Ladies dinner raises funds for Ducks Unlimited

Staff

It might be chilly outside, but you wouldn't know it at a recent Ducks Unlimited Canada fundraiser.

The theme was "Life's a Beach" for the 22nd annual DUC Interlake Harlequins Ladies Dinner, held on Friday, Nov. 2 at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch #52.

In total, 240 ladies attended the fundraiser, which was catered by Bluewater Whole Hog. The master of ceremonies was Leanne Cater and the auctioneer was Mike Melnychuk. Lorna Baker received recognition for being a volunteer for 20 years with Ducks Unlimited Canada.

This year's event was a great success, raising $23,290. Over the 22-year period, the event has raised a grand total of $253,037. All money raised helps to support wetland conservation in Canada.

Council members have to pay taxes on remuneration on Jan. 1, 2019

By Jennifer McFee

The Town of Stonewall hosted its inaugural meeting with its newly elected council last week.

The meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 7 featured the oath of office for the town leaders. The new council is made up as Clive Hinds as mayor, along with newcomers Peter Bullivant, Jackie Luellman, Blair Good and incumbent Walter Badger as councillors.

"It's been an honour and a privilege to be elected to the town. I plan to fulfill my campaign promises, working closer with the residents and the businesses alike with transparency at the forefront," Hinds said on Friday.

"The inaugural meeting that took place this past Wednesday gave four councillors — three of which are new — a chance to be sworn in and they were presented with their portfolio. It brings a new responsibility to them. We have to fulfill the direction set out by our strategic plan and at the same time find a new and less costly ways to move forward by continued collaboration with the neighbouring municipality."

Hinds added that he hopes all residents had the chance to honour veterans who contributed the cost of their lives for our freedom and safety.

In other news, Stonewall council discussed the idea of appointing a citizens' committee to review council salaries.

Effective Jan. 1, 2019, council members will need to pay taxes on their entire remuneration. Until now, in Stonewall's case, one-third of their salary was exempt.

CAO Wally Melnyk explained that CRA has made changes regarding the indemnities of elected officials.

"For years, the municipal elected officials across the country were allowed to have an exempt portion to their remuneration. That was basically to reflect things that they would do outside of their normal duties that they didn't necessarily get compensated for," he said.

"So in the case of Stonewall, it was one-third of their salary that was exempt. That will be changing effective Jan. 1, 2019. They will have to pay taxation on all of their remuneration effective that date."

This change will have different impacts on individuals depending on their taxable status.

"Each and every municipality will need to determine their strategy. They have to address this in some way, shape or form. If they don't, councillors will ultimately see a reduction in the amount that they're getting paid. Municipal councillors do not get paid handsomely anyway. They probably get paid very little compared to other elected officials. Ultimately, any reduction in that doesn't seem necessarily fair," he said.

"Remuneration of public officials is a touchy subject to start with, so what we're looking at here is appointing a citizens' committee that will review salaries in comparison to other jurisdictions and make sure that the salaries here are fair and acceptable to the ratepayers."

Balmoral students reach out in remembrance

By Jennifer McFee

Remembrance Day was particularly poignant for a group of Balmoral students who attended the No Stone Left Alone event.

On Monday, Nov. 5, Grade 7 and 8 students from Balmoral School visited Transcona Cemetery for the ceremony.

The No Stone Left Alone initiative launched in 2011 by Maureen G. Bianchini-Purvis to recognize the sacrifice of Canadians who lost their lives in service. Her hope is that some day all soldiers' headstones will have a poppy placed in their honour.

This year, 8,739 students visited 101 cemeteries across the country, where they honoured 58,782 Canadian Forces members.

Teacher Carter McLean said it's the fourth time his class has participated in this event at the Transcona Cemetery.

"A lot of the students take in what Remembrance Day is and who we try to remember. It's a very good program because the students get to make connections that otherwise wouldn't be possible," he said.

"In the past years, three of our students have been able to recite In Flanders Fields and go to meet some World War II veterans and current-day veterans. I think it was very impactful for them."

The impact was tangible for this year's students who created an unexpected connection with another attendee at the event.

"This year, we actually got to meet some of the family members of one of the veterans who had passed away," McLean said.

Students placed a painted poppy on veteran's headstones.

"We were standing at the gravesite and his daughter came up and introduced herself to us. I love for students to see what they're remembering."

Linda Page also enjoyed the chance to connect with the Balmoral students and to share a little bit of her dad's story.

"My dad was a mechanic stationed in Borden, England. He was there for three years from 1942 to '45," Page said.

"He won the MBE medal from the queen because he invented a part that GM used while he was there. It helped a lot of the vehicles over there. His name was Nicholas Albert Durado."

She expressed appreciation for the event and for the opportunity to meet the local students.

"I was so amazed at how nice and polite they were and how they appreciate what veterans have done. I'm glad the young people were appreciating it," she said.

The Canadian flag was the perfect backdrop for the ceremony.

Brooke Farmer and Keira Willey with Linda Page.

"It's a nice event and it's really taken off all across the country. It's wonderful."

For McLean's class, No Stone Left Alone marked the beginning of a month-long Remembrance Day unit. In the coming days and weeks, they will explore different books based around Remembrance Day and engage in activities and discussions that stem from the literature.

They will also research veterans from the First and Second World Wars and use a creative charcoal rub technique to mimic an etching on a memorial.

"Then we're going to have an assembly and share with our school community what we learned about the different veterans," McLean said.

"It's important to remember, and this really helps to bring it home for them."

Teulon Rockwood firefighters join Movember movement

By Jennifer McFee

The Teulon Rockwood Fire Department is ablaze with excitement to raise as much money as possible for the month-long Movember initiative.

The Movember Foundation is a charity that focuses on men's health issues such as prostate cancer and testicular cancer, as well as mental health and suicide prevention.

Starting in 2003, men have been growing moustaches throughout the month of November while also raising funds for the cause.

This year, volunteer firefighter Cory Moeller decided that he was going to get involved.

"I was going to do it on my own this November, so I made a profile and then I saw there was a group option. I thought it would be a better way to raise more money if we had more guys doing it. Obviously, the fire department gets a lot of support from people in the town," he said.

"I've never actually done this before, but I know different people who are affected by cancer. This is such an easy way to raise money for it. For the community, I think it's pretty entertaining to see guys trying to grow moustaches. Hopefully we can keep it rolling and raise a bunch more money."

Since Moeller is the youngest participant on his 14-person Movember team, he thinks it's unlikely that he'll grow the most impressive moustache. Instead, he's hoping to be the team member to raise the most money. He will face some friendly competition from his fellow team members: Chris Dawson, Glenn Carroll, Danny Hutchinson, Sean Mc-Gill, Scott Skinner, Reid Campbell, Kevin Algrer, Gord Chubey, Michael Rawlings, Curtis Good, Tyler Wilton, Nolan Trent and Kelly Klein.

