Auto and farm supply business under new ownership

By Jennifer McFee

The community is extending a warm welcome to the new owners of a longstanding local business.

On Nov. 1, Gail and Alan Hiebert took over ownership of Big Block Auto and Farm Supply.

The Lockport residents have been operating a trucking business, called Alan Hiebert Trucking, for the past 25 years. Now they're ready to steer forward with their new retail opportunity.

"We're busy, for sure, but we're having fun. This is a new venture for us," Gail said.

"Our intention is to be here as much as we can and learn it all as efficiently as possible. We're really excited to meet all the new and existing customers."

They're no strangers to the area, since Alan's family has connections to both Stonewall and Marquette.

"His dad grew up in Marquette. His mom's family was from Stonewall and his grandma lived here," Gail said. "He's got many years of memories here too."

While they get to know the ropes of their new business, the couple plans to keep most things the same for now with room to grow in the future.

"This is where our focus is going to be, so if there's an opportunity to expand some product lines, then we feel we can do that," Gail said.

"With our ties to the trucking industry and the construction industry in general, we feel that we can open up a little bit of a new customer base and maybe have some room for expansion."

Big Block stocks a variety of products, and they have access to even more.

"We have everything from your sprays and cleaners and detailing supplies to wheelbarrows and belts and small vehicle parts," she said.

"Besides what's actually in the store physically, we also have access to a ton of parts that are within a day or two away. Some we can even get the same day since there is a lot of inventory available in Winnipeg for us as well." For more information about Big Block Auto and Farm Supply, visit www.bigblockauto.ca, call 204-467-8384 or drop by in person at 207 2nd Ave. North.

Interlake-Eastern RHA welcomes new nurse practitioner to Teulon

Submitted

Interlake-Eastern RHA is pleased to welcome nurse practitioner (NP) Adrian Sawatzky to practise at Teulon Medical Clinic.

"Primary care helps ensure better long-term health for Manitobans living in our rural communities and the Interlake-Eastern Regional Health Authority has been working hard to address this," said Health, Seniors and Active Living Minister Cameron Friesen. "By continuing to recruit physicians and nurse practitioners to communities like Teulon, families throughout the IERHA region are able to receive consistent, reliable primary care closer to home."

Sawatzky studied at the University of Manitoba and worked as an emergency, intensive care and cardiac care nurse before continuing his education to become an NP.

"I saw what NPs could do — things like stitches, reading X-rays, making diagnoses and prescribing drugs and I knew I wanted to do that. Being an NP means I can continue to learn about medicine every day and improve people's lives. It's a very challenging but rewarding job," says Sawatzky.

Sawatzky is happy to be working at Teulon Medical Clinic with Dr. Loudon and nurse practitioner Aravind Pampackal, with whom he trained previously. It was his placement in Teulon that inspired him to later seek out work in the community.

"I'm a city slicker who was placed for a clinical rotation in Teulon. I liked it so much I requested to come back for a second rotation. I love the team in the Teulon Medical Clinic. I have developed good relationships in this community as a student and I am excited to come back. Being the only clinic in Teulon and surrounding area, it really feels like we take care of our own," says Sawatzky.

Coming from an urgent and acute care background, Sawatzky also enjoys being people's first point of contact for health care by working in primary health care and providing preventative care. "Coming from working in emergency rooms and intensive care, I have seen the worst of what chronic disease can lead to. Working in primary care gives me the opportunity to keep people out of the hospital and, instead, enjoy a healthy, high-quality of life for as long as possible," says Sawatzky.

Interlake-Eastern RHA has been working to ensure that communities have reliable access to primary health care providers. Paul Barnard, Interlake-Eastern RHA's director of primary health care and physician services, says that these recruitment efforts are paying off.

"We're focusing on recruiting new care providers, like Adrian, who really want to work in our rural communities. Getting people the care they need, closer to home, is what solid primary health care is all about and we're continuing our recruitment efforts to make that a reality across our region," says Barnard.

If you live in Teulon or surrounding area and are looking for a care pro-

Town of Stonewall welcomes new RCMP recruit

RCMP for Stonewall and surrounding areas are pleased to welcome a new recruit to the ranks.

Const. Jeff Crouse has been learning the ins and outs of the job since he arrived in town about six weeks ago for his very first posting.

"It's been busy so far with a lot of questions being asked," said Crouse, who is originally from Nova Scotia.

"I was at the RCMP training centre in Regina. We spend six months there and you figure out where you're going about halfway through. They'll tell you which province you're going to, and then about three-quarters of the way through, they'll tell you which town you're going to so you'll have some time to prepare."

So far, he's enjoying life in rural Manitoba, noting that Stonewall is quite a bit bigger than his hometown of Lunenberg, which has about 2,000 residents.

"I was 16 or 17 when I had it set in my mind that I wanted to be a police officer, so the opportunity to get out of Nova Scotia and travel west was a big draw," said Crouse, who is now 24.

"It's a very interesting career. It's active and it has a mix of everything. Along with helping people, you're at a desk, you're in a car, you're out in a field. You have a lot of career opportunities in the RCMP and there's a lot of variety. I'm happy to be here to start my career."

Great leaders build teams and gain trust

Intent. A small word with a big listen, communicate, treat others, meaning. It can be seen a mile away. It shows who we are. It affects our decisions, our choices and ultimately our quality of life. It shows who really gets the bigger picture. The bigger picture being remove all your personal items, other than your property, home and I would argue a vehicle fits in here also, what are you left with. Yourself and how you choose to live your life. How you how you deal with conflict and your ability to bounce back, and how you choose to follow the right path. Conflicts should be a source of growth and transformation. Conflicting values are core to a relationship. Therefore, voting people into leadership positions is really about sharing values with someone. A great communicator and leader will listen to what others say and acknowledge what they stand for. A great leader will build teams and gain trust. A great leader will seek to understand before being understood. Our community, our voice. Congratulations to Clive Hinds and our elected councillors Peter, Blair, Walter and Jackie. May you all serve your community

Climate change hoax and carbon tax insult

When one is robbed by bad guy(s), it is called a crime. If the government does the same it is called tax. I have never heard of robbers insulting their victims but the carbon tax is an insult to logic and intelligence of thinking Canadians. FACTS:

• Climate was, is and will be changing.

Human activities don't influence that change.

- Trees convert carbon dioxide into oxygen.
- I have never seen a carbon footprint.

In the early '70s some "concerned" people were loosing sleep worry about global cooling and approaching glaciers. Some scientists suggested dusting Great White North with pulverized coal to prevent it. Nothing happened!

Next scare was the acid rain. Canadian and American lakes were to become completely barren, devoid of fish and other life because the industries located upwind used coal as fuel. Nothing happened!

Ah! Who remembers ozone hole? As a result of freon gas released from AC units, the growing ozone hole would cause wild animals to go blind and great increase in cases of skin cancer in humans and death of plants. Nothing like that happened!

Then was global warming allegedly caused by burning fossil fuels, factories emissions and increased levels of carbon dioxide in atmosphere. Remember last summer's forest fires in B.C. and Alberta. Country was filled with smoke, the sun was darkened and it all cleared in few weeks. As the global warming was not happening, not to look ridiculous, that term was replaced by "climate change."

