. A very popular website www.heavens-above.com can be used to predict when IRIDIUM flares, the ISS and a number of other satellites can be seen. (Remember to enter your location into the website for the satellite prediction calculations.)

Unfortunately these first generation IRIDIUM satellites (called Block 1) are aging and are being decommissioned, de-orbited and will burn up on re-entry. These satellites are responsible for the flares. The replacement satellites (called Iridium NEXT), now being placed into orbit, will not have the ability to produce flares. Over the next few of months there will be no more predictable flares. Take the opportunity now to observe these flashes before they become history.

A few hundred satellites are bright

5. Follow up? Do I need any tests and when do I book my next visit?

It may be particularly helpful for patients to ask these questions at points of transitions of care such as doctor's appointments, consultations with pharmacists, discharge from a hospital or visits from home-care services. Remember that not all medications "get along" and to make sure to always ask these five questions whenever seeing a care provider or pharmacist. For more information and resources, visit the Canadian Patient Safety Institute website.

Canadian Patient Safety Week is relevant to everyone who engages with our healthcare system. Working together, thousands help spread the message to Ask. Listen. Talk.

enough to be seen with the unaided eye, but on any given night, most either are not above the horizon or passing overhead at night when they are not illuminated by sunlight.

Interpreting the Signs...

You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky, but why do you not know how to interpret the present time? (Luke 12:54-59)

These words spoken by Jesus were meant initially, of course, for the people of his day, who were confused by who Jesus was and the claim that he might be the messiah. We look back and say that they really should not have been so blind as all the signs were there, the promised one was in their midst and they could not see him.

The fact is that even as believers we can very easily miss the most obvious signs of the Lord's presence in our midst. Sometimes it can be that our senses are so finely tuned to the world in which we live and have forgotten or ignored to recognize God's grace working around us and among us. It could be as simple as not noticing how God is asking us to reach out to the lonely or troubled people we run into every day. Responding to the simple inspiration to listen to someone actually tell us how they are doing or even noticing how their response and body language do not match and so we ask again if everything is OK.

It is true, we are all busy and seem to only have time to respond to what is most immediate in life, but I don't think is always because of a lack of time that we miss God breaking into our lives. I believe that it has to do more with training ourselves to more familiar with the language of God. I personally learned years ago that we should not expect to hear the voice of God in the business of life if we have not first learned to know God voice in personal prayer. Part of prayer is becoming so familiar with God that we recognize his presence in everything else we do.

If God seems to be absent or distant in your life, take the time to sit down quietly with your old friend and reacquaint yourself. Before you know it, you will be hearing God's voice everywhere.

Midget Lightning play well in weekend split

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Lightning played some real good hockey last weekend.

Interlake earned a split in its two games after edging the Central Plains Capitals 2-1 in a shootout on Sunday in Teulon.

Interlake's Emmitt Farebrother scored the lone goal in the shootout.

The Lightning's Cody McMillan tied the score at 1-1 midway in the third period with the assists going to Austin Adair and William Faraci.

Central Plains' Stephen Grahn gave the visitors a 1-0 lead at 11:06 of the second period.

Former Lightning forwards Evan Palmer (Grosse Isle) and Marcus Dewey (Oak Bluff) now play for Central Plains.

Josh Bond made 49 saves for the well-deserved victory.

On Friday, the Lightning lost 4-2 to the fifth-place Bruins in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg's Patrick Comeau scored the lone goal of the first period and then he put the Bruins up 2-0 with a tally at the 5:13 mark of the second period.

Farebrother responded with a goal late in the period and then the Lightning's Chase Barkley scored on a penalty shot at 4:44 of the third to tie the score at 2-2.

Lightning goaltender Josh Bond makes a nice save against Central Plains.

But the Bruins closed out the win with goals from Nathanael Hinds and Comeau. Comeau's third goal of the game was a shorthanded marker at 19:13.

Lightning netminder Chris Fines made 34 saves.

Interlake, now 2-7-0-1, will play at the Eastman Selects on Wednesday and then will host a pair of games this

Warren wins SEMHL home opener

By Brian Bowman

Over the years, the Warren Mercs and Morden Redskins have had a lot of great battles.

They had another one last Saturday evening in Warren.

The Mercs started off their South Eastern Manitoba Hockey League regular season on a winning note after downing the Redskins 3-1.

After a scoreless opening period, Brayden MacDonald gave the Mercs a 1-0 lead midway in the second. Brenden Luschinski made it 2-0 with a shorthanded marker at 6:44 of the third before Morden's Jay Fehr struck on the power play at 14:30.

The Mercs' Alden Gray then sealed the win with an empty-net goal with 35 seconds remaining in regulation time.