"For myself, I put a goal of $500 and I'm about half-way there now," said Moeller, the team's captain.

"But our chief has raised over $500 so far, so he's doing really well."

At press time, Fire Chief Chris Dawson was close the $700 mark and counting.

"We left it open to each individual to set their own goals. Cancer affects everybody and we have had members who have been touched by cancer, perhaps not prostate but it's been other types of cancer. Jim Dola was a recent victim of cancer and he was a member of the department for 15 years," Dawson said.

"We currently have family members who are going through it. One of our members' wives is in cancer treatment and we have another member himself who is also in cancer treatment. So I think this is a nice rallying point for some of the guys to be able to put in a bit of effort to show their support for the cause."

The local team, called TRFD Movember, had raised more than $1,900 at press time. To make a donation to the team or to an individual, visit <https://ca.movember.com/team/2331584>.

Emergency alert system test to take place on Nov. 28

By Justin Luschinski

The province is hoping the next emergency alert system test will go off without a hitch.

Manitoba will be testing the Alert Ready system on Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 1:55 p.m. The system aims to push out emergency alerts to Canadians through cable TV, radio, and smartphones.

But during the previous test in May, some phones didn't receive an alert.

Mike Gagne, director of operations for Manitoba's Emergency Measures Organization (EMO), said the differences between each device might have been the issue.

"From our perspective, the test was successful, it went out to people. It might come down to (someone's) phone, and whether or not it's up to date," Gagne said. "Another thing to consider is these wireless service providers partnered with us just six months ago. The fact that the alerts got out to most phones, in such a short amount of time, is huge."

Gagne said that in order for residents to receive an alert, their phone software needs to be up to date, and they need to be on an LTE connection. The phones need to also be relatively modern, older phones are not compatible.

Manitoba's EMO is also reviewing and implementing new emergency response protocols for each municipality in the province.

Gagne said most of their work is fine tuning policies the RMs already have.

"It's like we're putting old wine into new bottles. Most of the RMs have already been doing what they need to do, we're just looking to help them improve," Gagne said. "We look at their plans, and sometimes they've hit the nail on the head, other times we help them consider other situations."

Gagne said the changes include updating the regulations around large scale emergency response protocols. They're meeting with the RMs, figuring out where the gaps are in their policies, and making sure there is a plan if a large-scale emergency were to occur.

Gagne said many of the changes come from a review of the Emergency Measures Act in 2013, as a response to the 2011 Assiniboine River flood.

Last week coyotes got a bird's eye view of their hunting territory at the Rosser Holsteins Dairy farm last week. Coyotes have an annual home range of about 20 square kilometres. They can be seen anytime of the day but are most active at night as they search for food and defend their territory from other coyotes. Often considered a predator of larger animals such as deer or livestock, coyotes will also scavenge on dead animals and eat insects, rodents, rabbits and songbirds. Manitoba's vast agricultural tracts are prime habitats for this remarkably popular predator.

Climate change and carbon tax fallacies

There were several fallacies in the "Climate change hoax and carbon tax insult" letter, Nov. 8, that need to be addressed.

The first is that there was consensus behind the theory of global cooling in the 1970s. There never was. Ice ages are cyclical events and some scientists in the 1970s postulated we were due for another ice age — perhaps in the next 1,000 years. But a series of cold winters convinced news media such as Time Magazine and Newsweek to run speculative stories that the next ice age might be nigh. The predominant theory, even in the 1970s, was that burning fossils fuels would create climate change: support for that theory has only solidified in the last 25 years.

The second is that acid rain simply disappeared. Quite the contrary, the acid rain problem was significant enough in the 1980s to draw the United States and Canada together to create the Canadian-U.S. Acid Rain Treaty in 1991, which called on both countries to reduce acid rain causing emissions by 50 per cent. The treaty worked with the emissions behind acid rain cut in half by 2011.

The third is that the hole in the ozone layer simply disappeared.

Showing Dad how we ice fish in Manitoba

Welcome all.

There was a sense of warmth standing with Mick Walsh and Lawrence Proulx in the centre aisle of Selkirk's Canadian Tire. Giant inflatable Santa's hummed and swayed on shelves high above our heads as Mick, the store manager, offered his donation of a portable ice shack and auger to Lawrence, the president of the Manitoba Ice Fishing Associations for its yearly winter raffle.

Mick, who is a fairly tall, thin chap and sports a short brown beard under an ever-present cap, is given to speaking quietly with forethought. So it was there that as we stood together talking of the stores exceedingly varied stock of outdoor and sport equipment that I noticed him looking over at the fishing gear with a smile.

"What?" I asked, picking up on his reflective expression.

"Last winter my dad, Paul, who lives in Newfoundland, came for a visit. I wanted to show him how we fish here so one day we loaded up my truck with my fishing gear and headed onto the Red River ice by the 'bridge to nowhere.'"

As Christmas shoppers milled around us, Mick went on describing how as he eased his truck down the river bank ruts, he could feel his dad throwing nervous glances his way. Snow billowed up from the tossing truck's tires splashing and melting on the windshield as Mick urged his trusty truck on, bouncing wildly through some snow-bank drifts. Then, before him was a ridge of what appeared to be another snow drift but as they hit it, instantly Mick knew it was a piled up ice ridge. The front wheels crunched into it with a shock that jarred through his arms so forcefully it knocked his hands off the steering wheel. The front truck wheels bounced shaking over the ice. Out of the corner of Mick's eyes, he could see his dad's hand slam down on the door handle, throw his shoulder against the door springing it open and jumping out to the safety of the white snow pack on the ice. Mick concerned for his dad's well-being put the truck in park and got out too. With the truck stopped, idling innocently, Mick and Paul peered at each other through the wide open doors. "It's OK, dad, the ice here is really thick and baring open water by the pile-ups, if you can find a flat place to cross, it'll hold 10 trucks," Mick reassured his father.

A few minutes later after calming down, they climbed back into the truck and trundled off to the middle of the river where they stopped and set up camp. Soon the inside of their warm portable ice shack, with ice holes drilled and baited hooks in the water, almost immediately the end of Paul's short rod took a nose dive. The rod shuttered and Paul came alive with excitement. He began reeling in and soon could see the head of a good-sized pickerel just under the holes. Pointing the end of his rod to the fish to ease the strain on the equipment, he hauled up and the fish popped up from the hole then fell back onto the ice flopping across it. Suddenly, the hook sprang free of the fish mouth. Paul quickly bent down trying to capture his fish before it slipped back into the water but to no avail. With a flick of its tail, it slipped headfirst

Students remember

Grade 6 students from Ecole Stonewall Centennial School attended a special outdoor Remembrance Day ceremony at the Stonewall Cemetery hosted by the Quarry Park Heritage Arts Centre staff last Thursday. Derek Good led the service explaining to students that they participate in Remembrance Day services to remember the men and women who have served our country in times of war and in times of peace. We support those that have served and continue to serve so that we can have the freedom we enjoy today. Following a recording of The Last Post, students placed personalized votives they created at the veteran's headstones to commemorate and pay tribute to local soldiers that served in the Canadian Armed Forces. Earlier in the week students viewed the Stonewall Remembers exhibit at the Heritage Arts Centre to learn how local soldiers contributed to the military during the First and Second World War.