Now the alleged threat needed agreement of scientific community that climate change, a normal, natural process is caused by man. That claim is so obviously phoney, fraudulent and absurd, it defies logic.

Many naïve, uninformed and gullible people believe that climate change can be stopped by governments carbon taxes, carbon credits, cap and trade agreements and similar efforts. Others confuse air pollution with climate change.

Letters to the Editor: letters@stonewallteulontribune.ca

> Money can buy anything, even climatologists, many of whom now support the consensus that man has great influence on climate. Nonsense!

> Every year or two in various locations with warm or moderate climate (never in Winnipeg in February!) there is a UN-sponsored conference on climate change where the speakers preach to the choir of well paid clapping seals. No opposing views are allowed to be expressed. Nobel Prize winners and climatologists with uncorrupted views are ridiculed, stifled and disregarded. Couple of decades ago a renowned "climatologist" named Al Gore was touring the world with his movie claiming that in 20 years most of the polar ice will melt, coastal cities will disappear under water and the last two remaining polar bear will fight for space on last piece of floating ice. Nothing like that happened!

> But now we "know" that torrential rains, hurricanes and floods are caused by climate change and to save the planet we must act by paying new taxes to the government.

> > - Walter Kolodka

Healthcare in Teulon – Where are we now?

The Teulon Hunter Memorial Hospital is thriving. The hospital has expanded to 20 beds to provide a tailored service level for patients with lower care needs. The recent purchase of specialized pressure relief mattresses provide more comfort for patients requiring a longer hospital stay.

Our lab and X-ray services are open for business. Lab reports are sent back directly to the ordering physician, allowing the patient the freedom to use the lab of their choice. Regardless where your doctor works, you have the convenience of lab services right in your community. Support your local health-care services.

Our ambulance and paramedics services are being expanded. Four new full-time positions are being added to Teulon, which will now provide coverage 24 hours a day, seven days a week. There will also be an expansion to the ambulance garage in the near future.

Teulon Medical Clinic - Remember when you went to the local clinic where the doctor and staff got to know you and worked with you to navigate the health-care system? That type of service is now called Primary Health Care.

Ultimate patient care is the result of regular visits to the same clinic to establish a relationship between the patient and the health-care team. A great deal of time and effort has been put into assembling a team of health-care providers as well as modernizing your clinic. With the current combination of doctors, nurse practitioners, dietitian, chronic disease nurse and nurses; patients now have access to a team that work together to provide the best patient care.

With recent provider additions, the Teulon Medical Clinic is accepting new patients.

For more information, please call the clinic at 204-886-2131.

The Interlake Healthcare Sustainability Committee (IHSC) would like to give a shout out to the following: our community for their patience during the health-care reform; the health-care workers in our community for the great job they do; and to all the people working hard around the clock and behind the scenes. It takes a community to create and maintain a modern and sustainable health-care system. More information on IHSC can be found on the Town of Teulon website under"Health."

Who's Got the Coolest Ice Shack? contest

Hi friends. Thanks for stopping in.

Well, winter's coming. Everywhere, ice has been covering small bodies of water in the morning lately. Now, we look to "first ice" on our waterways. Come December, hopefully we'll venture out onto our frozen creeks, rivers and lakes to our favourite fishing spots. For some of our commercial fisher brothers and sisters, they'll be thinking of getting their bombardiers and equipment ready. It's invigorating, though, as we set aside our boats and ready our short rods and fish finders for ice fishing.

Another sign that winter is soon upon us is the Manitoba Ice Fishing Association calling their folks together to begin their annual raffle for a portable ice shack and auger. The association and its partners are very excited about the ever-growing month-long "Who's Got the Coolest Ice Shack" contest. This year any shack on the ice in southern Manitoba can be considered by calling our newspapers, in addition to our scouts looking for unique shacks as entrants.

Oddly enough and quite by chance, our first story this week comes from two younger guys who almost "got caught" way out on the ice off Balsam Bay last winter. It was last week when I met Winnipeggers, husky, ready-toplease Jean Luc Chouinard and thinner, quieter Dustin Goderis. They told how it was easy, heading north across the ice bouncing along in Jean Luc's big white truck. A noticeable wind whistled around the truck as they rolled along, till looking back, the Balsam pier was just a black spot on the horizon. They stopped, jumped out of the truck, opened the tailgate and pulled out chairs, rods, bait and their auger. They set about drilling holes, baiting their pickerel rigs, dropping the lines into the water then sat down munching on sandwiches washing them down with warm coffee.

Dressed in old snowmobile suits and shoes, they sat looking out across the endless ice laced with small snow drifts. They were two happy guys. Their rods quivered downward from time to time as each in turn landed good-sized pickerels but then the charm of the day fell away as early winter darkness closed in and the north wind began howling. They packed up their gear as the increasing wind-driven snow began stinging their faces. They got in the truck quickly starting the motor and turning the headlights on. Swirled, blinding snow was all around them. Jean Luc behind the wheel could see their tire tracks had been obliterated by the blowing snow. He looked at Dustin.

"You had your GPS on right? Get us back to shore," he said urgently. Dustin busied himself and soon began navigating Jean Luc. The ferocious wind drove snow across their view jostling the truck as it lumbered southward. After what seemed like ages, the rock berms of Balsam Pier thankfully loomed into view and they knew they were safe!

A few days after meeting Jean Luc and Dustin, I happen to be driving by Sugar Island and saw a lady running toward two men along the Red River bank, holding her fishing rod high in the air as a small pickerel dangled from her lines end."Nosey me" had to find out what was going on. I parked and strode down the long slope to the water's edge, but by the time I got there, the "running lady" was gone behind some willows and I stood before the men.

"Why was that lady running?" I asked the grey bearded chap.

"She wanted to string that fish with ours and go back to her 'special' spot," he said in a low amused voice."Could I get your names and maybe a fishing story you might have for your fellow anglers?" I asked. "I'm Malcolm Lusty from Winnipeg Beach and this is my son Eric who lives with his wife, Adrienne, 'the running lady' in Winnipeg," he offered with a smile.

"I have a little story," Malcolm went on. "I was fishing on the rock spit on the end of the Gimli pier a few days ago and caught a small sauger. It was difficult reeling it in because of the shore rocks. All of a sudden out of nowhere, what looked like an otter or muskrat shot toward the fish slithering between the wet rocks and tore the fish from my hook disappearing into the water!"

"I caught a master pickerel in Gimli harbor lately," Eric added as his dad ended his story.

Just then, feisty Adrienne came running up to us again, having lost her minnow baits and interjected, "I beat you Eric! I caught a bigger master pickerel here five years ago!"

Till next week. Bye for now, my friends.

Splash pad breaks ground

By Jennifer McFee

Stonewall Kinsmen took the plunge last week to break ground on the much-anticipated splash pad project.

On Wednesday, Oct. 31, the Kinsmen hosted a ground-breaking event at Quarry Park even though construction won't begin until the spring.

"We had wanted to build it this fall, but we didn't have the finances in place to complete construction this fall," said project chair Chris Luellman.