Warren's Johnny Lazo finished the game with two assists.

Former Selkirk Steeler Hayden Dola made 16 saves for the win. His counterpart, Morgan Wall, was forced to make 40 stops.

In the only other SEMHL game last weekend, Notre Dame beat Winkler 8-3 on Sunday.

Warren will visit Morden this Thursday and then will play Notre Dame on Saturday in Ste. Claude.

Puck drop for both games is 8 p.m.

The Mercs' Brenden Luschinski scored for Warren in their 3-1 win against the Morden Redskins last Saturday.

Jets drop pair of MMJHL weekend games

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets played a pair of tightly-contested games last weekend.

But, unfortunately, they were only able to pick up one out of a possible four points.

Sunday evening saw the first-place Raiders Jr. Hockey Club defeat the Jets 5-4 in overtime in Manitoba Major Junior Hockey League action in Stonewall.

Gord Longbottom scored his second goal of the game in OT for the game winner.

He had tied the score at 4-4 with a power-play goal at 14:21 of the third period.

Jordan Kreml, Elisha Bambridge, and Conner Grunsten also scored for the Raiders.

Aiken Chop (two), Chance Dickenson and Sam Mandryk replied for Stonewall.

Jets' goaltender Curtis Beck made 28 saves.

On Friday, the Jets lost 5-3 to the Ft. Garry/Ft. Rouge Twins in Stonewall.

Cole Doherty and Ben Orris scored first-period goals to give the Twins a 2-0 lead.

The visitors then went up 4-0 early in the second on goals by Tyler Slobogian and Seth Nicholls.

Bryce Stovin put the Jets on the board at 8:04 of the middle frame with a power-play marker.

Stonewall pulled to within a goal midway in the third as Sam Mandryk scored a shorthanded goal and then Carson Ouellette tallied at even strength just 1:03 later.

But the Twins put the game away when Brandon Marques scored at the 18-minute mark.

Adam Swan made 35 saves in the loss.

Stonewall's next game is Friday when it hosts the St. Boniface Riels (7:30 p.m.).

The Jets, now 2-4-2, will continue their homestand with a game Sunday at 8 p.m. against the Charleswood Hawks.

Wildcats' boys' volleyball teams finding success on the court

By Brian Bowman

While the Warren Collegiate's varsity girls' volleyball team has been stealing the headlines this year with their six straight tournament wins, the Wildcats have also had plenty of success with their boys' squads.

Warren's junior varsity boys are improving on a weekly basis.

"The JV team has really come a long way this year," said Mark Hnatuk, who coaches both the Wildcats junior varsity and varsity teams. "They are having a good time on the floor and this is helping them stay positive and allowing them to be successful."

Warren's junior varsity squad finished very high at a Brandon University tournament earlier this season, losing the consolation final in three sets. The Wildcats then went on to finish second to the No.1-ranked junior varsity boys' team at a Carman tournament.

Hnatuk has really liked what he has seen from this JV team this season.

"The boys are starting to really gel and each guy has a role to play and they support and take care of each other in doing that."

The junior varsity Wildcats have a pretty good shot of winning the Zone 5 title and advancing to provincials.

"Having lost to the No. 1 team, and not by much, I think we can compete at the JV provincials," Hnatuk said confidently. "But we have to get there first and I don't know how the other teams in Zone 5 have been doing."

"But, in the past, they have been very competitive so it will be a battle to get there."

Warren's varsity boys' team, meanwhile, is also doing very well and was the top "AA" team in last week's MHSAA's top-10 rankings.

"We have two returning players from last year and these two have been leading the team with some new players who are filling in that void and doing very well," Hnatuk said.

"With the help of the whole team, and even the bench players who are playing some important roles, we have been playing very consistently and this has helped us compete in the tournaments we have been playing in."

Warren's varsity squad will compete at a West Kildonan tournament this Friday and Saturday.

Hnatuk has seen massive improvement with both of his volleyball teams this season.

He has also seen some stellar play from individuals.

"Gerrit Boonstra, a Grade 10, has learned to play middle on the JV team this year and has impressed me so much that I have him starting at middle with the varsity team," Hnatuk noted.

"This is just one example of some JVs, and even varsity players, who last year didn't play much but have really bought into their role and, because of this, they are doing exactly what we need them to do when we need them to do it."

The Wildcats' varsity team has been led by a pair of key players.

Asa France, the Wildcats' starting setter the past three seasons, runs the court.

"I would say he is as good as any other setter in the province," Hnatuk said.

Bren Hunter, Warren's starting power hitter the past three seasons, can be difficult to stop.