Teulon Collegiate and Teulon Elementary students joined together for a Remembrance Day service at TCI at 11 a.m. last Thursday.

The TES choir sang and the band played O Canada and God Save the Queen. Students, staff and honoured guests placed their poppies on wreaths honouring those who have served while the choir sang two additional songs.

Grade 11 student Quentin Hepples and last year's TCI graduate Jazmin Wallbank signed the words to O Canada and God Save the Queen. Teacher Shayne Campbell piped a Lament on the bagpipes after the Last Post and moment of silence, before Reveille.

Campbell's Grade 11 English class organized the service from start to finish — setting up, inviting guest speakers, creating and printing out the program, lighting the candles for the act of remembrance during the roll call of those who served during the First and Second World War while ushering and emceeing the service.

The staff and students of TES and TCI visited the cenotaph for a short service, with Campbell piping a Lament on the bagpipes while the cadets placed a wreath on the steps.

into the water disappearing with a splash.

"Well, it sure left its tracks," Paul observed looking at the wet ridges in the snow the fish had made with its fins and tail before it vanished back in the water.

Thank you, Mick and all the gang at Selkirk's Canadian Tire, for your donations to MIFA. You guys are the best. Mick, that fishing story about you and your dad was wonderful.

A while back I met a grey-haired trio — George Sorokoski, good-natured and very thin Ken Koloski and 95-year-old rambunctious Peter Maruca — who have fished together for years. We got to talking and George remembered being taught to fish at Windego Resort on the south end of Lac du Bonnet by his father. "I'm old enough to remember that place," Peter interjected.

"Yeah," Ken replied, "it burned down once."

"Yep," George chimed in with a sly look, "it burned down again years later really good."

Sometimes winter ice fishing comes upon us very quickly. It was only days ago that I met Adam Zacharias from Beausejour, who showed us the pickerel he caught on Netley Creek while open-water fishing. Now last Sunday I talked to Jeff Matias of Winnipeg as he sat in his portable ice shack, again, on Netley Creek with four inches of ice and three feet of water under him, catching jackfish. Till next week. Bye for now, my friends.

Twenty parishioners of all ages turned out at the Stonewall Church of the Ascension to ring the church bell 100 times at sundown at 4:49 p.m. on Nov. 11.

It was part of a Canada-wide commemoration to signify the 100-year anniversary of the end of the First World War. On the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month the armistice was signed to end the war.

Today we honour our veterans in Canada and other British Commonwealth countries on Remembrance Day. The "Bells of Peace" initiative of the Royal Canadian Legion and Veterans Affairs Canada invited places of worship and religious organizations with bells to toll them 100 times at sunset all across Canada.

"It was a fitting way to extend thanks and remembrance on Nov. 11 and hit home the fact that even though the First World War was dubbed the War to End All Wars. It didn't," said parishioner and Stonewall Mayor Clive Hinds. "It is encouraging and fitting that people from all walks of life remember and give thanks for the sacrifices made on our behalf in the past and today."

Low-interest winter tire program continuing

Submitted

Since its introduction four years ago, more than 100,000 low-interest loans have been processed under the province's Low-Interest Winter Tire Program, Crown Services Minister Colleen Mayer and Manitoba Public Insurance announced last month.

"Prior to this program, Manitoba had one of the lowest rates of winter tire use in all of Canada," said Mayer. "Thanks to this program, which is administered by Manitoba Public Insurance, and an increase in overall awareness about the safety benefits of winter tires, that number has grown significantly, which enhances road safety and helps to keep our auto insurance rates in check."

Winter tires have a cold weather rubber compound and tread patterns designed to perform on wet, snow-covered and icy surfaces. Numerous road safety studies confirm that winter tires reduce braking distances by lessening sliding on ice and snow.

"Loss prevention strategies of this nature ultimately benefit Manitoba Public Insurance customers through lower rates," said Satvir Jatana, vice-president responsible for communications, Manitoba Public Insurance.

"Our historic data shows an increase in collision claims during the winter months," said Jatana. "Many of these collisions are fender benders, where one vehicle is unable to stop due to snow or ice, so as more vehicles in Manitoba are equipped with winter tires, we expect collision rates will ultimately decrease."

The program provides loans of up to 48 months at prime plus two per cent up to $2,000 per vehicle. Participation is as easy as going to any one of 695 participating winter tire retailers throughout the province to confirm eligibility and have the loan authorization processed.

Eligible tires display a snowflake symbol, as endorsed by Transport Canada. This symbol indicates that the tires have met specific snow traction performance requirements and are designed to be used in severe snow conditions.

Financing remains available to eligible customers for the purchase of winter tires in addition to associated installation costs including rims, tire pressure monitoring system, addition of studs to tires (some limitations apply), mounting and balancing, wheel alignment and shop supplies.

Customers interested in participating in the program are encouraged to visit Manitoba Public Insurance's website at mpi.mb.ca for more information on program rules and to select a participating retailer.

Quick Facts

- The average length of a winter tire loan is currently about three years.
- The average loan amount is approximately $1,200.
- At temperatures just below freezing on dry pavement, winter tires have been shown to reduce stopping distances by as much as 30 per cent compared with all-season tires.
- Winter tires offer significantly better traction on snow-covered or icy road surfaces at temperatures well below -30 C than all-season tires have at 4 C.

Teulon pays tribute to Second World War veteran

Submitted by Judith Dedrick Williams

Our Remembrance Day service was attended by over 300 people, including several vets and currently serving members.

Our Call to Remembrance address was shared by Master Corporal Victoria Stone, who spoke of the many roles the military plays in our world today, and United Church Rev. Yang, who spoke eloquently of the beauty of Korea and its cities, thanking Canada for its part in preserving that beauty by helping Korea during the Korean war.

Our Candle Lighting Ceremony included candles for each of the 34 soldiers killed in the wars, plus one for those who have since passed, and one for those presently serving. This part of the service is performed by cadets. This year, we added many personal memorabilia to our Wall of Remembrance, including a gas mask, flight helmet, part of a First World War soldier's kit and a First World War soldier's ring from the 144th Battalion, now the Royal Winnipeg Rifles.

At 5 p.m., the bell of St. Cyprian's Anglican church was rung 100 times by Scott Taylor to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the First World War Armistice.

Holiday Magic Lights Parade rolls through Teulon on Friday

Winterfest craft sale Friday and Saturday

By Jennifer McFee

The snow has started to fall and it's already time to start ringing in the holiday season.