"So we wanted to have the groundbreaking just to show people that we are going ahead with this project. We are still looking for public funding and corporate funding. We plan to complete construction by the end of May 2019."

The organization still needs to raise more than $100,000 to fund the project, and they are hoping that more corporate and personal sponsors will step forward. "Interlake Salvage has donated $25,000 as a founding member that's $20,000 cash and $5,000 gift in kind that's already been done with the removal of the concrete," Luellman said.

"They've been a fantastic sponsor for us. They are the second $25,000 corporate package, since the first was the Richardson Foundation."

The "Buy a Brick" campaign is also underway. For a $100 contribution, donors can buy an 8-by-8 brick and have up to four lines engraved, with a maximum of 18 characters per line. A donation receipt will be issued for $75.

As an added benefit, the bricks will be used to create an accessible pathway leading up to the splash pad across the sandy beach area.

Other donation levels are also available, and they come with a variety of sponsorship perks.

In addition, donations to the splash can be made by credit card. Monthly donations of more than $3 per month will receive a receipt.

Stiffer penalties for distracted driving started Nov. 1

By Jennifer McFee

If you're inclined to pick up your electronic devices while driving, new distracted driving penalties will hopefully help you to change your habits.

Starting on Nov. 1, new penalties came into effect for anyone who is caught driving while distracted.

"The fine is going from $203 and now it's $672, and demerits go from two to five on their licence as well. So depending on someone's situation, the fine could have a big impact on the cost of their licence annually," explained RCMP Staff Sgt. Kelly Glaspey.

"There's also a mandatory three-day licence suspension for anyone that's caught driving for the first offence and seven days for any second subsequent offence. If you do get your licence suspended for those three days, then you have to pay a $50 licence reinstatement fee."

The penalties apply to the use of any hand-operated electronic device, he added.

"I see lots of people in town talking on the phone and texting. It happens a lot on the highway and in the town. It really is a problem," he said.

"When I'm driving around in my own vehicle, I see it all the time. Texting is a big problem because people are taking their eyes off the road to look down. For talking, you can do hands-free but you can't have it in your hand."

If you have your phone mounted on your dash, you're allowed to touch it once to answer a phone call for a hands-free conversation, he added. With a GPS, you also need to pull over to program the destination. Some studies suggest that distracted driving is more dangerous than impaired driving, he noted.

"In the past, if you saw someone swerving back and forth in their lane, it used to be that they were drunk. But now it's a problem with texting — and usually they are," Glaspey said.

"They changed the penalties because the behaviours haven't changed. There are more people doing it now than ever. A lot of people think it's mostly young people but it's actually all ages."

And with winter weather approaching, Glaspey urges drivers to make safe decisions.

"When we have the first snowfall, we always have tons of accidents," he said.

"We remind people to be mindful of the upcoming winter weather and to change their driving habits accordingly."

Christmas campaigns start early with community support

By Lana Meier

Christmas may seem like a long way off, but a number of people and organizations are already working to ensure that every child and family are able to stay warm this winter along with being able to celebrate Christmas near and far.

Bear Clan Patrol winter drive

Barb Kaminski is helping with a winter donation drive for the Bear Clan Patrol Inc. in Winnipeg and is looking for local support.

The Bear Clan, which operates out of Winnipeg, is looking for items to help people keep warm and keep their energy up. Winter is coming and no one deserves to be left out in the cold. They have a collection drive taking place Oct. 22 to Nov. 22 and Barb Kaminski is willing to pick up and drop off for anyone donating.

The Bear Clan is looking for socks, mitts, sweaters, jackets, blankets, books, new or gently used. They are also looking for individually wrapped non-perishable food items like granola bars, crackers, cookies (anything that can be easily handed out while out on patrol walks) and personal care products like toothpaste, toothbrushes and feminine hygiene products. Barb can be reached at 204-461-2251 or by email at barb.kaminski@sunlife. com.

To ensure that underprivileged children in Third World countries will have some holiday cheer, members of the New Life Church in Stonewall are once again collecting for the Samaritan's Purse Operation Christmas Child campaign.

Families are encouraged to stop at the church to pick up a shoebox and then return it to the church filled by Nov.

Through the Canadian-based humanitarian aid organization, the shoeboxes are then sent to children who live in countries that are impoverished by war, natural disasters, such as hurricanes and flooding, and areas naturally and normally destitute at Christmas time.

These shoeboxes will provide muchneeded peace and joy to the hearts of homeless, hopeless and injured children. For many, this will be their only gift. For more information, contact the school at 204-467-5529.

The Warren Collegiate StudentVoice is collecting donations of non-perishable items and monetary donations for the Interlake Food Bank. Donations can be dropped off at the school. For more information, contact the school at 204-322-5586.

Secret Santa for Seniors

For the second year running, Donna Grieve of Stonewall is collecting gifts for local seniors. Grieve and her volunteers are responsible for putting smiles on the faces of approximately 200 seniors, including many who no longer have family. The first Secret Santa for Seniors held last year grew larger than initially planned and Grieve already has a long list of names for this year.

Grieve told the Tribune that the looks on the faces of the seniors and the tears of joy was payment enough for all the hard work that went into making the collection successful. For more information on how to participate and/or donate, read the Secret Santa for Seniors Facebook page or contact Grieve at 204-801-3014 or at dgrieve63@gmail.com.

Spirit of Hope Rescue

Shelly Nawroski is collecting items for the third annual Christmas hamper drive for Spirit of Hope Rescue (SOHR). SOHR is a volunteer-run, foster-based non-profit dog rescue that works with more than 30 First Nations communities in Manitoba.

Founded in 2012 by Cathie Mieyette, a four-time cancer survivor that made a promise to herself that if she were to survive a life-saving stem cell transplant, she would start a rescue that would help First Nations communities address the over population of dogs. In the past six years, SOHR has rescued more than 2,500 dogs and at any given time may have 115 dogs in foster care. on Main Street in Winnipeg on Dec. 8. The groups are looking for donations of scarves, mitts, gloves, socks, hygiene products, tissue, energy bars, cash and much more. This annual outreach has been so successful that the contents in the bags are worth at least $30 each, with 200 bags being distributed since 2013.

"Unfortunately, with the need out there and the number of people on the street, it usually takes less than two hours for all bags to be distributed," said organizer Lynne Thompson. For 2018, volunteers hope to hit Main Street Winnipeg on Dec. 8 with even more care bags to give out. There is now an international connection with Sew Many Mitts from Bemidji, Minn., donating 20 pairs of hand-made mittens and over 55 scarves. Additionally, several organizations and individuals started knitting when it was still warm and have supplied the project with over 200 more scarves. However, the project will still need donations of mitts, socks, toques, underwear, other items and cash donations to meet this year's goal of 100 bags.

Don Emes awarded Manitoba Emergency Co-ordinator of the Year Award

TRIBUNE PHOTO BY PATRICIA BARRETT Don Emes is the municipal emergency co-ordinator for Gimli, Winnipeg Beach and the RM of Armstrong.

By Patricia Barrett

The municipal emergency co-ordinator for the East Interlake Emergency Measures Region (EI-EMR) was honoured last month for his outstanding contribution to emergency management and preparedness.