"He hits a very big ball out of power and teams have to key on him or he will beat them every time," Hnatuk stressed.

The Wildcats' varsity team will play Teulon and Gimli for the Zone 5 banner. But it's the regionals, Hnatuk warned, that will determine if Warren will advance to the provincials.

"If we play well and beat them it would be a good win for the school to hold up that zone prize," Hnatuk said. "But the regionals is what you need (to win) to go to provincials."

Thunder to battle Golden Bears in semifinal matchup

By Brian Bowman

The real season is about to start for the Interlake Thunder.

Interlake will open its Rural Manitoba Football League playoffs this Saturday (2:30 p.m.) against the Virden Golden Bears in Stonewall.

It should be a great matchup in front of what is expected to be a nice-sized home crowd for the Thunder.

"It was a good crowd in Virden and our last home game had a good crowd so I expect there will be a lot of folks there," said Thunder head coach Mitch Obach. "The forecast doesn't look too bad so hopefully it will be a nice day to watch a good football game."

The Thunder (7-0) finished first overall during the regular season while Virden was 5-2.

The other provincial semifinal has the Swan Valley Tigers (5-2) hosting the Dauphin Clippers (5-2).

The playoffs are a totally different beast compared to the regular season.

"The No. 1 thing we are focused on is one season is done and the playoffs are a whole new season," Obach said. "Everyone is 0-0 right now and, to be honest, we don't have a lot of guys with a tremendous amount of playoff experience or playoff success."

Interlake wrapped up its regular season with a solid 45-21 victory over Virden. It was the third time this season that the Thunder turned a one-point game at the half into a rout.

"(Finishing) 7-0 is one thing but they had to work at it," Obach said. "They've had that adversity a few times and hopefully they can rise up to that next level that you need in the playoffs."

The Thunder took a 13-0 lead early in the second quarter but Virden rallied for a 14-13 halftime advantage.

The Golden Bears then led 21-20 but the Lightning struck for 25 unanswered points for the win.

"We had a very long layoff and there was a little bit of rust early on," Obach admitted. "Virden is a really tough football team and of all of the teams that we have seen they are the most similar to us in style. They are a very physical, run-first team...so it was a very hard-nosed football game."

Thunder quarterback Josh Charison was very good, finishing 12-for-18 for 230 yards and two touchdowns without an interception. He also had TD runs of one and three yards.

"It was easily his best game of the year," Obach said. "They know we're a running team and they definitely game planned for that. There were times when we had trouble moving the ball and it was his arm that got it done for us and the receivers were making catches."

Graeme Perrie had 107 yards receiving, which featured a 35-yard TD catch, while yard TD reception.

Interlake was equally impressive on the ground.

Colton Nedotiafko had 14 carries for 172 yards, which included touchdown runs of 74 and 24 yards.

On defence, Colton Meisner had 11 tackles and three interceptions, including one that he returned for a touchdown.

Aden McLean had seven tackles while James Crate added three tackles and a quarterback sack.

Rams earn berth in CJFL semifinal

Alex France

Carter Safiniuk

Staff

Former Interlake Thunder players Alex France and Carter Safiniuk were members of the Langley Rams' football team, which defeated the Okanagan Sun 39-7 last Sunday in Kelowna to claim the BC Conference Championship.

France is a 6-foot, 175-pound receiver from Warren while Safiniuk is a 5-foot-8, 175-pound defensive back from Stonewall.

With the win, Langley improved its all-time Cullen Cup game record versus Okanagan to 7-2.

The Rams, 9-3 overall, will now host the Ontario Football Conference champion Hamilton Hurricanes in this Saturday's Canadian Junior Football League semifinal. Kickoff is at 4 p.m. (Pacific Time) at McLeod Athletic Park Stadium in Langley.

Gimli finished second in pool play with a 6-2 record, followed by Ashern (5-3), Riverton (3-5), Peguis (2-6) and Riverton Team 2 (0-8).

Botterill to visit Lundar for Female Hockey Day

By Brian Bowman

Lundar will have a very special guest visit their town in a few months.

Former Olympian hockey star Jennifer Botterill will be in Lundar for a Female Hockey Day on Jan. 12.

Botterill will be a guest speaker beginning at noon with a question-and-answer period to follow.

"I'm so excited," said Lightning Bantam head coach Charlene Bodnarchuk. "When I put the day together I wanted to get a big name out. To have someone like Jen come out to a small town like Lundar, it's going to be so much fun."

The Interlake Lightning Bantam female hockey team has partnered with Sport Manitoba for the one-day event.

"There's a lot of stuff (that will be going on) and it's going to be awesome," Bodnarchuk enthused. "We're working with the Lakeside Minor (Hockey Association), Interlake Minor, Sport Manitoba. There's all these partnerships going on and it's going to be so much fun."