To get things rolling, the 17th annual Holiday Magic Lights Parade will brighten the streets of Teulon on Friday, Nov. 16 at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by Kozy's Productions, the much-anticipated event aims to bring the spirit of Christmas to Teulon. Everyone is invited to dress up their horse and wagon, vehicle, trailer or even themselves for the parade. A special guest all the way from the North Pole will also make a special appearance.

Anyone who would like to submit an entry is asked to contact Debbie Kozyra at 204-886-2378 or kozyprod@mymts.net. There is no cost to participate.

"One of the main reasons we do the parade is to get people into the Christmas mood and get them out shopping. There's also a Winterfest craft sale going on that weekend and businesses are doing their own special sales," Kozyra said.

"The main goal of the parade is to entice people to come out and participate with us. We have collectors along the road, including most of our municipal councillors, who are going to be collecting spare change for the Teulon and District Christmas Cheer Board."

In 2017, the volunteers collected more than $600, and Kozyra hopes to top that amount this year.

"The Christmas Cheer Board is a very important part of our community. I think that nowadays we really need to support those organizations that are helping out families in need at Christmas time," she said.

"We'd also like to remind people that the Southwest District Palliative Care is having their tree lighting on Nov. 16 at the Teulon District Senior Resource office at 54 Main St. They collect donations that go towards the memory tree, which is lit on Main Street. It's another very worthwhile cause."

Since Teulon will be celebrating its 100th anniversary in 2019, the centennial committee will be on hand to promote upcoming events for the milestone.

As well, the chamber of commerce will be serving hot chocolate and cookies on Main Street beside the Ag office and followed by a fireworks show at 8 p.m.

"We're really hoping that people will come out and enjoy — and let's hope our weather holds out for us. We've had everything from the mildest parade nights to the coldest parade nights," Kozyra said.

"There's so much happening this weekend, and it's all about getting people into the Christmas spirit and the mood of giving. This is really a good way to kick off the Christmas season for the town and to get people out and involved. We welcome everybody. It's all about spreading the Christmas cheer."

INTEGRITY AUTO

The Mechanic's Perspective

Winter is fast approaching - Is your vehicle ready for it? Bring your vehicle in to Integrity Auto for a Winterization to make sure it's in tip-top shape and ready for the cold and snow!

A Winterization includes an oil service, removing wheels to visually inspect your brakes, rotating tires and/or installing your winter tires (on rims), testing the battery, checking block heater and performing a thorough overall inspection to give you peace of mind and keep your vehicle on the road.

Proper maintenance is the best way to save money on your vehicle. Too often, putting off required maintenance can end up costing you much more in the long run, plus the added expense and frustration of down time and towing costs. Preventative maintenance is always a better value than waiting until something fails and having the inconvenience of unplanned vehicle down time.

Recently, we had a vehicle towed in for a no start and found that the fuel pump had failed due to a badly plugged fuel filter that had never been changed! Had the fuel filter been regularly maintained for a small fee, the customer could likely have avoided a costly fuel pump job!

Call us today to book your vehicle in or ask about recommended maintenance for your vehicle.

Stonewall hockey team helps out at Winnipeg Harvest

By Jennifer McFee

The Stonewall Blues Atom team embraced an opportunity to lend a hand at Winnipeg Harvest as part of a team-building exercise.

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, a group of about 25 players, siblings and parents toured the facility of Winnipeg Harvest. During the tour, they learned that all the donated food is dispensed to soup kitchens and food banks around the city and throughout the province.

After that, they were given the task of sorting through four giant crates of potatoes to set aside the potatoes that were still good.

"There are five-foot by five-foot bins of donated potatoes. There were lots of potatoes that people wouldn't eat that were mushy and there were also a bunch of onions in there that weren't very appetizing," said coach Chris Arbez, noting that team manager Monica James organized the outing.

"We had to sort through them and then they went into bags. The kids had to weigh the bags and put a label on them. Then they taped them shut and piled them up."

In total, the team filled sacs with 2,200 pounds of potatoes.

TRIBUNE PHOTOS BY MONICA JAMES

The Stonewall Blues Atom hockey team and their families volunteered at the Winnipeg Harvest as part of a team-building exercise on Nov. 6.

"The people at Winnipeg Harvest were ecstatic with the effort," Arbez said.

"Everyone who walked away from this experience gained a little more appreciation for what they have at home and it was good exercise to show the kids that not everyone is as fortunate as them."

It was also an eye-opening realization to see how much food is donated to the organization and how many soup kitchens and food banks benefit from these donations.

"My son actually wants to go back. He wants to make it a weekly thing. I think there are a few other kids who are interested in that as well and their families are going to go there on their own. They do have a family night every once in a while, so you can bring your kids there and work," Arbez said. "I think four families also went to Si-loam Mission last week. They were so interested that they did a tour of that place as well."

Arbez reminds everyone that the team's local tournament will be in town all weekend, and he invites everyone to come out and cheer them on.

Children who attended pre-school story time last Friday at the South Interlake Regional Library in Stonewall were in for a special surprise. Friday just happened to be the letter 'F' day. Anderson read a book about fire safety to children, gave them each a bag of fire safety themed activities to take home and a tour of the fire truck. Again, quite the contrary, Canada played a key role in convincing the international community to adopt the Montreal Protocol on Substances that deplete the ozone layer in 1989. The treaty abolished the production of key ozone depleting substances such as CFCs (chlorofluorocarbons). Since then the ozone layer has slowly began to recover, but full recovery will still take decades.

Acid rain and the hole in the ozone layer are very real environmental threats that haven't simply disappeared but by acting together, we've created strategies that have mitigated and began rolling back the damage. Most people probably never even noticed the problems were being solved: on the ground saving the ozone layer meant changing how you disposed of your refrigerator. Just as it was with acid rain and the ozone layer, dealing with climate change will required that we actually do something; the problem won't disappear on its own and the solution will probably involve changes or costs that we can't help but notice.

Special memorial in honour of Lt. Alan Arnett McLeod V.C.

By Staff

First World War veteran Lt. Alan Arnett McLeod V.C. was remembered at a memorial service marking the 100th anniversary of the death of one of Manitoba's heroes of the Great War in Winnipeg.

In remembrance of Lt. McLeod, who was born in Stonewall, a crowd gathered at Kildonan Community Church on Nov. 6.

George Fraser, executive director of the Historic Kildonan Church and Cemetery, welcomed guests while Rev. Ron Fischer said the opening prayer before Irwin Kumka, president of the Historic Kildonan Church and Cemetery, told the story of the hero.

Lt. McLeod was one of only 17 Manitobans who earned the Victoria Cross medal. His efforts earned him the honour after his plane was shot down and he helped save the life of a fellow soldier.