Don Emes was presented with the Manitoba Emergency Co-ordinator of the Year Award at the 2018 Manitoba Disaster Management Conference held Oct. 10-12 in Winnipeg.

"I was totally surprised," said Emes last week while grabbing a coffee at Gimli's Robin's Donuts. "If somebody would have said to make a list of people who were probably in the running for it or should be acknowledged, I can come up with a lot of names in front of mine."

Emes has 54 years of experience, serving with the province's natural resources department for 41 years before retiring and another 13 years as emergency co-ordinator under contract to municipalities. He develops and maintains emergency programs for Gimli and Winnipeg Beach, which make up the EIEMR, as well as for the RM of Armstrong, co-ordinating training and education programs and working with elected officials, first responders and volunteers.

Armstrong Reeve Susan Smerchanski, who's been very involved in emergency management planning in her municipality, said Emes' award was well deserved.

"We nominated him for this award from our three areas,"said Smerchanski."He's done a fantastic job." The Interlake is prone to severe weather events such as floods, blizzards, tornados and ice storms. But fires, hazardous materials spills and infectious disease pandemics could also affect the region.

With climate change, Emes said the Interlake could be in for more extreme weather — either hotter or wetter than normal and lasting a lot longer. The hot, dry summer the region experienced this year led to devastating fires in Armstrong and fire bans across many municipalities.

"You can expect those kinds of things to happen but, conversely, you're going to get a wet period and we're going to be back to what we had years before with high water on the lakes and flooding. It will be more extreme. What we thought was normal before is going to get attitude."

Interlake Community Foundation 24-Hour Giving Challenge Nov. 17

Submitted by Ross Thompson

Interlake Community Foundation chair Bob Beck wants everyone to know there's never been a better time to help our community flourish forever.

Residents of Stonewall, Teulon and the neighbouring municipalities of Rockwood, Rosser and Woodlands can make a gift on Saturday, Nov. 17 as part of the Endow Manitoba 24-Hour Giving Challenge. On that day only, each $5 donation becomes $7. The Winnipeg Foundation and the Province of Manitoba will stretch each $5 gift made to the Interlake Community Foundation by $1 making the $5 become $7.

And it gets better, said Beck.

"In addition, local resident Lloyd Jensen has made a generous commitment to match all gifts up to a maximum of $5,000," he said. "Of course, we welcome gifts at any time, but giving on Saturday, Nov. 17 means extra support. We're so excited to see what our community can accomplish."

"The Interlake and Winnipeg Foundations and the endowment are the avenue I have chosen to give back to those who in many ways gave something to us. Using the 24-hour challenge is just an opportunity for valueadded donations to build the ICF. If it helps or entices others to donate, then it really is a bonus and a no-brainer. What an opportunity to help our community," said Jensen.

Beck added that our community foundation supports all aspects of life in the RMs of Rockwood, Rosser and Devin's simple plea has not only put his hometown on the map. It has also inspired a new Co-op contest called Fuel Up My Town.

"Every year we hear from Western Canadians asking if their hometown can be part of Fuel Up to Win, but Devin's really stood out," said Carey Tufts, director of marketing for Federated Co-operatives Limited. "Coops are so tied to their communities. We wanted to give people like Devin a chance to show their pride in their community."

From Nov. 1 to 21, anyone can share a hashtag with their hometown's name across Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, along with the hashtag #Fuelupmytown. The top 25 community names will be listed on the Fuel Up to Win game card in the 2019 contest. More importantly, the community with the most mentions will receive a $25,000 donation from Co-op to a local charity.

It was through a colleague that I was introduced to Laura Woodman, a young woman looking to build her investment and insurance business. After a few meetings with Laura I knew she was a perfect fit for my clients. The transition took place this past spring when she signed all of my investment clients over to her practice.

I will remain in the insurance business and focus on serving my existing clients while I continue to expand my practice as well. Being able to provide people with the proper type and amount of insurance is important to me. Financial security and peace of mind knowing your family is protected in the event of a death in the family is the most important aspect of my business. Road salt and excessive moisture exacerbate corrosion — an oxidation process that degrades metal — making your vehicle particularly prone to rust damage over the winter. To counteract corrosion and extend your vehicle's lifespan, look into getting professional rustproofing.

Vehicle owners should consider investing in the treatment, for no car, new or used, is immune to corrosion. Rustproofing prevents or slows the oxidation of metals on un-rusted vehicles. And on vehicles that are already rusted, the treatment will stop the rust from spreading.

Those planning to keep their vehicle for at least another four years should be especially proactive in getting it treated. The anti-rust oil and grease applied in rustproofing treatments provides additional benefits, including:

• Forming a protective coat that prevents scratching and therefore preserves the appearance — and value! of your vehicle.

• Preventing the vehicle's structure from weakening and breaking down.

Preventing rust from forming not just on the body of the car but also the undercarriage Rust on the undercarriage can spread to vital components of your vehicle and potentially ruin them beyond repair.

After rustproofing your vehicle, make sure to wash it regularly, especially in winter, to get rid of salt and calcium residue. And if you keep your car in a heated garage, be especially diligent because heat triggers corrosion.

Remembering and honouring those who served

Local Memory Project speaker helps keep wartime stories alive

By Lindsey Enns

For Selkirk resident Bill Shead, Remembrance Day and Aboriginal Veterans Day are both a time to honour and remember those who paid the ultimate sacrifice in the name of freedom.

"It's a day to pause and remember the contributions that the Indigenous people made to serving Canada," the Peguis First Nation member said, referring to Aboriginal Veterans Day, which falls on Thursday, Nov. 8. "As we are coming to grips with our history and the role Indigenous people have played in life in Canada this is an important aspect that should be remembered."

Aboriginal Veterans Day ceremonies began in Manitoba in 1994 and they have been gaining momentum across the country ever since, Shead said.

Veteran Affairs Canada says more than 7,000 First Nations members served in the First and Second World Wars, including the Korean War. However, it is not known how many Inuit, Métis and other Indigenous people served in the three wars.

Shead, a graduate of Dalhousie University and the Canadian Forces Staff College, served 36 years in the regular and reserve forces of the Royal Canadian Navy (RCN). He also served as mayor of Selkirk from 1980 to 1983, was the prairie regional director general for Veterans Affairs from 1986 to 1992, and chief executive officer of the now Neeginan Centre from 1993 to 1996.

The 79-year-old is currently the chair of the Neeginan Centre, vice-chair of the Centre for Aboriginal Human Resource Development, a governor of the Manitoba Division of the Canadian Corp. of Commissionaires and a fellow of the Royal Canadian Geographic Society.

Shead has also been a speaker with The Memory Project for nearly 10 years. The Memory Project is a volunteer speakers bureau made up of a community of more than 1,500 veterans and Canadian Forces members who share their stories of military service at school and community events across the country.

"It's important to remember the sacrifices that were made in war," Shead said. "As we go further and further away from major wars, the memory is lost. Speakers like me, and others who are involved with the Memory Project, are able to tell the stories for the people who can not tell those stories now."

Shead said many Second World War veterans are now in their mid-90s.