Interlake's Bantam girls will each receive a puck that will be signed by Botterill and a picture taken with her.

Botterill will then give the Lightning a pre-game speech before their 2:30 p.m. matchup with the Twins.

She will also drop the puck before the game.

Bodnarchuk came up with the idea of the female hockey day and her hope is that a lot of players come out for the unique event.

"I really wanted to make it a special day," she said. "We haven't been struggling with numbers in Interlake minor but we have had lower numbers for registration of females."

"We didn't have a PeeWee 'AA' team this year because of a low registration. I really want to make sure we promote female hockey in the Interlake."

"We have great programs, great coaches, and the girls really have fun."

The Lightning will be running 45-minute on-ice sessions for Atom, Squirts, Novice, PeeWee, Bantam and Midget-aged players.

The sessions will be free for all female hockey players.

"Our players will be out helping the younger ones," Bodnarchuk said. "It will be a great experience for them. They get to give back to their community and we get to promote (the sport) in a small, rural community."

Players will also do 45 minutes of dryland training, which will be facilitated by Fierce Interlake Training, while Sport Manitoba will be putting on athlete combines for fitness testing.

Combines will go from 9 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. and again at 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Cost of fitness testing is $150 per team.

"There's different tests that they're going to run the athletes through and when the athletes run them again next year, they can track their progress," Bodnarchuk explained.

For parents, there will be a concussion information session (from 10-11 a.m.) and a sports psychology session (1-2 p.m.).

Figure skaters to hit the ice in Morden this weekend

Submitted

The Skate Canada Manitoba Sectional Figure Skating Championship will select the top skaters in the province to advance to the 2019 Skate Canada Challenge, ultimately leading to the Canadian Figure Skating Championships.

This event, which will take place this Saturday and Sunday in Morden, allows Manitoba to feature its skaters' athletic abilities and showcase their grace and talent to the public.

"Skate Canada Sectionals is the entry point for the athletes, enabling them to qualify for the 2019 Skate Canada Challenge in Edmonton in December followed by the National Championships in Saint John, N.B., in January," said Donna Yee, Skate Canada Manitoba board chair.

"It is very exciting for all the skaters to experience this level of competition and to dream about someday competing on the International stage."

These athletes will be travelling from across the province to strive to compete for provincial titles and to achieve their personal goals.

Over 70 figure skaters will be competing from the Pre-Juvenile to the Senior levels for the opportunity to be the top skaters in the province.

The three top skaters at the Pre-Novice and Novice levels, and the top two at the Junior and Senior levels, will have the opportunity to continue to the 2019 Skate Canada Challenge in Edmonton from Nov. 28 to Dec. 2.

For Novice, Junior and Senior skaters, this will be the qualifying event for 2019 Canadian Tire National Skating Championships. The Canadian Pre-Novice Champions in men's, women's, pair and ice dance are determined at Skate Canada Challenge.

Warren's tournament win streak snapped at six

By Brian Bowman

The Warren Collegiate Wildcats' streak of winning a varsity girls' volleyball tournament has ended.

Their impressive run of six straight tournament wins was spiked last Saturday as Warren lost 2-0 to the Linden Christian Wings in the final of a Garden Valley event in Winkler.

Linden Christian won the match by scores of 25-21, 25-14.

Warren started the playoffs with a 2-0 (25-21, 25-20) win over the Sanford Sabres and then swept the Niverville Panthers 2-0 (25-17, 25-20) to reach the final.

The Wildcats finished second in their five-team pool with a 3-1 record.

Warren cruised to 2-0 wins over the Landmark 96ers (25-12, 25-10), Garden Valley Zodiacs (25-14, 25-13) and the Westgate Wings (25-22, 25-24).

Warren's loss was a 2-0 (18-26, 22-25) defeat to Linden Christian.

The Stonewall Collegiate Rams, meanwhile, were defeated 2-1 (25-23, 22-25, 7-15) by the St. James Jimmies in the ninth-place game of a Daniel McIntyre varsity girls' volleyball tournament on Saturday.

Stonewall earlier suffered 2-0 playoff losses to Leo Remillard (14-25, 13-25) and West Kildonan 13-25, 16-25).

In pool play, the Rams were fourth with a 1-5 record in sets.

Stonewall's varsity boys were also in action last weekend, competing in a Tec Voc volleyball tournament.

The Rams were defeated 2-0 (25-10, 25-23) by the Grant Park Pirates in a quarter-final match.

Stonewall was 0-3 in pool play, losing to Kelvin, Beliveau and Tec Voc.

Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