Lt. McLeod's short life was marked by both heroism and tragedy. He was known as a modest man despite earning the Commonwealth's highest honour for his service as a pilot in the First World War.

Lt. McLeod was flying near Albert, France, on March 27, 1918, when several German planes confronted his aircraft.

While flying with his observer Lt. A. W. Hammond, M.C., they were attacked by hostile formations by bombs and machine-gun fire. They were assailed at a height of 5,000 feet by eight enemy tri-planes, which dived at them from all directions, firing from their front guns. By skilful manoeuvring Lt. McLeod enabled Lt. Hammond to fire bursts at each machine in turn, shooting three of them down out of control.

Lt. McLeod had received five wounds and continued the engagement when a bullet penetrated his petrol tank and set the machine on fire. He then climbed out on to the left bottom wing, controlling his machine from the side of the fuselage, and by side slipping steeply, kept the flames to one side, enabling Lt. Hammond to continue firing until the ground was reached.

Lt. Hammond had been wounded six times when the plane crashed and Lt. McLeod, notwithstanding his own wounds, dragged him away from the burning wreckage at great personal risk from heavy machine-gun fire from the enemy's lines.

Lt. McLeod was again wounded by a bomb while engaged in the act of rescue, but he persevered until he had placed Lt. Hammond in safety before falling himself from exhaustion and loss of blood.

McLeod and Hammond were forced to lay for eight to nine hours before Allies could come in under nightfall to rescue them.

Once McLeod was well enough to travel, he returned to Stonewall to be cared for by his father, a doctor. The doctor's office was also the family home and today is operated as the McLeod House Tearoom and Giftshop, owned by Leanne Stewart.

Tragically, McLeod contracted the Spanish flu at 19 and just five days shy of seeing the Great War end, he died on Nov. 6, 1918. McLeod is buried with his parents Dr. Alexander Neil McLeod and Margaret Arnett McLeod at the Kildonan Community Church Cemetery.

High Flight

(A poem recited on Nov. 6, 2018, 100 year old retired flying officer Ralph Wild)

Oh! I have slipped the surly bonds of earth,
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed, and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds, -- and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of -- Wheeled and soared and swung High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there
I've chased the shouting wind along, and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air --
Up, up the long, delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark or even eagle flew

Past the Perimeter nabs MCMA Group of the Year award

By Jennifer McFee

Local band Past the Perimeter has made their hometown proud by bringing home a Manitoba Country Music Award on the weekend.

The talented foursome earned the title of Group or Duo of the Year, coming out on top against the other nominees Doc Walker, Johnson Crook, Petric, Poets & Lies and Two Crows for Comfort.

The local group is made up of Derek Peters on guitar and vocals, Evan Taplin on bass and vocals, Devin Biy on drums, and Lachlan McLean on guitar and vocals. They received their award and performed for the crowd during the third annual Manitoba Country Music Awards gala on Nov. 10 at the Metropolitan Entertainment Centre in Winnipeg.

Speaking on behalf of the band, Peters said they were stunned when they heard their name announced as the Group or Duo of the Year.

"It's not too often I'm speechless, and my wife can back that up. It honestly didn't sink in until we were back in our seats. It's just a wonderful feeling when your hard work pays off. Winning emerging artist last year and now group/duo this year is definitely the direction we want to be going," he said.

"We spent a lot of time and weekends away from our families this year, so to bring this home for them is our small way of saying thank you. You always hope to do your hometown proud, and I think were starting to accomplish that. The amount of support rolling in through social media has been staggering, so this award is as much for our fans as it is for us."

Band manager Bambi Rutherford said that it's amazing to see the musicians reach the goals that they have set over the years.

"When you achieve those goals and you're honoured with an award such as this, it validates all your hard work," she said.

"And if it wasn't for the support of the community at their backs, these things don't happen. They're grateful for the support of the listeners and the streams and the radio stations. In this type of profession, who you have on board with you really defines who you're going to be."

At the same time, Rutherford feels grateful for having the opportunity to

"I'm so happy for them. They were blown away. There are so many great country music acts in the province. To be up against some of the best — like Doc Walker and Petric, to name a couple — that is pretty amazing. They're so humble and they feel so honoured."

Stonewall rider comes out on top at prestigious jump-off

By Jennifer McFee

Congratulations are in order for Brennan McCullagh, who returned home as a champion of The Royal Horse Show in Toronto this weekend.

The 19-year-old from Stonewall took the Reserve Champion in the Uplands U25 Jumping National Championship.

In the second phase, McCullagh was the first of the five riders vying against each other in the jump-off to clear a round, coming in at 35.66 seconds.

Since he also earned fifth place in Phase 1, McCullagh earned nine points in total over the two phases for the Reserve Championship.

"I'm not sure if it's fully sunk in because it was so huge and unexpected," said McCullagh.

"It was a cool show because I started out just a little rusty at the competition and then each class got better and better. So to finish on such a strong placing is really nice."

He shares the victory with his horse, WKM Xenia, who is an eight-year-old Belgian Warmblood mare.

"My situation is a little bit unique because my horse was bred in Alexander in the Brandon area by WKM stables. A lot of the other horses competing in that level are imported. Even the ones that aren't imported, they aren't usually bred in Manitoba, so it was kind of cool to have a talented horse from Manitoba. Then with me being from Manitoba too, it just became a pretty cool combination," he said.

"Both of us became more confident and comfortable in that competition arena. When we first got there, it was new for both of us. We've never been to The Royal before, so I had to get used to riding her in that ring and she needed to get used to any potential distractions. Then she also got used to jumping that height of fences."

For the next short while, McCullagh and his horse will both take a bit of a break from training and competing.

"My horse has been living in Toronto with my coach for the past couple months. She's either showing or she's training at their farm, so she's been very busy. She's going to come home for probably a month of rest before we even think about going back into training and competing again," he said.

"I'm in my second year of electrical engineering at the University of Manitoba. I had been going to Toronto for three or four days at a time over a weekend so I don't lose very much school. Even if my coach keeps her in perfect shape, we have to practise together because it really is about the horse and rider combination."

As his coach and trainer, Mac McQuaker expressed great pride in McCullagh's achievements.

"We were very happy for him and the horse. He had made the commitment of coming out here to Ontario this summer with the goal of going to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, and he achieved his goals. He qualified and then every day he got better and better at The Royal," McQuaker said by phone from Schomberg, north of Toronto.

"At the final class of the show, he was able to win it. Whenever our students do well, we're as happy as if we were in the ring doing it ourselves. It was a great accomplishment for him."

One Hundred Reasons to Remember

I am really rather afraid, but more afraid to stay at home with my conscience.
~ Col. John McCrae

(Prescott. In Flanders Fields: The Story of John McCrae, p. 77)

This Remembrance Day, I will be remembering a man I never knew, whose legacy shaped my faith as a youth and young adult. Colonel John McCrae was a member of my home church in Guelph, Ontario. Each Sunday, as I sang in the choir, I faced his family pew. A brass plaque marked the seat where he used to sit week by week. I often found myself imagining how his faith gave him the strength and the character we see behind the words of his famous poem, In Flanders Fields.