"There is fewer and fewer of them as each year passes by," he said, add-

Letters home from the front lines

By Jennifer McFee

One hundred years has come and gone since the end of the First World War, but efforts are ongoing to keep the memories alive for generations to come.

A display at the Heritage Arts Centre in Stonewall shares a glimpse into the life of Private John Fisher. The exhibit, called 1918: The End of the War to End All Wars, showcases letters that Fisher wrote home to Stonewall.

Fisher — known as "Jack" to his friends and family — was born in England and moved to Canada as a young lad. He grew up on a family farm in Argyle.

In 1916, he enlisted and arrived back in England in May 1917.

A year later, Fisher penned a letter from the front lines to the Stonewall Rockwood Returned Soldiers Association, noting that he was "somewhere in France." He wanted to send a few lines to advise them that he was "still alive and kicking."

"We are having some time of it over hear at present but I guess there's a better time coming for us all some of these days before long," he wrote.

"Well have you seen any of the boys lately as I've had no word for some time from them."

He wrote that he wished the war were over and that he was back in Stonewall again. From afar, he also mentioned news that travelled halfway across the world from home.

"Well I see in the paper that Allan

John Fisher's story is on display at the Heritage Arts Centre in Stonewall.

McLeod has won the V C.," he wrote. "I congratulate him of his bravere he sure was a brick."

He noted that all the Stonewall boys in the 8th battalion were looking well and were in the best of health.

"I suppose it will be very quiet around Stonewall now as there won't be many boys around now," he wrote.

In June 1918, he received a response from the Stonewall Rockwood Returned Soldiers Association to share news from home.

Then in August 1918, Fisher wrote another letter to the association to thank them for their response, this time in penmanship that appears shakier than his previous correspondence.

"You no we always like to hear from anybody at Stonewall, it cheers us up when we hear from someone around there as you no this life has some life. I don't know what I'll do when I get back to Stonewall again," he wrote.

"Well the crops should be looking good yes I suppose the men will be getting very scarce alright no mistake about that at all. Well we will cheer the girls when we get back again. But for myself I am very bashfull but I am getting over that a little bit since I came out hear"

Again, he referred to Alan McLeod, whose story stretched the distance to reach other Stonewall soldiers overseas.

"I wish this war was over and we were safe back in Canada again," he wrote.

Later that month, Fisher was wounded and was initially treated in the field hospital. He later ended up having his leg amputated at the Manitoba Military Hospital.

In October 1918, the Stonewall Rockwood Returned Soldiers Association sent another response.

"I want to thank you for the news of the boys at the front. We have lately had quite a number come home, somewhere in the neighbourhood of 18 or 20. ... They entertain us with interesting stories of trench life and so on," the letter states.

"We will indeed be glad when you

'Bells of Peace' to ring 100 times on Remembrance Day

By Ligia Braidotti

Lundar will join several Canadian communities in remembering those who fought for freedom.

On Sun., Nov. 11, churches throughout Canada and Europe will ring their bells 100 times when the sun goes down. The occasion repeats the signal that announced the end of the First World War 100 years ago in Europe.

In 1918, on Armistice Day, communities in Europe celebrated the end of the war to the sound of their local church bells ringing. Cindy Thorkelson, vice-chair president of the Lutheran Church and MC of the Remembrance Day services in Lundar, said they decided to join the movement this year in celebration of the end of the war.

"I think it's going to be very, very powerful," she said, adding they wanted to alert the community so that people wouldn't be surprised with the loud sound of the bells ringing. "We are recognizing the end of the First World War."

"It's going to be a time where people will be able to stop and remember."

The Lundar Lutheran Church's bell was installed when the building was finished in 1914 — the same year the war started — and located at 16-1 Ave. The bell will start ringing approximately at 4:45 p.m. at the sundown of Nov. 11.

The Remembrance Day service will start at 10:45 a.m. at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 185 at 50-3 Ave. in Lundar. Legion representatives and attendees will lay wreaths in remembrance of those who served in the war following by the ceremony.

Youth will also participate in singing songs and reciting poems, and soup and salad will be served after the service. The legion would also like to place flags in the graves of those who served in the First World War and are asking the families to contact them at 204-762-5315.

"We are hoping to get a fair amount of people out for the service," said legion president Darlene Sweetland, adding about 80 to 100 people attend the ceremony annually."This community is very respectful of our veterans and to the legion."

On Nov. 11 at sundown, the legion is also welcoming people to bring their bells to ring along with the church.

Thorkelson mentioned three veterans, living in their community, fought overseas during the Second World War. She added remembering their sacrifice is still essential nowadays.

"They gave their life. We need to remember these people gave up their lives for our country."

Sweetland said holding the Remembrance Day ceremonies is raising awareness among the youth. Every year, the legion holds a service at Lundar School one day before Remembrance Day.

"We get a very good reaction from

Stonewall's Legion celebrates veteran's contributions

By Lana Meier

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 52 held their annual Veteran's supper last Saturday paying tribute to the 100th Anniversary of Armistice, the silencing of weapons that brought the end of the First Ŵorld War at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month in 1918.

Over the span of four years, the First World War had claimed the lives of 20 million soldiers and civilians.

Fellow veterans, who served in conflicts ranging from the Second World War to the more recent Afghanistan conflict, widows, dignitaries, Legion members and the Ladies Auxiliary were special invitees for the annual dinner.

The evening and supper meeting began with the march on of the colours.

Following the singing of the national anthem, veterans, distinguished guests, widows, Legion members and families took a few moments to remember our fallen comrades, who by sea, land and air sacrificed their lives for our freedom; and to those who survived and need our aid and assistance. Legion Branch 52 president Tim Williams paid tribute to Comrades Alan Sheldon and Jack Good, who both passed away this year.

Supper was then served for the 150 guests.

Williams acknowledged the widows of Legion #52 veterans and read aloud a list of 44 names following the meal.

A number of special guests brought greetings on behalf of their towns, municipalities and government. Selkirk Interlake Eastman MP James Bezan thanked veterans for their service, for defending our way of life, our freedom, our respect. He thanked the veteran's families, the Legion and its members for talking to our next generation and sharing stories of our extraordinary veterans.

Comrade Alwyn Ammeter presented $1,000 to the Legion on behalf of the over 55 social club.

Legion Branch 52 Ladies Auxiliary President Brenda O'Dell presented a cheque for $10,000 to the Legion.

Williams thanked both groups for their generous donations.

"We are one of the branches fortunate enough to have an active ladies auxiliary," said Williams as he asked the members attending to please stand.

O'Dell honoured three ladies with service pins, Heather Armstrong (25 years), Drew Lambert (60 years) and Betty Tyerman (35 years). Tyerman passed away in October and O'Dell presented the pin to her family at the funeral.

Olive Klimpke and Marty Kalnuk both received life membership awards for their dedication and service to the ladies auxiliary.

Danica's Village continues to connect with Churchill

By Jennifer McFee

Train transportation is finally back on track to Churchill, and a local resident is continuing with her efforts to help the community that was isolated for so long.

Toni deLaroque has forged a strong connection to Churchill through Danica's Village, an organization that she set up in memory of her five-year-old daughter who died after a canoeing accident on the Churchill River. The organization charitably contributes to help Manitobans, especially children.