Each year, on Remembrance Sunday, In Flanders Fields was read in my church. In addition, some story from his life would be shared. These stories helped to paint a picture for me of a man with great compassion, humour, integrity and faith. They helped me to see him as a person, as well as a war hero and poet. As I learned about the things he enjoyed in life, his skill as a doctor, his love for children, I caught a glimpse of the losses that war inflicts.

When John left Canada to serve in World War One, he took a horse with him named Bonfire. His horse's name is fitting for the man who lit a fire of hope and faith through his actions and writing. John used to write letters home to his nieces and nephews, as if written by Bonfire, and signed them with a hoof print. Just one example of the sense of humour he was able to carry with him in such dire circumstances.

No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends. (John 15:13 NRSV) This verse from the gospel of John epitomizes John McCrae's life for me. His life was all about self-sacrifice. His heart was always with his friends on the front. He insisted on living in a tent, as they did, even though he was entitled to warmer quarters in the officers' huts.

As we mark the one hundredth anniversary of Armistice Day, may we all look deep within and listen for God's call to serve our neighbours and friends sacrificially. We have far more than a hundred reasons to be thankful for the freedoms we know and treasure.

Manitoba wins Canadian mixed curling title

By Brian Bowman

After losing two of their first three games, it didn't look good for Colin Kurz's rink at the 2019 Canadian mixed championship at the Fort Rouge Curling Club in Winnipeg.

But then a funny thing happened. His Assiniboine-Memorial Club rink suddenly got red-hot, culminating in a 7-4 victory over Nova Scotia's Kendal Thompson in the final on Saturday.

"This is so exciting, we never thought we would go into the nationals and win it," said Marquette's Sara Oliver, who plays lead for Team Manitoba. "We wanted to, at least, make it to the championship round."

Kurz, whose rink also includes third Meghan Walter and second Brendan Bilawka, stole a pair in the fourth end to take a 4-1 lead and was up 5-4 with the hammer in the eighth and final end.

Kurz nailed a wide-open hit with his last rock to score a pair for the win. Oliver made two nice shots to the forefront to set her rink up for the pair.

To reach the final, Manitoba hammered Ontario's Wayne Tuck 9-1 in a semifinal game. Kurz scored a key five in the sixth end.

"(That win) definitely gave us a confidence boost," Oliver said. "We played amazing in that game and we got a big break from Ontario - they kind of struggled a bit - and we capitalized on their misses."

In the other semifinal, Nova Scotia defeated Quebec 5-3.

Quebec defeated Ontario 7-6 in an extra end to win the bronze medal.

Oliver said there was a lot of pressure on their rink just to advance to the championship round.

"We had our backs against the wall pretty much going into the championship round," she said. "We couldn't lose any more games and we kind of grinded through and ended up winning somehow."

Manitoba finished the round-robin with a mediocre 4-3 record to advance to the championship round.

"It wasn't looking pretty after that first day with a 1-2 record," Oliver admitted.

Kurz's rink then went on to win three more games, including an 8-7 extra-end victory over Nova Scotia on Friday night to advance to the semifinals.

Manitoba finished the week with a 9-3 record, which included five-straight wins.

It was pretty special to go on such a nice run in front of a bevy of family and friends.

"All of our friends and family were out so to do it in front of them was amazing," Oliver said. "And to do it with the two boys and Meg, of course, was phenomenal."

Kurz's victory was Manitoba's ninth Canadian mixed title and the first since Sean Grassie won in 2009.

A site for the 2019 world mixed championship has yet to be announced by the World Curling Federation.

The worlds will be held next October, meaning Kurz's crew will have a lot of time to prepare for their first-ever world curling event.

"We're super excited to be able to travel together and represent Canada together because it's the first time any one of us has done it," Oliver, 22, said. "It will be exciting to go to a different place and see what we can do out there."

Warren Mercs off to a great start this season

Staff

The Warren Mercs are off to a great start in the South Eastern Manitoba Hockey League.

Warren improved its record to 3-0 after a 3-2 win over the Notre Dame Hawks on Saturday evening in St. Claude.

The Mercs' Mitch Hansen scored the eventual game-winning goal midway in the third period.

Darrin Husak gave Warren a 1-0 lead 6:17 into the game and then Notre Dame's Dan Lesage and the Mercs' Landon Gray traded goals late in the opening period.

Lesage then scored the lone goal in the second period.

Hayden Dola made 28 saves for the win. Dola is now 3-0 with a 1.95 goals-against average and .930 save percentage. Warren won its second straight game over Morden last Thursday, defeating the Redskins 4-3 in a shootout.

Johnny Lazo and Reid MacLeod scored for Warren in the shootout while Mike Rey replied for Morden.

The Mercs' Cole Murdock tied the score at 3-3 at 16:15 of the third period.

Jay Fehr gave Morden a 3-2 lead with a power-play goal at 5:27 of the third.

Warren took an early 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Lazo and Hansen but Morden answered with goals from Tyler Peers and Rey to deadlock the score at 2-2 after 20 minutes.

Dola made 36 saves for the win.

Warren (3-0) will be back in action this Saturday (7:30 p.m.) when they visit the Carman Beavers (1-1).

The Mercs will then be in Portage to take on the Islanders (4-0) on Nov. 21.

Warren's next home game is Nov. 24 when it hosts Notre Dame.

Thunder wins RMFL championship

By Brian Bowman

There was no question as to who the best team was in the Rural Manitoba Football League this season.

The Interlake Thunder capped off a perfect season with a convincing 42-20 win over Swan Valley in Stonewall on Saturday to win the Doug Steeves Trophy.

"As cold of a day that it was, no one was complaining about the weather when it was over," said Thunder head coach Mitch Obach. "There was all smiles and hugs on the field, that's for sure. They were pretty overjoyed and you could make the argument that we were the top team and there was more pressure. It was a lot of work to keep it going week after week and pulling it out week after week."

"It was a relief when they reached that big goal that they had."

After Swan Valley took a 1-0 lead on a missed field goal, Interlake answered with 12 points to go up 12-1 after the first quarter.

The Thunder led 12-8 at the half and then exploded for 21 points in the third quarter.

Interlake has dominated teams in the second half all season.

"It was a close game at halftime," Obach said. "It was back and forth and it felt like it could go either way. In the third, it was gut check time and the guys came out and that third quarter was probably the best football that they've played all year on either side of the ball."

Colton Nedotiafko had another outstanding game running the football. He had 38 carries for 287 yards and two touchdowns.

"He's just an unbelievable workhorse," Obach said. "I don't recall playing or coaching against a running back that can carry that kind of workload. Our team isn't a big-play offence. We just grind it out with a really strong offensive line."

Graeme Perrie also had a strong game with 19 rushes for 59 yards and a touchdown. He also caught two passes for 47 yards and a TD.

Thunder quarterback Josh Charison also had a running major.

On defence, Colton Meisner had a fantastic game with 13 tackles, a sack, and an interception that he returned for a touchdown.

Brandyn Linklater was also very good with 10 tackles, a sack, and an interception.

"They both had monster games," Obach said. "Swan is the strongest passing team, for sure, but with the weather they came with a pretty balanced attack which allowed those interior linebackers to be everywhere and both Colton and Brandyn had those types of games. We also had a great game from our defensive line which helps a lot."

"It was a great all-around effort from that defence, particularly in the second half."

Other key defensive players for the Thunder were Eric Zotter (four tackles and an interception), Ben Olafson (four tackles and a fumble recovery) and James Crate (four tackles, fumble recovery).

Interlake should be in great shape next year as they lose just five players after graduation. Those five players, though, Meisner, Nedotiafko, Gabe Simard, Tanner McCallen, and Corey Procter were a real talented bunch.

"They're all great guys and have been with the program for years," Obach noted. "Some of them are five-year guys and it feels great to see them go out on top. They stuck with football because they loved it, win or lose, all of those years."

With this impressive championship season, interest in the Thunder's program should increase. That bodes well for this team to recruit talented athletes in the future.

"Players are the best ambassadors for recruitment," Obach said. "Winning makes it easier to get people interested. People notice success and they want to be part of it. I'm optimistic that it will help build the program and make it more stable at this level."

Thunder quarterback Josh Charison hands off the ball to Colton Nedotiafko.

France, Safiniuk to play in national junior football final

By Brian Bowman

Alex France and Carter Safiniuk will be involved in the biggest football game of their young careers on Saturday.

Both former Interlake Thunder players are now members of the Langley Rams, who will be taking on the Hilltops in Saskatoon for the national junior title.

"We're pretty excited and pumped up," said France, a Warren product. "We had two weeks to get ready for it and take on Saskatoon."

Safiniuk, who is from Stonewall, is really looking forward to playing in a national title game.

"I'm really excited for it," he said last week. "(Saskatoon) has won the last four years and they don't make a lot of mistakes when they play."

Langley earned a shot at the four-time defending Canadian Bowl champions after a convincing 39-14 victory over the Hamilton Hurricanes, the previously undefeated Ontario Conference champions.

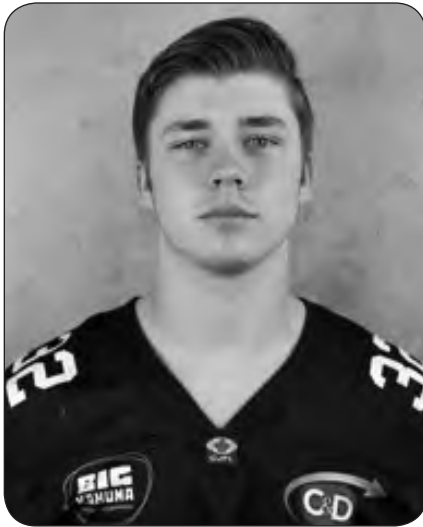

"We played pretty good," Safiniuk said. "It was a good win."

The Rams started the season slowly, winning just one of their first four games. But Langley is now red-hot with an overall record of 10-3.

"We knew we had to win," France said. "There was no other option. The boys picked it up and we went on a six-game winning streak to end the (regular) season at 7-3."

Three playoff wins later and the Rams are now vying for a national title. This Langley team is pretty good but so too are the Hilltops and the rest of the teams in the B.C. league.

"We're athletic and skilled," said Safiniuk, a safety. "We've got athletes everywhere. This is a really good league and I really enjoy it. It's fast and hard hitting."

Carter Safiniuk

TRIBUNE PHOTOS SUBMITTED

Alex France caught a pass in Week 1 but broke his collarbone on this play. France and Carter Safiniuk are two former Interlake Thunder players now with B.C.'s Langley Rams.

The chemistry amongst the Rams players is very good this season.

"We don't have a lot of depth," France admitted. "I really don't know how to describe it but we have just a good bond with all of the boys. We get along really well with each other, everyone's talking to each other and getting to know each other."

"There's no miscommunication anywhere." While the season has certainly been a good one for the Rams, it didn't start too well for France, now in his second season with Langley.

France broke his collarbone in three separate places after making a catch in Week 1 of the season that required surgery.

"That was a low point, I guess, you could call it," he said. "I worked so hard in the offseason and then it was taken away just like that."

France, 19, returned to action in Week 8 but has not been back in the lineup as a receiver. Instead, he is trying to make his mark on special teams.

"It's been a hell of a year," he said. "I wasn't scared when I came back but it was a mental thing because the (opposition) guys like to hit."

Safiniuk, meanwhile, hasn't played too much this season but he has developed immensely as a player.

He just turned 18 in a league that has players aged 17 to 22. Safiniuk is very grateful for the coaching he has received in Langley.

"I'm better everywhere," he said. "I'm faster, stronger, (have better) footwork. I really want to thank the coaches."

Jets soar to pair of MMJHL wins on the weekend

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets' winning streak is now at four games.

Stonewall won both of its games last weekend, including a 4-3 victory over the Transcona Railer Express on Saturday evening.

Keeven Daniels-Webb scored the game winner at 16:01 of the third period.

The Jets' Aiken Chop had tied the score at 3-3 with a power-play goal just 2:40 earlier.

Transcona took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Nik Kowalski and Kelby Picard.

But Stonewall tied the score at 2-2 with second-period tallies from Tayler Radley and Ryan McMahon.

Curtis Beck made 40 saves for the win as the Jets were outshot 43-22.

On Friday, the Jets were very good in a 5-1 home win over the St. Vital Victorias.

Stonewall bolted out of the gate, grabbing a 3-0 lead by the 14:21 mark of the opening period.

Carson Ouellette made it 1-0 just 2:20 into the game and then Chop and McMahon scored for the 3-0 lead.

St. Vital's Riley Beauchemin scored his league-leading 14th goal of the season in the second period but the Jets' Sam Mandryk and Jared Hulme replied with third-period goals.

Adam Swan made 34 saves for the win. He has won his past three starts and now has a 3.17 goals-against average and .910 save percentage.

Stonewall, now 6-4-2, will visit the first-place Raiders Jr. Hockey Club on Friday and then will host the last-place River East Royal Knights Sunday.

Both games start at 7:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, the MMJHL announced its Showcase will take place Jan. 18-20 at the Bell MTS Iceplex.

Each team will play one regular season home game and one away game.

Allison Sexton scored twice in the second period and then Jordyn Zacharias added a third-period hat trick to lead the No. 1 ranked University of Manitoba Bison women's hockey team to an 8-0 win over the Lethbridge Pronghorns at the Wayne Fleming Arena on Friday evening.