Prime Minister Justin Trudeau visited the northern town last week to announce that full passenger and freight rail service will soon be restored to Churchill after an 18-month hiatus.

Residents gathered in the streets to celebrate the arrival of the first train back in town.

"There's such a sense of relief since now there's going to be good sustainability going in there and more options for the town people," said deLaroque, who lives in the RM of Rosser near Grosse Isle.

"But I'm thinking it's probably going to take a couple years for people to get back up on their feet. It's not an instant process."

Through Danica's Village, deLaroque's efforts to help Churchill have been ongoing and she has no plans to stop.

"Two weeks ago, I shipped up 1,750 pounds of food and 62 used Halloween costumes. I put a post on Facebook and within 10 hours, I collected the costumes and shipped them up in time for Halloween," she said.

"I also have a food bank in Churchill based out of the Home Hardware, so I'll still be shipping up food on a continual basis as often as I can. I'm probably going to try to work with the rail line to try to get some freight donated there."

She has already secured 5,000 pounds of donated freight on the charters and plans are being finalized

New school year, new board of trustees for ISD

By Jo-Anne Procter

Recently elected Interlake School Division trustees Victoria Shindle and Bridget Yablonski were officially welcomed to the board of trustees at the regular meeting last Monday.

For the next four years Shindle will represent Ward 2 (Balmoral, Argyle and Stonewall) with Alan Campbell and Fran Frederickson. Yablonski will represent Ward 4 (Stony Mountain).

Fran Frederickson led the inaugural meeting as chairperson since the new boundaries were established. The previous board voted to reduce the number of trustees from nine to seven effective this term.

Superintendent's report

Superintendent Margaret Ward and assistant superintendent Tyler Moran reported that their full day school visits are proving to be very valuable and feedback from staff has been very good. Ward explained that individual meetings have taken place with each principal to review school plans while gathering feedback on the new planning template. Each school plan identifies one or more areas of focus and defines where the school is currently with that area of focus, what the needs are for students, staff and community and how those needs will be met throughout the 2018-2019 school year. She explained that the plan is not a one-time plan, it is a living document that they will re-visit throughout the year.

Ward reported that the ISD has completed and submitted the annual report on continuous improvement to Manitoba Education and Training for 2017-2018. The report draws attention to an overall profile of the school division, a division staffing profile, analysis of student achievement and enrolment data and reporting on grant expenditures.

The Manitoba School Boards Association (MSBA) is putting out a campaign called 'Local Voices, Local Choices'.

The provincial government is engaging in a K-12 education review that will take place over the next year or so and the amalgamation of school boards is on the table.

Alan Campbell to run for president of MSBA

Staff

The Interlake School Division's school board voted unanimously to endorse chair Alan Campbell for the position of president of the Manitoba School Boards Association.

The position became vacant when Ken Cameron, who was president of the MSBA up until the Oct. 24 election, did not seek nomination to be reelected as a school board trustee. As a result, his term as a trustee and as president of Manitoba school boards association ended on the election day.

A by-election for the position of president will take place on Nov. 30. Then at the MSBA's annual general meeting in March, there will be another election to start a formal twoyear presidency term.

Campbell will be up against one other candidate, Kelli Riehl of Swan Valley School Division.

"I was anticipating running for president in March at our upcoming annual general meeting," Campbell said, "but when we learned that Ken had not sought nomination for trusteeship for the last election, it became clear that if I wanted to run for president that the time would be now."

Since March 2017, Campbell has served as an MSBA vice-president for school divisions with less than 6,000 students. Campbell also served as a director on the executive for the two prior years. He works alongside Sandy Nemeth, who serves as vice-president for school divisions with more than 6,000 students. "Sandi and I work extremely well together, so we're currently presiding over the association in the absence of a president," Campbell said.

"Our titles may reflect that we have different responsibilities, but we work together very closely on advocacy for boards of all sizes."

Looking ahead, Campbell is prepared to tackle some important issues on the horizon, particularly the upcoming provincial government review on K to 12 education.

"Advocacy is the name of the game right now. Manitobans need to understand the importance of their local elected school board and what that means for public education," he said.

"The job of Manitoba School Boards Association is to make sure that school boards have the resources to advocate strongly in the next six to 18 months, both in the lead-up to the review, during the review and then following the review."

Manitoba is the only province left in the country where school boards have local taxing authority as well as local bargaining authority, he added.

"The province has made it pretty clear already that they intend to go to centralized bargaining," he said.

"But our biggest concern right now is that Minister Goertzen has stated quite openly that school division amalgamations are on the table as part of the review and he wants to wait to see what Manitobans have to say."

Campbell urges Manitobans to speak up across the province on the issue.

"Manitobans need to tell the provincial government that if they live in St. James, they don't want their trustee to be from St. Vital. And if they live in Teulon, they don't want their local trustee to be from Selkirk. And if they live in Minnedosa, they don't want their local trustee to be from Brandon," he said.

"Those are things that people don't think a lot about because the public education system runs extremely well in this province, for the most part. We see a certain level of complacency that needs to be addressed because you don't know what you have until it's gone.

We've seen in in other provinces that the government has either significantly reduced the role of school boards or eliminated school boards all together. When you look at what has happened in those provinces, community voice has been silenced as a result."

He hopes to use his campaign to encourage conversation about the importance of school boards across the province.

In addition, the MSBA is launching an advocacy initiative called Local Voices, Local Choices. Information about the importance of locally elected school boards is available through a link to this initiative posted on the MSBA website at www.mbschoolboards.ca

V-DAY This weekend is a time to reflect and remember those who have sacrificed their lives to bring freedom from oppression and war. No one wants to go into battle, but at times wars must be fought so that the innocent can live. As Ecclesiastes 3:8 states, "there is a time for war and a time for peace."

On June 6, 1944, the war to end all wars was the decisive D-Day in which the allied troops landed in Normandy, France — the quickest route for an invasion of Germany. It was a surprise attack in which many soldiers lost their lives, but through this heroic sacrifice the tide of war changed and victory was on the horizon. On May 9, 1945, known as V-Day or Victory Day, the final negations of surrender were signed. The war ended and peace ensued.

worship with us > FAITH

These two decisive events of World War II can be compared to the first and second coming of Jesus. D-Day is like the first coming in which Jesus declared "The Spirit of Lord is upon me ... to proclaim that captives will be released ... that the oppressed will be set free" (Luke 4:18, NLT) and then sacrificed his life on the cross so that all people would experience spiritual freedom. This was a decisive day, but not V-Day. We still live in a world of pain, suffering and heartache. We live in a world in which spiritual warfare is a reality in people's lives.

Becoming a follower of Jesus does not eliminate trouble or pain, but it does give you a way to overcome as 1 John 5:4-5 states, "For everyone born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world, even our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world? Only the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God." Between D-Day and V-Day, there will be skirmishes to fight. You will need faith — because Satan still works hard to wreak havoc in your life and in this world. But V-Day is coming when Jesus returns to vanquish Satan and evil forever. Dr. John Harrison savings while at the same time reducing community input and ownership of public schools through locally elected school boards.