Sexton, a Stonewall product, scored her first goal of the game on a nice rush from her own blue line.

She wound her way through the Pronghorns' defence to beat the goalie on her blocker side.

Sexton scored her second goal of the game, banging home a rebound, with just 12 seconds remaining in the second.

Sheridan Oswald, with a pair, and Erin Kucheravy also scored for Manitoba.

Lauren Taraschuk earned the shut-out in goal.

On Saturday, Manitoba defeated Lethbridge 4-1 as Stonewall's Devan Johnson earned the win in goal.

Keystone Junior Hockey League taking CRJHL to court

By Brian Bowman

For years, Keystone Junior Hockey League teams have battled on the ice.

But this time, the KJHL is taking its battle to the courtroom.

Peguis First Nation Chief Glenn Hudson held a press conference last Friday where he spoke to the media.

Peguis is among five Manitoba First Nations that have launched a lawsuit and are asking for an injunction to block the newly-formed Capital Region Junior Hockey League from continuing its first-ever season.

The five communities behind the lawsuit are Peguis First Nation, Norway House Cree Nation, Opaskwayak Cree Nation, Fisher River Cree Nation and Cross Lake First Nation.

The KJHL is now a four-team league this season which includes the Peguis Juniors, OCN Storm, Cross Lake Islanders, and Norway House North Stars.

Peguis is a three-time defending league champion.

The Fisher River Hawks took a one year leave of absence from the league this season.

The CRJHL, which began play last month, was created in May when the Arborg Ice Dawgs, Lundar Falcons, Selkirk Fishermen, St. Malo Warriors, and the North Winnipeg Satellites withdrew from the KJHL, which also included five First Nation teams last season.

Hockey Manitoba certified the new league in September.

Hudson believes race was an issue for teams leaving the KJHL.

"Just look at the composition of the league. It's all non-First Nations and the north is all First Nations. Why is it separated that way?" he asked at the press conference Friday.

"We have to eliminate race-based decision making at all levels, especially in sport. That's the basis of why we want to look at challenging that new league.

"We want to be able to have hockey in our communities...lines were crossed and this needs to be changed," he added.

The communities filed a statement of claim with Court of Queen's Bench on Oct. 31 against the new league, the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, and Hockey Manitoba.

"Junior hockey is an integral part of our northern First Nation communities, and we will do whatever it takes to hold Hockey Manitoba and the Capital Junior Hockey League accountable for their actions," said Hudson in a media release.

None of the allegations in the statement of claim have been proven in court and no statements of defence had been filed as of last Friday.

Hockey Manitoba executive director Peter Woods has told media he won't comment on the case while it's before the courts.

No one from the CRJHL will go on record pertaining to the lawsuit.

A court date for the case is scheduled for Dec. 19.

"Nobody's particularly happy or thrilled to be involved in litigation related to Junior B hockey," said Jamie Kagan, a lawyer representing the First Nations, at the press conference.

"This is something that's important to rural Manitoba and is being done by these teams and these First Nations as a last resort to preserve a big part of their culture and heritage."

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

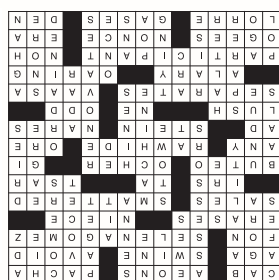

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

OBITUARY

Alexander Omer Glowachuk
April 14, 1940 – November 7, 2018

It is with great sadness we announce the passing of our beloved father.

Alex was predeceased by his wife Gail just 10 months ago.

We know you are at peace now father and have joined our dear mother in heaven.

Alex was born in Komarno, MB. after his family immigrated from the Ukraine. He is survived by his daughters Cindy (Marinos) of Vancouver; Elizabeth (Chris) of Teulon. Grandchildren Emilia, Joshua and Alexi. His sister Joyce of New York and niece Beth (Keith) of Arkansas. Predeceased by his sister Margaret.

Our father also had many dear friends that he loved to visit. He would jump in his truck and stop in at their fields or barns unannounced. We would like to thank these many friends for enriching his life so greatly.

Alex worked at Radio Oil where he met Gail the love of his life. He continued on to drive for Reimer Truck Lines and travelled to many places but his heart was with his community and home-stand. He served as a councillor for the Rockwood Municipality for 12 years.

The family would like to extend our gratitude to Dr. Zahiri, the nurses and staff at the Stonewall Hospital.

A Celebration of Life was held at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Teulon on Wednesday, November 14, 2018 at 11:00 a.m.

In lieu of flowers we would ask that donations be made to a charity of your choice.

May you rest in peace father.

OBITUARY

George Aaron Roy Henry

It is with broken hearts that we announce the passing of our dear husband, father, grandfather and friend. Fortunately, he passed peacefully surrounded by all of his family.

George's life started on January 23rd, 1941 in Winnipeg, Manitoba, born to Beatrice and Bert Henry, who have predeceased him. His family settled in Lake Francis and he has three siblings, Ray, Marilyn and Terry.

At age 21 he married Florence, the love of his life on May 5, 1962. They provided a loving home to their two children Aaron (Amy) and Angela (Darrell). He was never so proud as when he became a Pappa to his four grandchildren Tanner, Chase, Halle and Andrew. They were the light of his life and he could not spend enough time with them. His family meant the world to him and he leaves behind his strength and strong morals in all of us. He was the ultimate outdoorsman and humbly passed along his knowledge and skills to all of us for which we will be forever grateful.

He started his career in 1966 as a Boilermaker working in the field and ended it in 1998 as the International Rep for Western Canada for the Boilermakers Union when he retired. In retirement George pursued his love of the outdoors and became a hunting/fishing guide in the summer. The last number of years George spent guiding for fish and bear at Trail End Camp. He made many wonderful friends who requested his services year after year. A quote from a dear friend of his "If I was ever stranded in the bush George would be the one I would want for a partner as all he needed was a swiss army knife to survive"

He was happiest when he could be outdoors and spent countless hours on his land at his homemade log cabin in Lake Francis where he hunted, tended his garden, picked wild sage and mushrooms, chopped wood and had wild game 'cook outs' with his friends and family. He was most passionate about hunting and fishing. He also loved the game of golf and was one of the founders of the Warren Golf and Country Club.

George and Florence became winter Texans and enjoyed 22 wonderful winters in the Texas sunshine. They eventually settled at River Ranch Resort in Rio Hondo where he will be sadly missed by the many great friends they made there.

George was a large, powerful man known for his amazing stamina and feats of strength but what people will remember most about him was that he was a wonderful loving man with a huge heart.

We would like to say thank you to all of the medical staff at the Grace Hospital and HSC who showed such great compassion and gave him fabulous care.

There will be a private celebration of George's amazing life at a later date.