The total administration costs for school division's amount to approximately four cents of every dollar spent on public education in this province; and that four cents ensures that our communities have a democratically elected voice in the delivery of education in local public schools.

TCI Quebec trip request

A trip to Quebec for a group of TCI students studying French May 18-22, 2019 has been approved in principle. Prior to submitting the request for final approval, TCI requested permission to utilize a male chaperone who is not a member of the TCI staff, but is a divisional employee with a completed criminal record check, child abuse check and speaks French.

Policy says a chaperone must be from the school.

ISD will suggest the school try to find a male employee within their school again, since there is still plenty of time. The board will re-visit the request at the next meeting on Nov. 26.

Public Schools Finance Board

The ISD board of trustees gave first reading to request reimbursement from the public schools finance board (PSFB) for capital projects. ISD pays the expenses and once the project is underway, a claim to be reimbursed by PSFB is filed. ISD will be reimbursed as per PSFB's promise.

Ecole RW Bobby Bend School roof replacement $241,900, Stonewall Collegiate roof replacement $195,100, Teulon Elementary HQR foundation $226,400 and Teulon Elementary heating system $805,700 totalling $1,469,100.

Second and third reading will take place at the Nov. 26 meeting.

To Campbell, a reduction in school boards is essentially a reduction in the democratic process in Manitoba.

"Given that we're coming up to Nov. 11, MSBA has sought out assistance from veterans to speak to us about what they fought for in the preservation of a democratic society here in Canada and how they look at any reduction of democratic values by government," Campbell said.

"It's important for people to understand that it's not about politicizing the role that our veterans play in society. I'm very sensitive to that. My grandfather was a World War II veteran and I'm sensitive to that. But at the same time, who better to represent the concern about a loss of democratic value for Manitoba than veterans."

The Local Voices, Local Choices webpage also includes a section called The Veteran's Voice, which includes the insights of multiple veterans.

"I would encourage everyone to go to that website, get more information and listen to the perspective of veterans," Campbell said."They have put forward their name to make the ultimate sacrifice to preserve democracy, and we need to understand what that's about."

Lightning knock off Northstars

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Lightning has had trouble protecting leads this season.

And they almost let another one slip away on Sunday. Interlake led the Norman Northstars

6-3 with five minutes left to play in the third period but were barely able to hang on for a 7-6 win in Manitoba AAA Midget Hockey League action.

Lightning forward Kai Studler scored the eventual game-winning goal when he tallied at 15:48 of the third to give the home side a 7-4 lead.

Tyler Carvalho, Nicholas Prystupa,

Chase Barkley, Austin Adair, Derrick Lange and William Faraci also scored for the Lightning.

Lange finished the game with three points.

Richard Ducharme (two), Albert Sinclair, Henry Muchikekwanape, Mikey Baron and Jordan Pfoh replied for Norman.

Chris Fines made 43 saves for the win.

On Saturday, the Lightning lost 5-3 to the Yellowhead Chiefs in Teulon.

Interlake's Lyle Murdock opened the scoring just 4:25 into the game but Yellowhead replied with goals from Logan Wotton and Slade Stanick before the first period ended.

Interlake had another great start to a period as Cody McMillan and Matthew Vandel scored to give the home side a 3-2 lead.

But the Chiefs' special teams then went to work.

Parker Johnson scored a shorthanded goal at 5:53 of the middle frame and then Brody Wilson and Jack Poole netted power-play goals just 18 seconds apart about five minutes later.

Josh Bond made a whopping 52 saves in the loss. Tressor Wotton stopped 23 Interlake shots for the victory.

Interlake (3-9-0-1) will hit the road for a pair of games this weekend.

The Lightning will be in Virden on Saturday for a 3 p.m. contest with the Southwest Cougars.

On Sunday (2:30 p.m.), Interlake will visit Yellowhead in Shoal Lake.

Interlake's next home game is Nov. 14 when it hosts the Eastman Selects. Puck drop is 7:45 p.m.

Thunder defence golden against Virden

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Thunder's defence has been real good all season.

But they were really, really good last Saturday.

Interlake's defence stymied the Virden Golden Bears in an impressive 32-6 victory in the Rural Manitoba Football League semifinals in Stonewall.

"It was probably the best all-around game we've played all year," said Thunder head coach Mitch Obach. "Virden's very physical and a hardnosed team and we like a physical game, too.

"It was definitely one of those and, with back-to-back weeks, it adds to that animosity on the field."

Interlake led 11-0 after the first quarter and the score stayed that way at the half. Graeme Perrie had a 45-yard touchdown run and then the Thunder defence added a pair of safeties.

"The boys played great, and we had an exceptionally good outing from our defence," Obach stressed. "It was an all-around good showing. Playing two weeks in a row helped us game plan them and our coach did a great job putting a plan together that worked."

Those two first-half safeties were huge plays by the Thunder defence.

"Safeties are awesome," Obach said. "They're kicking off so deep in their end that you're getting two points and great field position."

Virden pulled to within 11-6 in the third quarter but Interlake answered with a five-yard touchdown run by Colton Nedotiafko. Nedotiafko finished the game with 263 yards on the ground

In the fourth quarter, Interlake put the visitors away as the Thunder offence stepped up.

Graeme Perrie broke a 25-yard TD run (he finished with 146 rushing yards) and Karsen Karish hauled in a three-yard touchdown pass from Josh Charison.

The Thunder appears to have the ability to wear teams down as the game moves on.

"That's been our strategy all year," Obach said. "If anyone would ask if there is one area that we are really strong in, compared to the other teams in the league, I would say it's depth.

"We can use all of our guys and we really haven't played anyone on the opposite side of the ball all year."

The Thunder now advances to the provincial final this Saturday (1 p.m.) against the Swan Valley Tigers.

It should be a great battle between two very good teams.

Interlake defeated Swan Valley 26-18 during the regular season in a tightlycontested game.

"It was our closest game, for sure," Obach admitted. "It was a one-point game at the half. It was a real good back-and-forth football game and I would expect nothing less on Saturday."

The Thunder is hoping that home field will be an advantage in their final game of the season.

"It was a nice boost for us this past weekend," Obach noted. "It's just that more comfortable playing at home and, not that it really means anything, but were not the ones getting on a five-hour bus ride.

"It's that much nicer when you can (play) at home."

Lightning playing well on defensive end in U17 Midget prep play

Staff

The Interlake Lightning are certainly playing some good defensive hockey lately. Interlake allowed just seven goals in three games last week in U17 Midget Prep play.

The Lightning started the week by playing to a 1-1 draw with the Warriors on Oct. 29 in Stonewall.

Tyson Barylski scored a second-period power-play goal for the Lightning, assisted by Adrian Klimpke and Logan Resch.

Interlake's Jackson Kummen made 46 saves in goal.

On Saturday, Interlake had a great effort in a 3-2 win over the Eastman Selects.

Ashton Fisher scored for the Interlake in the second period and then Cole Emberly and Dominic Griffin-Eros tallied in the third.

The Lightning's Jake Plett assisted on Emberly's goal.

Kummen made 18 saves in the win. The next day, Interlake was defeated

4-1 by the Winnipeg Hawks. Emberly scored a shorthanded goal in the first period. The Hawks scored twice in the first period and then added a pair in the third.

Interlake will be on the road for a pair of games this weekend. The Lightning will play the Sharks on Friday (8:30 p.m.) at Gateway and then will take on the Hawks Sunday (3 p.m.) at the Seven Oaks Sportsplex. Interlake's next home game is Nov. 15 when it plays the Sharks in Arborg. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Sports&recreation INSIDE > OUTSIDE > UPSIDE DOWN Jets fly to pair of MMJHL wins

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets played some great hockey last weekend.

And they were rewarded for their efforts with a pair of key victories.

Stonewall wrapped up the successful two-game set after defeating the Charleswood Hawks 4-2 on Sunday evening.

"We had a few guys come back to our lineup and a four-point weekend is what you aim for every weekend," said Jets' head coach Brock Couch."It was definitely good efforts. We improved the 'D' zone and we improved our special teams and our lineup improved as well."

Max McLean gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead just 1:47 into the game but the Jets answered with first-period goals from Aiken Chop and Chance Dickenson.

Dickenson's goal came with just seven seconds remaining in the period.

Ryan McMahon struck on the power play at 17:12 of the second period to stake the Jets to a 3-1 lead.

But Charleswood pulled to within a goal as Kyle Nanton scored a powerplay marker just 1:03 of the third.

Newly-acquired Keevan Daniels-Webb then scored his first goal as a Jet in his very first game at 4:52 of the final frame. Daniels-Webb, a Gunton product, played 46 games in the Manitoba Junior Hockey League with the OCN Blizzard.

He scored three goals and produced 12 points in that time. The Jets received Daniels-Webb in a trade with the SJHL's La Ronge Ice Wolves.

"He's a really skilled offensive forward and he's a big body," Couch said. "He seems to be having a good time with the guys and he got the insurance goal and he got the hard hat in the room that the guys give out.

"We welcome him with open arms to be part of our team."

Adam Swan made 26 saves for the win.

On Friday, the Jets defeated the St. Boniface Riels 3-1 in Stonewall.

"It was a close game and I thought our penalty kill did a really good job," Couch said. "We got into some really bad penalty trouble and certain calls didn't go our way. We got caught in a couple of tough spots and the only goal they scored was a 5-on-3 goal.

"Other than that, our 5-on-5 was near perfect."

Stonewall's Jaytey Towle scored his first goal of the season at 18:12 of the first period and then Brendan Labossiere put the Jets up two goals with a second-period power-play goal.

TRIBUNE PHOTO BY LANA MEIER Jets' goaltender Adam Swan made 34 saves for his first win of the season against the St. Boniface Riels.

St. Boniface's Brandon Bartley scored a power-play goal early in the third but the Jets iced the win when Carson Ouellette scored into an empty net with 34 seconds remaining in the third.

Labossiere and Ouellette each finished the game with three points. Swan made 34 saves for his first win of the season.

The Jets, now 4-4-2 and with 10 points to sit tied for seventh place in the 10-team league with Charles-wood, will host the St. Vital Victorias this Friday at 7:30 p.m.

On Saturday (7 p.m.), Stonewall will play the Transcona Railer Express in Winnipeg.

Manitoba, whose rink also includes second Brendan Bilawka, third Meghan Walter, and fourth Colin Kurz, started the game by scoring four in the first end.

Yukon came back with a pair in the second and then Manitoba and Yukon traded singles in the next four ends.

Manitoba then put the game away with a deuce in the seventh end.

Manitoba started play Sunday evening with a 5-4 extra-end loss to Quebec. Manitoba trailed 4-2 after six ends and then added singles in the seventh and eighth ends.

Manitoba then defeated Northern Ontario 7-3 on Monday afternoon as Oliver was named the player of the game.

Manitoba led 3-2 after four ends and then scored three in the fifth and added a steal of one in the sixth.

On Tuesday morning, Team Manitoba was beaten 5-1 by Saskatchewan. The winners scored singles in the first, fourth and fifth ends and then put the game away with a deuce in the seventh. Manitoba scored its lone point in the third.

No other Manitoba scores were available at press time.

The mixed national championship features 14 teams (10 provinces plus Northern Ontario, Northwest Territories, Nunavut and Yukon) which were seeded and separated into two pools of seven teams each.

The teams first play a round robin within their pool.

At the conclusion of the round robin, the top four teams in each pool advance to the Championship Pool, when the teams play the teams from the opposite pool, carrying forward their win-loss records. Meanwhile, the bottom three teams in each pool will go to the Seeding Pool, where they will compete against the three teams from the opposite pool. These teams also carry forward their win-loss records.

The Championship Pool concludes Friday and will be followed by two semifinal games Saturday (10 a.m., pitting 1 versus 4 and 2 against 3).

The two winners then advance to the gold-medal final Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. while the two losing teams meet in the bronze medal game at the same time.

Final results will determine seeding for next year's Canadian Mixed Championship in Saguenay, Que.

August 9, 1931 - October 30, 2018

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Gunnar Verner Norberg on October 30, 2018 at Portage General Hospital. Gunnar is survived by his loving wife of 62 years, Delphie; his sons Bryce (Tamara), Ken (Dolores), Doug (Connie); grandchildren Kevin (Jamie), Tara (Kurt), Meagan (Jeremy ), Erik (Ashleigh), Isak, Braden and Kieran; and great-grandchildren Sadie, Emmett, Paisley and Ingrid; his sister, Ruth (Lawrence); sisters-in-law Olive, Doreen (Axel), Dorothy Olson; brother-in-law Donald (Gert), and many nieces and nephews.

Gunnar was predeceased by his parents, Julius and Maria, his brothers Eric (Dorothy), Leonard (Elaine), Ronald (Kay), Edwin (Joy), George and sisters Violet (Ralph), Freda (Stan), Emma (Bob) and Regina (Sam).

Gunnar was born and raised in Meadows, Manitoba and lived in the same home all of his life, except for the period they lived in Winnipeg and Thunder Bay. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran Church, and was dedicated to his faith throughout his years. He worked for CNR in the telecommunications department for 17 years before returning to the family farm in 1969. Gunnar worked on the farm until his retirement, but always kept a close eye on what the boys were up to.

He was very involved in his community, serving on the Marquette Co-op Board, Meadows Community Club and was councilor for Ward 1 in the R.M. of Rosser for 18 years. He was highly respected and much loved in the community.

In retirement, Gunnar enjoyed many years of travelling and spending time with family and friends. He valued time spent with family over material things. He was also very proud of his Swedish heritage, and was involved in keeping the culture and traditions alive in his family.

The family would like to thank the staff at Portage General Hospital, and Interlake-Eastern Home Care for the wonderful care they provided to Gunnar.

A service to honour Gunnar's life was held on Sunday, November 4th at 2:00 pm at the Saint James Lutheran Church at 871 Cavalier Drive in Winnipeg. The family held a private family interment on Monday.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to CancerCare Manitoba Foundation, 675 McDermot Avenue, R3E 9Z9, or to a charity of your choice.
